Michael H. Goldman,1968 Political Competition, Economic Reform and Growth Ivan Pavletic,2010 Which political and institutional factors trigger reforms that enable the poor to benefit from the process of economic growth How can the incentives of policy makers be influenced in order to achieve such a dynamic These are the questions this study seeks to address by examining the transition process in post communist countries The author argues that political competition within an accepted and respected institutional environment has been a driving force in shaping the direction and success of transition reforms Evidence shows that in countries with a sufficient degree of political competition citizens responded to economic crises by calling for economic liberalization Economic liberalization removed existing distortions increased economic efficiency and raised public welfare This activated a dynamic self enforcing reform process that also strengthened the political and economic power of the poor In the absence of political competition such a process failed to emerge thereby contributing to the persistence of poverty Based on these findings there is good reason to postulate that some level of political competition is essential for transition reforms to improve economic efficiency and public welfare in a sustainable manner

Enterprise Guidance in Eastern Europe David Granick,2015-03-08 The sixties were a decade of major reform in the guidance of industry in the socialist countries of Eastern Europe In this comparative study of industrial management the different directions taken by reform in the German Democratic Republic Hungary and Yugoslavia are examined against the pattern shown by Romania a country in which no significant reform has occurred The author focuses on the methods used to coordinate enterprises in the early 1970s The book is the product of a remarkable opportunity eleven months of interviews in the four countries Those interviewed were mainly middle and upper managers of enterprises but also include officials of ministries planning commissions banks trade unions and national Communist parties The resulting data made possible new interpretations of enterprise management in Eastern Europe Originally published in 1976 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase

Aligica, 2020-05-21 This book offers an in depth case study of Romania's land and agricultural reforms from mid 19th century and up to 2000 offering a historical account of agricultural reforms in post communist Romania in the light of more than a century of social and economic development experiments Taking a dual economy analytic perspective the book examines the impact of structural and agricultural reforms on the country's economic development and provides an analysis of the ideas and models that stood behind policy reforms aiming at the modernization of an economy and society defined by dualism and late development

Aspects of Independent Romania's Economic History with Particular Reference to Transition for EU Accession David Turnock, 2016-04-15 After fifteen years of transition in the former communist states of Central and Eastern Europe it has become clear that for a substantial number the objective of reform and restructuring process is a market system in line with membership of the EU In this study the long term economic transformation of Romania is studied offering a detailed narrative and thematic account of events from the nineteenth to the twenty first centuries From the first steps towards large scale industrialisation begun prior to the First World War through the accelerated pace set by the communist regime after 1945 and the uncertainty following its subsequent collapse in 1989 the book addresses a wide range of pertinent issues that have shaped Romania's economic development The study also offers an interpretation of a distinctive phase in the modernisation of post communist Romania supported by economic historical surveys of the preceding century as a context for recent restructuring on the eve of EU accession This is linked with trends in the region as a whole so that a broad perspective is maintained throughout the book By highlighting Romania's position as one of more backward accession states and considering in what ways its experience during transition differs from the more developed states of the region this study offers a valuable insight into both the history of Romania and its future prospects Furthermore it provides a valuable case study that can be compared and contrasted with other countries who are likewise still grappling with the legacy of a centralised economy and in the process of adopting a more market orientated approach in order to gain EU membership As such this study will be of interest not only to historians and economists but anyone with an interest in the expansion of the European Union Communist Eastern Europe; Analytical Survey of Literature United States. Cooperation between East and West Friedrich Levick,Jan Stankovsky,2017-09-08 This title was first published in 1979 A number of valuable and interesting publications have appeared in the last few years on East West cooperation These studies which by means of interviews and direct contacts with the firms concerned have shed some light on a subject that in the past had remained little known also provided us with extremely valuable incentives Most of these studies dealt only with individual aspects of cooperation particularly the legal and microeconomic aspects The quantitative data used however did not easily lend themselves to comparison Eastern European studies more often contained the views of the respective governments than the experiences of enterprises involved in cooperative undertakings In this book the authors have attempted to provide a unified picture of the most important problems of East West cooperation The motivations and goals of those concerned in all their microeconomic macroeconomic commercial and political aspects are brought together with the pertinent legal and institutional factors and are analyzed
