

Educational anthropology

In a general sense, educational anthropology involves the use of anthropological theory, data, and methods to study educational practices, institutions, and problems in their proper cultural contexts. The range of educational institutions studied varies from highly formal school systems in industrialized societies to very informal systems in which important cultural knowledge is passed down from generation to generation by kin through such means as storytelling, experiential learning, and peer interaction. The 1960s and 1970s witnessed many case studies in education and culture. For example, Thomas Williams (1969) wrote A Borneo Childhood, a study of how Dusun children learned what they needed to know at different stages of development; Margaret Read (1960) wrote Children of Their Fathers, an ethnography of growing up among the Ngoni of Malawi; and Bruce Grindal (1972), in his work Growing Up in Two Worlds, ethnographically examined how the Sisala children of northern Ghana were caught between traditional and more modern forms of education. At the same time, other educational anthropologists were working closer to home. For example, Gerry Rosenfeld (1971) studied school failure among Black children in Harlem schools, John Hostetler and Gertrude Huntington (1971) studied the process of education among the Amish in Ohio, and Martha Ward (1971) examined speech acquisition among Black children near New Orleans.

Educational Anthropology An Introduction:

Educational Anthropology George F. Kneller, 1965 Educational Anthropology Paul Buchner, 1965 An Introduction to Multicultural Education Chinaka S. DomNwachukwu, 2010-03-15 An Introduction to Multicultural Education provides a balance between the principles and practice of multicultural education in the K 12 classroom presenting multicultural education as a learner centered pedagogy DomNwachukwu's book projects foundational principles and practices that make multicultural education relevant and appealing while eliminating ideas and practices that produce negative reactions and outcomes An Introduction to Multicultural Education utilizes historical data to make the case for equity pedagogy going further than other books on this topic to provide practical steps and approaches to implementing multicultural education The person and cultural identity of the teacher is addressed in depth The person and nature of the learner and the learning process are addressed as foundational ideas behind equity pedagogy Such multicultural education topics as gender equity universal access religious pluralism and bilingualism or multilingualism are all addressed with much detail This book provides pre service and in service teachers with the theoretical and practical support they need to provide equal and meaningful education to all the students in their classrooms Perspectives on Human Learning Hansen, Judith Friedman, 1979-01-01 Contrasting School Culture and Education V. Sucharita, 2023-05-31 This book presents a comparative ethnographic understanding of government and low fee private schools in India within the context of ever increasing privatization and commercialization of education and the growing presence of non state actors Drawing on rich empirical data the book provides an ethnographic account of a government and a low fee private school in Hyderabad India and explores life in these two distinct spaces through the lens of culture While private schools catering to the poorer sections have been proliferating little is known about how these low fee private schools operate how choices and negotiations unfold the classroom discourses subjective meanings of different stakeholders and the kind of education provided in these schools vis vis the government schools The book focuses on the educational experiences schooling choices processes and voices of the children and teachers at these schools to reflect on how school culture influences the quality of education Based on intensive fieldwork and qualitative data the book provides contextual insights into what exactly happens inside the schools and classrooms of two contrasting schooling provisions in India and helps understand the world views of different stakeholders as they negotiate their daily lives The book will be of interest to students researchers and teachers of education sociology of education childhood studies urban education and teacher education It will also be useful for education policymakers educationists education professionals and those working on private schooling in India Education in Tribal India Nabakumar Duary, 2010 Study conducted among the four tribes namely Lodha Mahali Kora and the Santal in Paschim Medinipur District of West Bengal India Human Rights & Education N. Bernstein Tarrow, 2014-06-28 This book discusses the relationship between human rights and education Education as a human right and education for human rights are currently the topics of considerable debate worldwide In addition to their traditional role of transmitting knowledge and values education systems are being pressed to respond to a new range of aspirations and to a wide variety of economic political social and cultural developments whose roots lie outside the education system Human rights education is much wider than just teaching about human rights it should lead to an understanding of and sympathy for the concepts of democracy justice equality freedom solidarity peace dignity rights and responsibilities Young people are guaranteed their right to education and education systems should equip them with the knowledge skills and attitudes they will need if they are to take an active part in the operation of democratic institutions The Anthropology of Education David Julian

Hodges,2011 This unique anthology outlines and reconsiders the disciplinary origins of the anthropology of education The book is a student oriented compilation of classic articles written by anthropologists who helped pioneer the field some fifty years ago Their names constitute a veritable who's who in cultural anthropology Kluckhohn Linton Mead Benedict and Redfield to name a few who while accomplished in the general area of cultural anthropology nevertheless gave specific attention to the developing area of the anthropology of education Also included in the collection are contemporary classics by non anthropologists such as Paulo Freire James Baldwin and Jonathan Kozol who tackle more recent issues facing education and educators The readings are termed classic because collectively they represent the best of that to which today's students of the anthropology of education should be exposed for a first rate introduction to the field However despite their relevance and importance many of these articles are out of print difficult to find or otherwise unavailable Still there is an abiding need for the insights they provide The need for the thinking of these pioneers is as great today arguably greater than when the articles were written Their contributions and insights must not succumb to the awful tendency of our times for scholarship to be both instant and disposable Unlocking Minds: Nurturing the Power of Education Lucien Sina,2024-06-05

