Challenges and Transitions in Education in Times of Crisis Purpuri, Leah, Gray, Sancha, 2024-07-26 The COVID 19 pandemic emerged as a disruptive force that exposed numerous challenges From the sudden shift to virtual learning accompanied by technology disparities to issues of diversity equity and inclusion the crisis impacted students families educators and leaders alike The social and emotional well being of learners took center stage and the need for academic rigor became even more pressing as learning gaps widened Teachers faced the challenge of maintaining motivation while complications in students home lives became increasingly apparent The involvement or lack thereof of families and communities in the education process added another layer of complexity It is within this complex educational landscape that our book presents itself as a beacon of hope and transformation Challenges and Transitions in Education in Times of Crisis is the solution to the unprecedented challenges that COVID 19 brought to the education sector It goes beyond just analyzing the problems and delves deep into innovative and actionable solutions that have emerged from this crisis The book provides a comprehensive overview of the educational environment from pre pandemic to post pandemic through a lens of opportunity It is a guide for all stakeholders in education presenting evidence based strategies and best practices to address the complex issues facing our schools

Transitions and Transformations in Learning and Education Päivi Tynjälä, Marja-Leena Stenström, Marjatta Saarnivaara, 2012-03-28 The breakneck speed of change in today s societies creates enormous challenges for educational institutions at all levels This volume explores ways how to manage change in educational processes and contexts focusing in particular on the concepts of transition and transformation How do we educate a skilled workforce sensitive professionals and responsive citizens who are able not only to cope with change but also to adopt required roles as agents of change How do we prepare students and employees to cope adequately with changes and transitions in their careers and personal lives The first of this book s three sections deals with the conceptual and theoretical aspects of transition transformational processes and human development It defines these concepts and examines the ways in which educational theory and praxis understand concepts of change and development The second section presents empirical studies that offer differing perspectives on educational transitions covering the lifespan from early years education to lifelong learning The third part of the volume focuses on issues of learning and pedagogy and argues that educational practices should change with the changing world With numerous concrete examples included in the analysis and with studies taking a range of forms from personal histories to large scale surveys this new book is a major addition to the literature in a field that has key implications for our future The first of this book s three sections deals with the conceptual and theoretical aspects of transition transformational processes and human development It defines these concepts and examines the ways in which educational theory and praxis understand concepts of change and development The second section presents empirical studies that offer differing perspectives on educational transitions covering the lifespan from early years education to lifelong learning The third part of the volume focuses on issues of learning and pedagogy and argues that educational practices should change with the changing world With numerous concrete examples included in the analysis and with studies taking a range of forms from personal histories to large scale surveys this new book is a major addition to the literature in a field that has key implications for our future

Educational Transitions Divya Jindal-Snape, 2009-12-16 Despite variations of educational systems when transitions in education occur the pedagogical challenges that teachers and pupils undergo are quite similar across the globe Transitions are phases in which pupils peer groups and teachers have to renegotiate and rebuild their learning environment in the educational context These various transitions in students learning paths significantly impact on schools everyday life This volume explores transitions at all stages of educational progression i e nursery to primary primary to secondary and secondary to post school It also examines these transitions across a variety of countries and types of schools Educational Transitions provides up to date literature research and theoretical constructs that help readers understand the issues social emotional psychological dimensions and evidence based possible interventions to support an individual through these educational transitions It also allows scholars teachers and students to critically analyse how lessons learned from one country can be adapted for other countries educational systems

Indigenous Pathways, Transitions and Participation in Higher Education Jack Frawley, Steve Larkin, James A. Smith, 2017-05-31 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This book brings together contributions by researchers scholars policy makers practitioners professionals and citizens who have an interest in or experience of Indigenous pathways and transitions into higher education University is not for everyone but a university should be for everyone To a certain extent the choice not to participate in higher education should be respected given that there are other avenues and reasons to participate in education and employment that are culturally socially and or economically important for society Those who choose to pursue higher education should do so knowing that there are multiple pathways into higher education and once there appropriate support is provided for a successful transition The book outlines the issues of social inclusion and equity in higher education and the contributions draw on real world experiences to reflect the different approaches and strategies currently being adopted Focusing on research program design program evaluation policy initiatives and experiential narrative accounts the book critically discusses issues concerning widening participation

Multi-dimensional Transitions of International Students to Higher Education Divya Jindal-Snape, Bart Rienties, 2016-02-12. International students experience multiple and multi-dimensional educational and life transitions moving to a new country, moving to a new educational system and moving to higher educational degree programmes. Within these transitions they experience differences in the social and organisational cultures, languages and interpersonal expectations, realities and relationships. Their transitions also lead to and interact with transitions of professionals, home students and their families. Multi-dimensional Transitions of International Students to Higher Education provides up-to-date literature, research and theoretical constructs that underpin international students' transitions to Higher Education. This book will help you to understand the opportunities, issues, social, emotional, psychological dimensions and evidence-based interventions that are vital to support an individual through these educational and life transitions. Split into four sections, topics include: Theoretical Underpinning, Research in Different Contexts, Impact of Educational Practice and Social Systems, Interventions and Strategies Used to Enhance International Students' Affective, Behavioural and Cognitive Transition Experiences. This book is essential reading for professionals, students and policy makers and provides significant research insights to academics and researchers in the area of education, psychology and sociology.

HLP 120 - Overlooked and Left Behind: Improving the Transition from School to Work for the Majority of Young People The Stationery Office, 2016. The transition from school into work is a vital point in the lives of young people. Making a successful transition through a high quality and valued pathway can mean a successful career. Becoming trapped in poor quality and under-valued alternatives can mean a lifetime of poverty. This report is about young people and social mobility and focuses on how to ensure that all young people are offered a high quality career path after they leave school. We have found that the current policy structure means a large number of young people do not have good options and are not supported to make a choice which works for them and is successful. An increasing number of young people leave school and go on to A Levels and university. Of the others, a small minority are at risk of dropping out of education, employment or training, the NEETS. Successive governments have focused on these two groups for a long time. But the majority of young people in the UK do not fall into either group. They do not go to university, they find jobs or they continue with some form of vocational education. Despite making up the majority of the emerging workforce, they have received much less attention. It is these young people who are the focus of this report. The current system for young people who do not follow an academic route is complex and incoherent, with confusing incentives for young people and employers. Careers advice and education are being delivered in a way which means that too many young people simply drift into further studies or their first job, which often has no real prospect of progression.
