for the first time in English is an illuminating new German perspective on the decisive Blitzkrieg campaign of 1940 Karl Heinz Frieser s account provides the definitive explanation for Germany s startling success and the equally surprising and rapid military collapse of France and Britain on the European continent In a little over a month Germany decisively defeated the Allies in battle a task that had not been achieved in four years of brutal fighting during World War I First published in 1995 as the official German history of the 1940 campaign in the west the book goes beyond standard explanations to show that German victory was not inevitable and French defeat was not preordained Contrary to the usual accounts of the campaign Frieser illustrates that the military systems of both Germany and France were solid and that their campaign planning was sound The key to victory or defeat he argues was the execution of operational plans both preplanned and ad hoc amid the eternal Clausewitzian combat factors of friction and the fog of war Frieser shows why on the eve of the campaign the British and French leaders had good cause to be confident and why many German generals were understandably concerned that disaster was looming for them This study explodes many of the myths concerning German Blitzkrieg warfare and the planning for the 1940 campaign A groundbreaking new interpretation of a topic that has long interested students of military history it is being published in cooperation with the Association of the U S Army The History of the Second Division 1914-1918 - Volume 1 Everard Wyrall,2013-01-02 Of the six pre war regular divisions only two 2nd and 5th published a detailed history of their part in the Great War The 2nd Division landed in France with the original

BEF as part of I Corps Haig between 11 and 16 August 1914 It was not directly engaged at Mons and such casualties as were sustained 10 killed 80 wounded were from artillery fire During the retreat it was engaged at Landrecies 4th Guards Brigade and Villers Cotterets but its first major battles were at the Marne and the Aisne and subsequently it fought in all the battles of First Ypres During the three months September to the end of November 1914 it suffered some 8 500 casualties At the end of 1914 the division moved south to the Bethune sector where it remained throughout 1915 still in I Corps It was at Festubert Loos and the Hohenzollern Redoubt which in all cost almost 9 000 casualties In February 1916 it moved down to the Vimy sector in IV Corps where it stayed till July the next move was to the Somme Here the division had a protracted spell till March 1917 during which time it was in action at Delville Wood Guillemont and the Ancre incurring nearly 8 000 casualties The 2nd was one of the few divisions not involved Third Ypres July November 1917 but it had earlier taken part in the April May Arras offensive and later in November December in the Battle of Cambrai Throughout 1918 the division was in the line for much of the time in the German offensive and in the Advance to Victory its final action was the Battle of the Selle 23 25 October The final casualty figure was around 45 000 Seventeen VCs were won and two of the commanders went on to greater things Monro to Commander in Chief India and Horne to command of First Army The division took part in the march to the Rhine occupying the area around Cologne In March 1919 the division ceased to exist as such when it was redesignated The Light Division The history is a very good one by probably the most prolific of all the authors of formation and regimental histories of the Great War The detailed account is easy to follow and the Wyrall has taken care to name many individuals in the actions and events he is describing Casualty details are given in appendices and in the text and there is a nominal roll of divisional staff with all the changes throughout the war

Lieutenant-Colonel H. Moyse-Bartlett,2012-02-10 This is a regimental history with a difference one that is bound up with the history of the British Empire in Africa and the extension and development of British rule in the territories of Somaliland British East Africa redesignated Kenya from July 1920 Uganda Nyasaland and after 1918 Tanganyika previously German East Africa These were the territories that were the recruiting grounds for the KAR to which officers from the British Army were seconded there were no permanent commissions in the KAR unlike the Indian Army which had its own officer structure No regiment has ever been more intimately connected with the territory through which it marched and fought or with the peoples from which it was recruited It was a unique regiment The author has arranged the book in five parts The Campaigns of the Early Regiments The Consolidation of the Regiment 1901 1914 The East Africa Campaign 1914 1918 Internal Security and Reorganization 1914 1939 and The War of 1939 1945 The story begins with the political background to the British administration in East and Central Africa up to the close of the nineteenth century During the last decade of that century