Unlocking Minds: Nurturing the Power of Education from Lucien Sina is an in depth exploration of education learning and teaching From fundamental principles to the roles of teachers and learners this book covers a wide range of topics including learning theories creating conducive learning environments the importance of metacognition educational systems and the integration of psychology cognitive science sociology and neuroscience in education It also examines the influence of educational policies governance and institutional roles making it a valuable resource for educators policymakers and anyone passionate about the transformative potential of education Whether you are a student teacher or education enthusiast Unlocking Minds provides a thought provoking journey through the complex landscape of education making it an essential read for those seeking a deeper understanding of the subject Education Anthropology G. Foundations of Education J. Calderon,1998 Handbook of Research on Waldorf Education Jost Schieren,2023-03-07
Waldorf Education An all round balanced approach to education that is equally concerned with intellectual cognitive and artistic creative learning A practice and experience based pedagogy Non selective and open to all children and young people

offering a stress free secure learning environment across 12 grades embedded in a community of students teachers and parents An alternative education that has been successfully practiced for over a century The first Waldorf School was founded in Stuttgart Germany in 1919 Today Waldorf Education is practiced in all countries and cultures around the world in over 1 000 schools more than 2 000 kindergartens and numerous centers for special needs education This makes Waldorf Education the most prevalent alternative approach to teaching And yet despite the success and now empirically validated recognition that Waldorf schools enjoy the theory underlying them remains controversial Within the academic debate Waldorf Education is seen as ideologic and unscientific This publication sets out to bring clarity to this debate Renowned researchers explain and discuss Waldorf Education s foundations in relation to the current discourse on education and core disciplines such as theory of knowledge anthropology developmental psychology learning theory and the theory of professions This scientific inquiry into Waldorf Education is breaking new ground casting light on its fascinating humanistic ideal and holistic potential

Education for Reflective Ministry J. A. van der Ven, 1998 The picture that pastors have of themselves and of their experiences in the ministry is ambivalent On the one hand they find the pastoral work which they perform meaningful important and relevant On the other hand pastors suffer from chronic stress of some sort caused by different factors on the micro meso and macro level of religion church and society Many pastors experience the modernization and subsequently the secularization process as a very serious problem which negatively influences religious life within the parish Pastors are bowed down by uncertainty over how their work contributes to the parish mission in today s society and even more so by doubts over what that mission is in particular the diaconal mission Which direction can shall should the pastor take if neither the church nor the theological institutions are able to provide him or her with a clear frame of reference an attractive perspective a convincing policy a plausible course of action and a meaningful set of aims goals and objectives There is no alternative but to risk taking responsibility for oneself and choosing one s own course of action To take this risk is not reckless or foolhardy as long as the choices are always informed by a religious self reflection that is open to tradition as well as to the future This allows the pastor to be his own guide to transgress useless customs and habits and cross the boundaries into as yet unknown territory The task of education must be to provide the foundation that enables the pastor to make those choices and take those risks in a well considered prudent and truly religious manner This study represents not only an interpretative description of some of the education for ministry in today s societal cultural and ecclesiastical context in the western world but also a proposal for a new model the reflective ministry model

Special Education in the 21st Century Margret A. Winzer, 2000 In the late 20th century a tidal wave of calls for reform and inclusion of special needs students swept over public special education The current debates over implementing these themes today are authoritatively addressed by 19 distinguished scholars in this thorough volume Organized into three cohesive sections it begins with the issues of educational reform and the emerging discourses of disability and integration in the inclusion movement Respective chapters appraise specific arguments for inclusion and the federal legislation and litigation surrounding and supporting special education The second part features the thorny issue of assessment the technological revolution in special education and the disposition of teacher training The third section scrutinizes the inclusion of various populations of students with exceptional needs particularly how teachers can make an easy transition from ideology to educational practice Special Education in the 21st Century sets the standard for extrapolating future directions by wisely weighing classroom practices for different groups and the technical problems of resources management social groupings instructional design and the supposition that teachers will automatically change to accommodate an even greater diversity of learners

Anthropologies of Education Kathryn M. Anderson-Levitt, 2011-10-01 Despite international congresses and international journals anthropologies of education differ significantly around the world Linguistic barriers constrain the flow of ideas which results in a vast amount of research on educational anthropology that is not published in English or is difficult for international readers to find This volume responds to the call to attend to educational research outside the United States and to break out of metropolitan provincialism A guide to the anthropologies and ethnographies of learning and schooling published in German French Spanish Portuguese Italian Slavic languages Japanese and English as a second language show how scholars in Latin America Japan and elsewhere adapt European American and other approaches to create new traditions As the contributors show educators draw on different foundational research and different theoretical discussions Thus this global survey raises new questions and casts a new light on what has become a too familiar discipline in the United States
