German Light Cruisers of World War II Gerhard Koop, Klaus-Peter Schmolke, 2014-07-22 An immensely interesting look at the Emden K nigsberg Karlsruhe K In Leipzig and N rnbergships from drawing board to destiny War History Online The warships of the World War II era German Navy are among the most popular subject in naval history with an almost uncountable number of books devoted to them However for a concise but authoritative summary of the design history and careers of the major surface ships it is difficult to beat a series of six volumes written by Gerhard Koop and illustrated by Klaus Peter Schmolke Each contains an account of the development of a particular class a detailed description of the ships with full technical details and an outline of their service heavily illustrated with plans battle maps and a substantial collection of photographs These have been out of print for ten years or more and are now much sought after by enthusiasts and collectors so this new modestly priced reprint of the series will be widely welcomed This volume is devoted to the six ships from Emden to N rnberg that were built between the wars They were primarily intended for commerce raiding but the war gave them few opportunities for such employment although they did provide useful support for key naval operations in the Baltic and North Sea Two were lost in the 1940 Norway campaign but the remainder survived for most of the conflict A ship by ship history of the cruisers The text is supported by an excellent collection of plans and photographs Overall this is a very impressive history of a fairly unimpressive set of warships HistoryOfWar org

World War II in Europe David T. Zabecki, 2015-05-01 World War II defined the 20th century and shaped many events from the decolonization of Africa to the rise and fall of the Berlin Wall. This encyclopedia offers a focused overview of this complex and volatile era, the circumstances that led up to war, the underlying causes, its unfolding, and consequences. Organized for quick and precise access, more than 1,300 entries by 150 experts are arranged in six sections for easy reference and consultation. All the key ideas, events, actions, weapons, individuals, and organizations that played vital roles in the war are covered, from the Axis Pact to the Arab League, from the OSS to the Africa Corps, from the Chetniks to the Jedburghs, from the battle of Kursk to Operation Mincemeat, from Bill Donovan to Otto Skorzeny, from Gestapo to SMERSH, from Georgi Zhukov to Jean Leclerc, from the 88 gun to the Norden Bombsight. Covers important neglected subjects. The Encyclopedia puts special emphasis on the often neglected operations in Eastern Europe and Russia. A key section inspects and rates all the major weapons with handy tables for easy comparison. And in recognition of the first large-scale participation of women in the war, the volume thoroughly documents their individual and unit contributions to the Allied effort. Finally, the encyclopedia discusses battlefield realities that explain, for example, why the airborne drops at Normandy succeeded and the ones at Arnheim failed. A bibliography, glossary, maps, photographs, and weapons and data tables enhance the coverage. Also includes 16 maps.

The Modern Cruiser Robert C. Stern, 2020-03-30 An entertaining and informative review of the evolution of one of the most important classes of warship from the technology of WWII into the missile age Firetrench Cruisers probably vary more in their characteristics than any other warship type and have certainly been subject to the most convoluted development There was always a basic tension between quantity and quality between numbers and unit size but at a more detailed level every one of the naval powers made different demands of their cruiser designers This makes the story of cruiser evolution in the world's major navies fascinating but complex This book sets out to provide a coherent history of the fortunes of this ship type in the twentieth century beginning with a brief summary of development before the First World War and an account of a few notable cruiser actions during that conflict that helped define what cruisers would look like in the post war world The core of the book is devoted to the impact of the naval disarmament treaty process which concentrated to a great extent on attempting to define limits to the numbers and size of cruisers that could be built in the process creating the treaty cruiser as a type that had never existed before and that existed solely because of the treaty process How the cruisers of the treaty era performed in the Second World War forms the final focus of this interesting well written and well grounded book which concludes with a look at the fate of the cruiser type since 1945 Warship International The result is probably the best single volume account of the subject to date

The Royal Netherlands Navy of World War II Ryan K. Noppen, 2020-08-20 In the late 19th and early 20th century a combination of coastal defence for the homeland and fleet defence for the East Indies became the established naval strategy for the Royal Dutch Navy and set the template for the world wars Battleships were too expensive to build and maintain so after World War I there was significant investment in submarine development and construction A handful of modern light cruisers and a new class of destroyers were also constructed during the interwar years to serve as a small Fleet in Being in the East Indies as well as to support the actions of the navy's submarines. The light cruiser HNLMS De Ruyter and the Java class light cruisers were the most powerful units of the new fleet whilst the backbone of the destroyer fleet was the Admiralen class and the Tromp class of destroyer leaders. Beginning in December 1941 the Dutch Navy played a very active role in the defence of the East Indies against the Japanese during World War II. The Battle of the Java Sea at the end of February 1942 crushed Dutch naval power in the East Indies sinking the cruisers Java and De Ruyter and killing Admiral Karel Doorman. However several Dutch surface warships and submarines continued the fight against the Axis powers alongside the Allies until the end of World War II including a pair of British built destroyers Van Galen and Tjerk Hiddes. This beautifully illustrated book from a leading scholar on Dutch military history provides a comprehensive guide to the Royal Netherlands Navy of the World War II period complete with detailed cutaways and battleplates of the fleet in action.

Meanwhile naval actions slowly strangled the Axis nations in Europe and led them to the road of defeat. Specific events include The last naval battles for Guadalcanal, The IJN's secret evacuation of the Japanese Army from Guadalcanal, The Russian encirclement and destruction of the German Sixth Army at Stalingrad, The German counterattacks against the much larger Russian Army in the Ukraine, The Battle of the North Atlantic between Allied convoy escorts and German U boats, The Allies advance to trap German and Italian troops in Tunisia, Intense actions in the Arctic Ocean as the German surface fleet tried to destroy the Arctic Convoys, Increased attacks by USN submarines on Japanese shipping.

The opposing heavy cruisers of the German Kriegsmarine and the Royal Navy engaged in a global game of cat and mouse during the opening years of World War II. This was a period in which the heavy cruiser still reigned supreme in open waters with the opposing sides reluctant to risk their battleships and aircraft yet to dominate the seas. These swift vessels fought each other in the South Atlantic, North Atlantic, the frigid waters of the Denmark Strait and the Arctic.
