interest anyone who has experienced time in a Catholic school either as a student teacher or administrator as well as those interested in what is happening within Catholic schools today Reset the Heart Dr. Mai-Anh Le Tran, 2017-05-02 When the BlackLivesMatter protest movement burst into dynamic action following the shooting death of young Michael Brown in the fall of 2014 in Ferguson MO a good number of clergy and lay leaders in greater St Louis sprang to action and learned anew what it took to put some feet to their prayers However as improvisational efforts continued to rally and organize churches toward the enduring work of confronting the insidious violence of systemic social injustices in their own backyard these religious leaders ran head on into a familiar yet perplexing wall the incapacity and unwillingness of their faith communities to respond In many cases the resistance was and still is fierce eerily reminiscent of the stand offs that divided religious communities and leadership in the 1960s Civil Rights era If the Church s teaching learning and practice of faith is purportedly transformative then where was is that faith when it was is needed most If good religious formation had been happening or had it then why the enduring signs of indifference paralysis apathy exasperation resistance symptoms of anesthetized moral consciousness and debilitated hope in the face of pervasive social cultural violence The answer may come in a searing indictment that in an emerging cultural religious era in which religious identity expression and experience are increasingly pluralistic yet also politicized polarizing and racialized Christian faith communities even those of progressive theological persuasions are still held under dominant cultural captivity and fashioned by colonizing teaching strategies of disimagination such that the stories theologies and rituals practices of the faith have effectively become obstacles that anesthetize moral agency and debilitate courageous action for hope and change This book addresses the above practical concerns with three paradigmatic questions 1 What does it mean to educate for faith in a world marked by violence 2 How are Christian faith communities complicit in the teaching and learning of violence 3 What renewed practices of faith and educational leadership yield potential for the unlearning and unmaking of violence An organizing thesis drives the inquiry Thinking and teaching for violence resisting action as Christians requires an on purpose setting of our hearts in a world that violates and harms with impunity Against violent disimagination and its conscience numbing instruments Christian religious communities are being challenged to regenerate radical forms of prophetic protested faith the skills and instincts of which must be honed deliberately This occurs through intentional and strategic forms of public consciousness raising for the sake of participation and action an action that moves toward and is fueled by critical insurrectional resurrectional hope

Christian Theological Seminary, Indianapolis Keith Watkins, 2001 Taking on Practical Theology Courtney Goto, 2018-08-20 In Taking on Practical Theology Courtney T Goto explores the regnant paradigm that shapes knowledge production and that preserves power privilege and historic communal injury even as scholars intend to enlighten and transform communities Approaching context as a case study Goto illumines how this commonly used taken for granted concept is idolized Though practical theologians are sensitive to context researchers often fail to consider how their own assumptive world dictates and influences their practices of research teaching and engaging in scholarly conversations These practices unwittingly validate scholars who enjoy the most social capital while inflicting harm on both communities they research and on colleagues and students who do not fit or fit less well the norms of the majority
