Denman, 2019-05-27 Educational practices have rapidly changed in the last few decades especially in how exchanges of information and learning are delivered and processed Yet while the field of international comparative studies has grown there has not been an extensive study on the relationship between educational practices students and how practitioners are prepared and trained This handbook explores international educational practices and behaviours through new research and a review of existing research with chapters spread across six parts Part I Introduction to Research Practices in Comparative Studies of Education Part II Research Methods Part III Policy Transfer Research through International Comparisons Part IV Use of Student time in Formal and Informal Settings Part V School Practices from Early Childhood through Secondary School Part VI Conclusion Lessons from Large Scale Studies

The Right to Resist Mario Wenning, Thomas Byrne, 2023-01-12 While the idea of total revolution seems anachronistic today there is increasing consensus about the importance of new forms of political ethical and aesthetic resistance In the past resistance was often motivated as a form of protest against specific institutions Increasingly dissent has become integrated into the fabric of modern life This volume addresses new forms of resistance at a level that combines a rootedness in the philosophical tradition and a sensitivity to rethinking the possibility of emancipation in today's age The work focuses on contemporary social and political philosophy from a perspective informed by critical theory The text specifically addresses three challenges 1 Critical theorists need to investigate in which ways resistance conformism and oppression oppose and constitute each other 2 The relationship between the theory and the practice of resistance needs to be posed anew given recent protest movements and media of protest 3 It needs to be shown in which ways different areas of society such as the arts religion and social media establish divergent practices of resistance The chapters are written by scholars from Asia Europe and North America These experts in resistance discourse focus on practices of dissent ranging from traditional forms of civil disobedience to more recent practices such as guerrilla protest art and resistance in digital networks including social media What unites them is a shared concern for the dimensions of political acts of resistance in an age that is characterized by a tendency to integrate and thereby neutralize those very acts JSL Vol 26-N1 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP,2016-03-17 JSL invites the submission of manuscripts that contribute to the exchange of ideas and scholarship about schools and leadership All theoretical and methodological approaches are welcome We do not advocate or practice a bias toward any mode of inquiry e g qualitative vs quantitative empirical vs conceptual discipline based vs interdisciplinary and instead operate from the assumption that all careful and methodologically sound research has the potential to contribute to our understanding of school leadership We strongly encourage authors to consider both the local and global implications of their work The journal's goal is to clearly communicate with a diverse audience including both school based and university based educators The journal embraces a broad conception of school leadership and welcomes manuscripts that reflect the diversity of ways in which this term is understood The journal is interested not only in manuscripts that focus on administrative leadership in schools and school districts but also in manuscripts that inquire about teacher student parent and community leadership

Ertl,2007-05-08 The papers which make up this volume have for the most part emerged from the work of a team of young researchers based for varying periods at the Department of Educational Studies of the University of Oxford as part of an international network funded by the European Union The network known as PRESTiGE Problems of Educational Standardisation and Transition in a Global Environment involves teams at six European universities each of which can only employ young researchers from Member States other than that in which it is situated The Oxford part of PRESTiGE has been concerned with the interpretation transmission and implementation of European Union education and training policy in four Member States France Germany Sweden and the United Kingdom As the leader of the Oxford team I had the good fortune to work with young researchers from Denmark Germany Greece Sweden and Portugal Their work is included here So too are contributions from Jake Murdoch a member of the Dijon team based at the Universit de Bourgogne and Professor Ant nio N voa the leader of the Lisbon team Together the papers which we have allowed to overlap to some extent so that each one can be read independently represent a genuinely international collaborative effort to understand the intentions and the effects of EU education and training policy and we hope that they will contribute to further discussion of the important issues that those with an interest in European co operation and development will wish to pursue
