The Politics of German Defence and Security Tom Dyson, 2008-03-01 The post Cold War era has witnessed a dramatic transformation in the German political consensus about the legitimacy of the use of force However in comparison with its EU and NATO partners Germany has been reticent to transform its military to meet the challenges of the contemporary security environment Until 2003 territorial defence rather than crisis management remained the armed forces core role and the Bundeswehr continues to retain conscription The book argues that strategic culture provides only a partial explanation of German military reform It demonstrates how domestic material factors were of crucial importance in shaping the pace and outcome of reform despite the impact of international structure and adaptational pressures from the EU and NATO The domestic politics of base closures ramifications for social policy financial restrictions consequent upon German unification and commitment to EMU s Stability and Growth Pact were critical in determining the outcome of reform The study also draws out the important role of policy leaders in the political management of reform as entrepreneurs brokers or veto players shifting the focus in German leadership studies away from a preoccupation with the Chancellor to the role of ministerial and administrative leadership within the core executive Finally the book contributes to our understanding of the Europeanization of the German political system arguing that policy leaders played a key role in uploading and downloading processes to and from the EU and that Defence Ministers used Atlanticization and Europeanization in the interests of their domestic political agendas The Politics of Economic Reform in Germany Kenneth Dyson, Stephen Padgett, 2014-07-16 This new volume situates current debates about economic reform in Germany in illuminating historical and structural contexts Showing how economic reform has become the central issue on the German political agenda raising contentious issues of policy management and posing deeper questions about political beliefs and identities It also examines the politics of the reform process outlining competing views about the root causes of Germany's economic problems the appropriate policy responses and the distribution of costs It situates the reform process in the wider context of the decline of the German economic model Modell Deutschland and Germany's transition from European pace setter to economic laggard Particular attention is paid to the following key questions What continuities and discontinuities can be seen in Germany's political economy Are globalization and Europeanization associated with a progressive neo liberal ascendancy in economic reform How does economic reform in Germany compare with that in other states notably Britain and France Are there distinctive patterns in the way domestic policymakers negotiate economic reform How do the characteristics of the German labour market and welfare state condition economic reform How much variation exists at the Laender levels This book was previously published as a special issue of German Politics

The Europeanization of National Political Parties Thomas Poguntke, Nicholas Aylott, Elisabeth Carter, Robert Ladrech, Kurt Richard Luther, 2007-02-12 This is a detailed exploration of how national political parties have responded to the increasing relevance of European governance The Europeanization of National Political Parties is the first empirical study to examine the effects of the European Union on the internal organizational dynamics of national political parties It draws on the results of a major cross national project and is based on documentary analysis and some 150 interviews with senior party actors in six EU member states Austria Britain France Germany Spain and Sweden Situated in the context of the debate on Europeanization the contributors illustrate that national political parties have been surprisingly well equipped to handle the challenges of the increasing importance of multi level governance in Europe Following a rigorous analytical framework the country studies examine thirty relevant political parties and systematically address a clearly defined set of empirical questions The volume ends with two comparative chapters that analyze the findings from a cross national perspective and that offer theoretical insights into the problems of party government amid increasing European integration This text will appeal to all those researching in the fields of European studies political science and comparative politics

