A Political Economy of Arab Education Mohamed Alaa Abdel-Moneim, 2015-09-07 The failure of reform policies in areas of critical importance to Arab populations such as health and education played a central role in igniting the Arab Awakening yet this policy perspective has been largely absent from recent studies of the region Arab regimes most reliant on repression to guarantee their survival were also those most vulnerable to mass politics Where threats to regime survival have been limited so have more meaningful reforms been possible finding an alternative to political change through focusing on soft policy areas such as education A Political Economy of Arab Education offers a comprehensive analysis of K 12 education systems in Arab countries deepening understanding of their administrative structures and outcomes and exploring how political considerations have impacted the ability of Arab regimes to engage in meaningful reform Taking a unique comparative political economy perspective it examines the reasons behind policy stagnation in Arab countries addressing the effects of size history and political stability on the design and implementation of policies and administrative structures Its informed analysis and comparison of education systems provides new insight into Arab regimes and highlights factors pulling them towards either stagnation or reform Examining the sustainability of reforms and establishing the benefits of engaging in meaningful change this book sheds light on why some regimes survived the Arab Spring while others crumbled and formulates convincing predictions on the potential for future regime change in the region This book will be of key interest to students and scholars of Middle Eastern Studies International and Comparative Education and Development Studies Education and Disability in Cross-Cultural Perspective Susan Jeanne Peters,2013-11-26 A radical departure from previous chronicles of education for people with disabilities this book views special education from a broader perspective Its central thesis is that cultural values and expectations play a dominant role in understanding the structure and function of special education While theories of the social construction of disability have been written about in a growing body of research since the 1960s no attempt has been made to create a cross cultural framework This work offers such a framework Eight chapters written by educators in each country s educational system cover the following nations China Great Britain Hungary Japan Iran Pakistan United States and Zimbabwe Historical discussions in each chapter provide a context for current practice An index and illustrations are also included Social Justice and Third World Education Timothy J. Scrase,2014-05-01 First Published in 1997 The impact of international social change is already having a marked effect on the Third World in their internal policies budgets and development programs This collection of original articles addresses the importance of education in the creation of social and developmental policies the effect of international changes on education investment of limited resources in Third World nations the control of third world elites over education and its continuation the place of women and ethnic minorities in the educational schemes of the Third World nations examined and country regional case studies Africa India China South America Education in Sub-Saharan Africa George E.
