Globalization, Technological Change, and Public Education Torin Monahan, 2013-01-11 Globalization Technological Change and Public Education documents the dramatic changes taking place in public education through the incorporation of new information technologies These additions to the public school environment have generally been seen as enabling tools to help students and nations compete in the global marketplace Yet a closer look at the interplay of technological change and organizational restructuring suggests the emergence of new less promising power relations Through detailed ethnographic research and interviews in the Los Angeles public school system Torin Monahan reveals how with few exceptions these changes to the educational process are forcing both students and workers to adapt to systems that are ever more rigid and controlling Handbook of Research for Educational Communications and Technology David Jonassen, Marcy Driscoll, 2003-12-08 First Published in 2008 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Seeking

Academic Knowledge Construction and Multimodal Curriculum Development Loveless, Douglas J., Griffith, Bryant, Bérci, Margaret E., Ortlieb, Evan, Sullivan, Pamela M., 2013-11-30 This book presents practical conversations with philosophical and theoretical concerns regarding the use of digital technologies in the educational process challenging the assumption that information accessibility is synonymous with learning Critical Pedagogy for a Polymodal World Douglas J. Loveless, Bryant Griffith, 2014-11-04 This book explores the complexity of communication and understanding as a possible asset in formal education rather than a problem that needs to be fixed The authors examine the question and experience as pedagogical tools challenging readers to play the critic and ask hard questions beginning with Why do the ideas discussed within the book matter The digital information age with expanding ways of thinking being communicating and learning complicates public education So what happens as diverse narratives collide in schools To answer this question the authors of this book delve into conflicting assumptions within the framework of complexity sciences and education in an attempt to explore space beyond positivist anti positivist debates This involves examining the role of cultural and aesthetic narratives and cautionary tales as means of acknowledging possibilities in human experiences in education These possibilities can facilitate praxis as theory research and teaching become reflective practices and as thinking about education broadens to include diverse methods of understanding and presenting complex phenomena Planning for Technology Bruce M. Whitehead, Devon F. N. Jensen, Floyd Boschee, 2003 Intended as a how to book for school administrators Planning for Technology A Guide for School Administrators Technology Coordinators and Curriculum Leaders presents a comprehensive framework for integrating technology into schools Essential information and activities are provided that will help school administrators technology coordinators and curriculum developers as they consider establishing a school plan that supports in class technology use for students and teachers Planning for Technology includes current research on the need for technology initiatives in schools practical activities for administrators to determine the best ways of integrating the book s suggestions into their context and the personal experience of school administrators who have successfully implemented technology networks into their classrooms

Handbook of Literacy and Technology David Reinking, Michael C. McKenna, Linda D. Labbo, Ronald D. Kieffer, 1998-04-01 The major shift going on today in the technologies of reading and writing raises important questions about conventional conceptions of literacy and its role in education society and culture What are the important characteristics of electronic forms of reading and writing distinguishing them from printed forms To what extent and in what ways is literacy being transformed by new technologies This central question is addressed in this volume from diverse multidisciplinary perspectives The contributing authors focus on a guiding question in one of the following areas which correspond to the major sections of the book Transforming Texts What are the new differences between printed and electronic texts and what are the implications of new textual forms for defining literacy especially in regard to teaching and learning in schools Transforming Readers and Writers How do electronic reading and writing change conceptualizations of literacy development from childhood through adulthood Transforming Classrooms and Schools What are the effects of introducing new reading and writing technologies into schools and classrooms Transforming Instruction How can instruction be adapted in response to the changing literacy landscape and how can teachers and students exploit forms of reading and writing to enhance teaching and learning Transforming Society What are the broad societal implications of the increasing prevalence of electronic forms of reading and writing Transforming Literacy Research What are the questions that must be addressed as digital reading and writing become more common and what approaches to research will be most useful in addressing those questions This volume is the result of an interactive process The contributors met as a group to discuss drafts of their chapters at a one day meeting convened and sponsored by the National Reading Research Center and had read each others chapters prior to this gathering That meeting was followed by a two day conference attended by approximately 180 researchers educators and policymakers who responded to an open invitation to present papers and to attend sessions focusing on the six major themes of the book Contributors then revised their chapters based on interactions with fellow contributors conference participants and volume editors Thus this work is more than just a compilation of the individual authors views Rather it represents a synthesis of a broad range of current thinking about how literacy is being and may be transformed by technology The Multiplicities of Internet Addiction Nicola F. Johnson, 2016-03-03 Overuse of the internet is often characterized as problematic disruptive or addictive with stories frequently claiming that online use interferes with relationships or that excessive time in front of computer screens is unhealthy The Multiplicities of Internet Addiction contests the claim that computers specifically Internet use are addictive arguing that use of the Internet is now a form of everyday leisure engaged in by many people in Western society Offering an analysis of the nature of addiction alongside a detailed empirical study of home computer use this book will be of interest not only to sociologists of culture and popular culture but also to scholars of media ICT and education

Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology David H. Jonassen, 2004 This edition of this handbook updates and expands its review of the research theory issues and methodology that constitute the field of educational communications and technology Organized into seven sectors it profiles and integrates the following elements of this rapidly changing field Networking the Learner Deryn M. Watson, Jane Andersen, 2013-11-11 Deryn Watson and Jane Andersen Editors INTRODUCTION The role of a Preface is to introduce the nature of the publication The book that emerges from an IFIP Technical Committee World Conference on Computers in Education is complex and this complexity lies in the nature of the event from which it emerges Unlike a number of other major international conferences those organised within the IFIP education community are active events A WCCE is unique among major international conferences for the structure that deliberately ensures that all attendees are active participants in the development of the debate In addition to the major paper presentations and discussion from international authors there are panel sessions and professional working groups who debate particular themes throughout the event There is no doubt that this was not a dry academic conference teachers lecturers and experts policy makers and researchers learners and manufacturers mingled and worked together to explore reflect discuss and plan for the future The added value of this event was that we know that it will have an impact on future practice networks will be formed both virtual and real ideas will change and new ones will emerge Capturing the essence of this event is a challenge this post conference book has three parts The first is the substantial number of theme papers
