Economic And Social Effects Of Multinational Enterprises In Export Processing Zones:

Economic and Social Effects of Multinational Enterprises in Export Processing Zones Centre on Transnational Corporations (United Nations),1988 One of the most remarkable structural changes which took place in the world economy in the 1970s and the first half of the 1980s is undoubtedly the growth of export processing zones EPZs in the developing countries and areas employment in these zones grew from around 50 000 in 1970 to over 1 3 million by 1986 Judging from the current plans for new EPZs in over a dozen countries and the expansion plans for existing zones it would seem that employment in EPZs could continue to grow rapidly in the next few years The phenomenon of EPZs and the role of multinational enterprises in them have been the subject of heated debate This monograph sheds light on the multinationals contribution to employment generation export earnings technology transfer and the development of linkages with the local economy These are measured against the initial cost of the incentive package for establishing and maintaining the zones Questions related to working conditions and labour relations are also highlighted The book confronts a number of widely held assumptions with the available facts and figures and points to the possible evolution of EPZs in the economies of newly industrializing countries It envisages the emergence of the export processing country and a more open and competitive approach to industrial development

Economic and Social Effects of Multinational Enterprises in Export Processing Zones,1988 Development of Special Economic Zones in India: Impact and implications Mookiah

Soundarapandian,2012 Papers presented at a national seminar on Development of special economic zones in India A Review of the Role and Impact of Export Processing Zones Dorsati Madani,2003 As instruments for encouraging economic development export processing zones have only limited usefulness A better policy choice is general liberalization of a country s economy Worker Rights in Export Processing Zones ,1990 Special Economic Zones Gift

Mugano,2021-11-05 This book provides a guide to the challenges of special economic zones Focusing on Africa while also discussing China Taiwan Dominican Republic Malaysia and South Korea the impact on economic development of special economic zones is analysed to highlight the successes and failures of these zones New emerging issues such as the sustainable development goals and the fourth industrial revolution are presented as factors that need to be addressed in order for special economic zones to be productive in Africa The role of foreign direct investments job creation industrialization and regulation is also discussed Special Economic Zones Economic Development in Africa aims to set out an empirical framework on how to create effective special economic zones It will be relevant to researchers and policymakers interested in African and development economics The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Imperialism and Anti-Imperialism Immanuel Ness,Zak Cope,2016-04-29 The Palgrave Encyclopedia Imperialism and Anti Imperialism objectively presents the prominent themes epochal events theoretical explanations and historical accounts of imperialism from 1776 to the present It is the most historically and academically comprehensive examination of the subject to date Industrial Clusters,

Upgrading and Innovation in East Asia Akifumi Kuchiki, Masatsugu Tsuji, 2011-01-01 This lucid and informative book analyzes the problems of clusters in transition through studies of agglomerations at different stages of development in various East Asian countries. The contributors reconsider industrial cluster policy within a more dynamic and long term framework and explore how regional transformations can bring new insights to the theory of agglomeration and innovation. By identifying the factors and policies to promote upgrading, the authors establish the theoretical and policy basis for transforming industrial clusters from production oriented to innovation oriented agglomerations. They also study the important structural changes in the region such as FTAs and the role of the WTO and the consequent effects on clusters. Researchers and students of Asian economics, industrial clusters and innovation will find this incisive book invaluable. It will also prove to be a compelling read for policymakers in developing countries or international development organizations. Future Visions of Urban Public Housing (Routledge Revivals) Wolfgang F. E. Preiser, David P. Varady, Francis P. Russell, 2017-08-03

First published in 1994, this book brings together the papers presented at the International Forum on Future Visions of Urban Public Housing held on November 17-20, 1994, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Participants included public housing officials, academics, practitioners, and public housing residents who came together to debate, compare, and analyze practices and issues in urban and public housing in industrialized nations. The 55 collected papers address the following key topics: public housing policy, comprehensive neighbourhood planning for public housing, public housing in the urban design context, quality of design standards and guidelines for public housing, resident participation and enhanced self-sufficiency in public housing, public housing alternatives, revitalising and rehabilitating public housing, the Elderly, Children, and special populations in public housing. The findings suggest new directions for policy and agendas for action. At the Crossroads of Development

Behar, Cuzán, 2021-11-01 The 10 articles assembled in this volume examine old problems and new opportunities in development that are associated with trade, communication, population distribution, and migration, culture, and institutions. They explore possibilities for and obstacles to technological and institutional transfers between developed and developing societies at a time when capitalism and democracy appear triumphant. Points of convergence, parallel processes, and equivalences in social problems and potential solutions across levels of development are noted. They point out that the hierarchy of the world economic system and indigenous cultures militate against the homogenization of the globe along Western lines. Global Keynesianism Gernot Kohler, Arno Tausch, 2002 Global Keynesianism: Unequal Exchange Global Exploration Second Tier Cities Ann R. Markusen, Yong-Sook Lee, Sean DiGiovanna, 1999 Over the past thirty years, transnational investment, trade, and government policies have encouraged the decentralization of national economies, disrupting traditional patterns of urban and regional growth. Many smaller cities, such as Seattle, Washington, Campinas, Brazil, Oita, Japan, and Kumi, Korea, have grown markedly faster than the largest metropolises. Dubbed here second tier cities, they are home to specialized industrial complexes that have taken root, provided significant job growth, and attracted mobile capital.

