Economic Analysis Of Incentive Market And Organization:

Economic Analysis of Incentive, Market and Organization □□□□, Moriki Hosoe, 1992 Handbook of Game Theory and Industrial Organization, Volume I Luis C. Corchón, Marco A. Marini, 2018-02-23 The first volume of this wide ranging Handbook contains original contributions by world class specialists It provides up to date surveys of the main game theoretic tools commonly used to model industrial organization topics The Handbook covers numerous subjects in detail including among others the tools of lattice programming supermodular and aggregative games monopolistic competition horizontal and vertically differentiated good models dynamic and Stackelberg games entry games evolutionary games with adaptive players asymmetric information moral hazard learning and information sharing models Incentives and Market-based Institutions Clayton Ray Featherstone, 2010 In this dissertation we will study three market based institutions and the incentives that govern them The first institution is that of centralized school choice which has become increasingly important over the past decade Students submit ordinal rankings over schools and a central mechanism uses those rankings to assign students We study an important mechanism that is seen in the field the Boston mechanism and another mechanism with nice theoretical properties the Deferred acceptance mechanism DA that has been adopted in several large school districts One of the biggest reasons that DA is theoretically nice is that it makes truthful preference revelation a dominant strategy for the students In a lab experiment we show that students fail to truthfully reveal their rankings over schools when it is profitable to do so under Boston but tell the truth when it is not under DA In this sense the experiment confirms the intuition that designers of school choice mechanisms should be worried about strategic manipulation of preference reports We also however look at a different preference environment where truth telling is a Bayes Nash equilibrium under Boston and a dominant strategy equilibrium under DA What's more under this environment given truthful revelation Boston yields outcomes that stochastically dominate those of DA from the interim perspective that considers others preferences unknown In this environment we see truth telling rates that are not significantly different which means that we might be able to implement better outcomes if we look to mechanisms that implement truth telling as a Bayes Nash equilibrium instead of as a dominant strategy Next we look at two sided labor matches such as the one used by the National Residency Matching Program NRMP to match newly minted doctors to residency programs Again we see two major types of mechanisms priority mechanisms that try to implement potential matches in a particular order and Deferred Acceptance mechanisms which rely on the Gale Shapley algorithm Relative to truthful preference revelation DA is ex post stable while priority mechanisms are not Ex post stability intuitively prevents unraveling In equilibrium though we do not expect truthful preference revelation and in fact this leads to instability in the equilibria of both mechanisms Still in the field we see that priority mechanisms tend to unravel while DA mechanisms do not This is a puzzle which can be resolved if agents truthfully reveal under DA in spite of the fact that they could profit by deviating In the lab we show that this is exactly what we see which provides a complementary explanation for the success of

DA to the core convergence based explanations Finally we look at long distance trade without enforcement When we think of pre modern trade a major problem was the worry that agents carrying goods might abscond with those goods instead of carrying them to their intended destinations Explanations in the literature have tended to rely on models of reputation These models in turn rely on the theory of infinitely repeated games This is usually justified via the thought that traders formed some sort of tightly knit community or had some sort of dynastic continuation We look at the question of finite trade Although the conventional wisdom is that finite trade would unravel from the last period we show a mechanism by which this does not happen Beyond merely making a technical point we think this model of finite trade provides a good model with which to think about impersonal trade Advances in the Economic Analysis of Participatory and Labor-Managed Firms Jed

An Economic Theory of Managerial Firms Luca Lambertini, 2017-04-21 The separation between ownership and control has become common practice over the last century in most medium and large firms across the world Throughout the twentieth century the theory of the firm and the theory of industrial organization developed parallel and complementary views on managerial firms This book offers a comprehensive exposition of this debate In its survey of strategic delegation in oligopoly games An Economic Theory of Managerial Firms is able to offer a reinterpretation of a range of standard results in the light of the fact that the control of firms is generally not in the hand of its owners The theoretical models are supported by a wealth of real world examples in order to provide a study of strategic delegation that is far more in depth than has previously been found in the literature on industrial organization In this volume analysis is extended in several directions to cover applications concerning the role of managerial firms in mixed market collusion and mergers divisionalization and vertical relations technical progress product differentiation international trade environmental issues and the intertemporal growth of firms This book is of great interest to those who study industrial economics organizational studies and industrial studies

Between State and Market Ira W. Lieberman, Stilpon Nestor, Raj M. Desai, 1997-01-01 IFC Discussion Paper No 32 Over the years demand for education at all levels in Kenya has greatly outpaced supply a gap that has been reduced by private schools catering to the needs of a wide range of socioeconomic groups This gap will widen further unless the private sectors role is expanded but private educational institutions face a number of serious constraints primarily stemming from lack of adequate finance and in many cases limited management skills This paper reviews the market and its constraints and focuses on conditions under which private financial institutions and the International Finance Corporation might play a useful role in the sector Annexes include 1996 operating costs of Kenya's academic technical and vocational schools and scholars from diverse disciplines use standard economic tools to investigate the formation and evolution of normative preferences. The fundamental premise is that an adequate understanding of how an economy and society are organized and function cannot be reached without an understanding of the formation and mutation of values and preferences that determine how we interact with others. Its chapters explore the two-way interaction between economic arrangements or institutions and preferences including those regarding social status, the well-being of others, and ethical principles. Contributions have been written especially for this volume and are designed to address a wide readership in economics and other disciplines. The contributors are leading scholars who draw on such fields as game theory, economic history, the economics of institutions, and experimental economics as well as political philosophy, sociology, and psychology to establish and explore their arguments.

Health Economics Xavier Martinez-Giralt, Pedro Barros, 2013-06-17 Research in Health Economics has developed into a separate discipline for the last 25 years. All this intense research activity has translated in the inclusion of courses of health economics, mostly at graduate level. However, the Industrial Organization aspects of the health care market do not occupy a central place in those courses. We propose a textbook of health economics whose distinguishing feature is the analysis of the health care market from an Industrial Organization perspective. This textbook will provide teachers and students with a reference to study the market structure aspects of the health care sector. The book is structured in three parts. The first part will present the basic principles of economics. It will bring all readers to the required level of knowledge to follow subsequent parts. Part II will review the main concepts of health economics. The third part will contain the core of the book. It will present the industrial organization analysis of the health care market based on our own research.

Institutional and Organizational Economics Tore Ellingsen, 2023-09-20 Why do some countries succeed while others struggle? Why are some firms profitable while rivals fail? Why do some marriages thrive and others end in divorce? These questions seem unrelated, but societies, companies, and marriages have one important thing in common: they involve more than one individual. They thus face the same fundamental challenges. How can people be made to help rather than hurt each other? How can they use sacrifice, cooperation, and coercion to promote the common good? In this introductory text, Tore Ellingsen equips readers to answer essential questions around the success and failure of humans in groups, drawing on behavioral game theory, psychology, and sociology. He emphasizes how other-regarding preferences such as altruism and dutifulness matter for societies' prosperity and analyzes the role of culture in the form of shared values and understandings. One lesson is that cooperation is facilitated when people anticipate that they will hold common memories of past behavior, especially if agreements take precedence over leaders' authority. A groundbreaking text, Institutional and Organizational Economics is essential reading for students and scholars of economics, political science, sociology, and public administration.