Politics in the European Union Simon

Bulmer, Owen Parker, Ian Bache, Stephen George, Charlotte Burns, 2020 This is an account of the main developments in the process of European integration It provides coverage of theory history member states institutions and policies drawing on academic debates including issues of legitimacy and globalisation The Politics Of European Union Health Policies Greer, Scott, 2009-06-01 The book examines the ways that the successful health lobbies and member states work identifies weaknesses and emphasizes the challenge to health policymakers European Integration and Consensus Politics in the Low Countries Hans Vollaard, Jan Beyers, Patrick Dumont, 2014-08-13 The Netherlands Belgium and Luxembourg are well known cases of consensus politics Decision making in the Low Countries has been characterized by broad involvement power sharing and making compromises These countries were also founding member states of the European Union EU and its predecessors However the relationship between European integration and the tradition of domestic consensus politics remains unclear In order to explore this relationship this book offers in depth studies of a wide variety of political actors such as governments parliaments political parties courts ministries and interest groups as well as key policy issues such as the ratification of EU treaties and migration policy The authors focus not only on Europeanization but also analyse whether European integration may gradually undermine the fundamental characteristics of consensus politics in the Low Countries Drawing on consociationalism and Europeanization research this volume provides a comprehensive overview of Europeanization in these three EU member states as well as a better understanding of the varieties of consensus politics across and within these countries This book will be of interest to students and scholars of European studies European integration European law political science European political economy and comparative politics Civil Service Systems in Western Europe, Second Edition Frits M. van der Meer, 2011-01-31 This thoroughly revised and updated second edition of Civil Service Systems in Western Europe presents a comprehensive overview of the important issues in modern bureaucracies and provides a comparative analysis of the civil service systems of various Western European nations

Politics and Policy in Greece Kevin Featherstone, 2013-10-31 This rare focus on the politics of contemporary Greece explores in particular the country's processes of public policy making It is more than thirty years since the restoration of democracy in Greece and in this period the country has undergone a number of major changes Domestic political tensions have arisen from the pressures of Europeanization as a consequence of Greece's membership in the European Union EU membership has helped define a modernization project latterly associated with Premier Costas Simitis which clashes with traditional practices and paradigms In addition other challenges have arisen of a multi ethnic society of the loss of faith in old ideologies and of the passage of old divisions Greece now faces pressure to adapt to the external environment as well as to the constraints of the will and capability of the domestic system Politics and Policy in Greece addresses core issues such as How far has the politics of modernization penetrated Greek society How far have reforms to state economy relations welfare systems and constitutional rights reflected a liberal agenda and how far have they reflected traditional concerns How has modernization affected Greece's relations with the European Union. Containing expert overviews and detailed case studies of the dynamics of domestic politics, this accessible and informative volume is essential reading for both Greeks and non-Greeks alike. Air Transport and the European Union H. Kassim, H. Stevens, 2009-12-10

Air Transport and the European Union H. Kassim, H. Stevens, 2009-12-10 Air Transport and the European Union examines the emergence of the EU as a major actor in aviation. It investigates how the EU was able to develop a common policy despite the existence of an established sectoral regime and against the opposition of most European states and their flag carriers. Core Executive and Europeanization in Central Europe R. Zubek, 2008-03-31 Given the European Union's comprehensive influence over accession states in Central Europe, the full adoption of the acquis communautaire prior to enlargement seemed a guaranteed outcome. By studying EU rule adoption in Poland, Hungary and the Czech Republic, this book finds that successful legal alignment was in fact contingent on institutional reform within national core executives. Reinforcement of the core executive vis-à-vis ministerial departments ensured timely and accurate rule adoption, while a weak core executive resulted in uneven and incomplete legal change. Besides contributing to a better understanding of the dynamics of national adaptation during the Eastern enlargement, the book lays the foundations for explaining post-accession compliance in the new EU member states. EU Lobbying: Empirical and Theoretical Studies David Coen, 2013-10-31 EU Lobbying: Empirical and Theoretical Studies offers an analysis of large empirical studies of interest group politics and lobbying in Europe. Recognising the continued European economic integration, globalisation and the changing role of the state, it observes significant adaptations in interest mobilisation and strategic behaviour. This book assesses the logic of collective and direct action, the logic of access and influence, the logic of venue shopping and alliance building. It addresses specific issues such as the emergence of elite pluralism in EU institutions, the pump-priming of political action by EU institutions and the growing political sophistication of private and public interests in Brussels. Through these issues, the book explores how interest groups lobby different European institutions along the policy process and how the nature of policy dictates the style and level of lobbying. This book was previously published as a special issue of Journal of European Public Policy. Europeanization P. Graziano, M. Vink, 2006-11-28 This cutting-edge handbook, written by foremost authoritative scholars, presents the main theoretical and empirical issues involved in current Europeanization research. It evaluates the achievements and shortcomings of the growing literature. As an advanced reference book, it also sets the parameters for Europeanization research in the coming years.