and labor The culmination of an ambitious five year fourteen city research project conducted by an international team of economics and geographers Second Tier Cities examines the potential of these new regions to balance uneven regional development create good stable jobs and moderate hyper urbanization Comparing across national borders the contributors describe four types of second tier cities Marshallian industrial districts hub and spoke cities satellite platforms and government anchored complexes They find that both industrial and regional policies have been important contributors to the rise of second tier cities though the former often trump the latter Lessons for local national and international policymakers are drawn The authors are critical of devolution and argue that it must be accompanied by strong labor and environmental standards and mechanisms to overcome differential regional resource endowments

Multinational Enterprises and the Law Peter Muchlinski, 2021 Multinational Enterprises and the Law is the only comprehensive contemporary and interdisciplinary account of the techniques used to regulate multinational enterprises MNEs at the national regional and multilateral levels In addition it considers the effects of corporate self regulation and the impact of civil society and community groups upon the development of the legal order in this area The book has been thoroughly revised and updated for this third edition making it a definitive reference work for students researchers and practitioners of international economic law business corporate and commercial law development studies and international politics Split into four parts the book first deals with the conceptual basis for MNE regulation It explains the growth of MNEs their business and legal forms and the relationship between them and the effects of a globalized economy and society now increasingly challenged by recently revived nationalist economic policies upon the evolution of regulatory agendas in the field In addition the limits of national and regional jurisdiction over MNE activities are considered a question that arises throughout the specialized areas of regulation covered in the remainder of the book Part II covers the main areas of economic regulation including controls over and the liberalization of entry and establishment tax company and competition law and the impact of intellectual property rights on technology diffusion and transfer A specialized chapter on the regulation of multinational banks in the wake of the global financial crisis is new to this edition Part III introduces the social dimension of MNE regulation covering labour rights human rights and environmental issues Finally Part IV deals with the contribution of international investment law to MNE regulation and to the control of investment risks covering the main provisions found in international investment agreements their interpretation by international tribunals the process of investor state arbitration and how concerns over these developments are leading to reform proposals

Women and Adjustment Policies in the Third World Haleh Afshar,Carolyn Dennis,2016-07-27 The Third World debt crisis the International Monetary Fund and World Bank s adjustment policies have compelled many countries to move towards a contraction of public sector expenditure in favour of market orientated development policies Women in general and the poorest amongst them in particular have borne a disproportionate burden of the ensuing hardships This book addresses the shortcomings in the current gender blind analytical frameworks of governments and financial organisations and offers alternative strategies for combating recession and poverty The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Hubs and Economic Development Arkebe Oqubay,Justin Yifu Lin,2020-07-23 Industrialization supported by industrial hubs has been widely associated with structural transformation and catch up But while the direct economic benefits of industrial hubs are significant their value lies first and foremost in their contribution as incubators of industrialization production and technological capability and innovation The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Hubs and Economic Development adopts an interdisciplinary approach to examine the conceptual underpinnings review empirical evidence of regions and economies and extract pertinent lessons for policy researchers and practitioners on the key drivers of success and failure for industrial hubs This Handbook illustrates the diverse and complex nature of industrial hubs and shows how they promote industrialization economic structural transformation and technological catch up It explores the implications of emerging issues and trends such as environmental protection and sustainability technological advancement shifts in the global economy and urbanization Rethinking International Organisation Barbara Emadi-Coffin,2003-08-27 The function of the state as a symbol of identity has become increasingly important as major powers of the pre Cold War era have given way to self determination The conventional role of the state has however simultaneously been challenged by the process of globalisation which transcends such national boundaries Barbara Emadi Coffin seeks to explain this contradiction through a radical new theory There are now 37 000 multinational corporations in the world many of which are increasingly seen as being among the new centres of political and economic power Barbara Emadi Coffin analyses the increasing interaction of multinational corporations international organizations and transnational interest groups such as Greenpeace and Amnesty International in processes of the global political economy Using examples of the free trade zones in Korea the UK and the People s Republic of China the author demonstrates these interactions In so doing she challenges prevailing notions surrounding International Organization theory

The City on the Hill? Arno Tausch,2007 The Silicon Empire Michael B. Likosky,2018-01-18 Michael Likosky examines the continuities and discontinuities between colonial and present day high tech transnational legal orders His concern is specifically with the colonial characteristics of the legal order which underpins the global high tech economy He distinguishes the democratic and human rights rhetoric of this economy from a reality wherein the legal order is often used to reproduce colonial type relationships Just as in the colonial period the expansion of trans border commerce overlaps with democratic demands and human rights in complex multifaceted and paradoxical ways Through a case study looking at Malaysia's Multimedia Super Corridor a high tech national development plan and foreign direct investment scheme he examines how the transnational leaders of the high tech economy along with the Malaysian political elite react when human rights problems threaten to derail commercial plans

Special Economic Zones Thomas Farole, Gokhan Akinci, 2011-08-01

For countries as diverse as China and Mauritius Special Economic Zones SEZs have been a powerful tool to attract foreign investment promote export oriented growth and generate employment for many others the results have been less than encouraging While the benefits and limitations of zones will no doubt continue to be debated what is clear is that policymakers are increasingly attracted to them as an instrument of trade investment industrial and spatial policy Since the mid 1980s the number of newly established zones has grown rapidly in almost all regions with dramatic growth in developing countries In parallel with this growth and in the evolving context of global trade and investment zones are also undergoing significant change in both their form and function with traditional export processing zones EPZs increasingly giving way to larger and more flexible SEZ models This new context will bring significant opportunities for developing countries to take advantage of SEZs but will also raise new challenges to their successful design and implementation This volume aims to contribute to a better understanding of the role and practice of SEZs in developing countries in order to better equip policymakers in making effective decisions in planning and implementing SEZ programs It covers some of the emerging issues and challenges in SEZs including upgrading regional integration WTO compliance innovation the environment and gender issues with practical case examples from SEZ programs in developing countries
