Educational Administration Wayne K. Hoy,Cecil G. Miskel,2007 Abstract Educational Administration Judith Chapman,2020-08-04 Both the theory and practice of educational administration have undergone major changes in recent years There is now more theoretical diversity in the field than at any other time with influences from traditional and post positivist science subjectivism ethics critical theory and cultural studies Similarly social political and economic factors have brought about new approaches to practice Schools administration in particular is increasingly being dominated by decentralization and pressures for accountability on curriculum and educational outcomes Educational Administration is the first Australian text to offer a comprehensive survey of theory context and practice It includes chapters from leading Australian scholars such as Richard Bates Hedley Beare Brian Caldwell Gabriele Lakomski and Fazal Rizvi Greenfield on Educational Administration Thomas Greenfield,Peter Ribbins,2005-08-08 This collection is a representative set of ten of the key papers which Thomas Greenfield arguably the doyen of contemporary theories of educational administration has published over the last twenty years His writings as they appear are eagerly sought after and studied by scholars students and practitioners in Britain and across the English speaking world but are not always readily available individually The collection charts the development of Greenfield s views of social reality as human invention and explores strands of argument on the nature of knowledge on administrative theory and research on values on the limits of science and the importance of human subjectivity truth and reality The volume is concluded by a discussion between Greenfield and Peter Ribbins which reflects on Greenfield s career and elaborates on the range of his complex and often controversial ideas EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION Theory and Practice Edgar Leroy Morphet,1959 High-Need Schools Devin Thornburg,Anne M. Mungai,2016-10-26 This book covers issues that pertain to high need schools but the authors challenge the distinctions made in the research and reason that the issues are relevant to all schools From the rise of accountability in the 1960s to now high need schools have been dealing with curriculum program initiatives and responding to diverse populations typically without the resources necessary to implement change In this book we discuss important issues that have to be tackled if we as educators will succeed in meeting the needs of the next generation From education laws use of technology leadership diversity and multicultural issues teaching in high need schools curriculum and teaching student with special needs the book explores both problems and solutions changing the dialogue from one of blame and stasis to one of action and hope

Multiculturalism and Multilingualism at the Crossroads of School Leadership Jon C. Veenis,Sylvia Robertson,Jami Royal Berry,2020-10-01 This volume builds upon emergent understandings about educational leadership and policy in hopes of continuing to refine our understanding of what effective leadership means in linguistically and culturally diverse school contexts The volume seeks to entrench a deeper understanding of the broader leadership policies and practices that promote the success of linguistically and culturally diverse students while also recognizing that effective leadership can be highly dependent on context It offers original empirical research that enhances an understanding of the interdependencies between leadership culture language and policy i e the mechanisms that engender or hinder successful stewardship of linguistic and cultural plurality The confluence of school leadership linguistic diversity and multiculturalism makes this volume unique especially considering the pace at which global migration continues to accelerate coupled with the need to accommodate an array of diverse learning needs in today s schools

Educational Administration in a Pluralistic Society Colleen A. Capper,1993-07-01 In this bold provocative supplemental text for the field of educational administration Colleen Capper and contributors challenge administrators policymakers practitioners and communities to confront the realities of schools and students in a pluralistic society The book examines recent educational initiatives aimed at addressing the needs of students and staff from traditionally underrepresented groups marginalized on the basis of race language gender sexual orientation social class or disability Each chapter critically reviews the literature and research to probe the current characteristics of a nondominant group including such information as its demographic characteristics its role in school reform its representation in organizational theory and behavior its presence within curriculum and instruction and its relationship with the school as community Capper argues for the adoption of a multiparadigmatic framework from which to approach educational leadership for today s schools

Administration, Policy, and Politics Douglas E. Mitchell, 2013-04-03 This book probes the intellectual foundations of scholarly inquiry into educational administration policy and politics The question of whether and if so how social science theories and methods contribute to an understanding of these issues is hotly debated today Is there really a scientific basis for evaluating and or improving educational administration politics and policy The contributors all recognized scholars in the fields of educational organization administration policy and politics tackle the question of epistemology directly addressing anew what rules of scholarly conduct should guide research and practice in the field and how those rules of inquiry should guide the training of scholars and education professionals The Introduction places the chapters in a common intellectual framework for rebuilding confidence in social science inquiry and of the legitimacy of the university as an arbiter of scientific knowledge claims New Foundations for Knowledge in Educational Administration Policy and Politics Science and Sensationalism is directed to research scholars faculty graduate students and policy agency staffers in the fields of educational policy politics and administration educational evaluation and educational foundations It is well suited as a text for graduate courses in these areas

Beyond Leadership Scott Eacott, 2017-11-06 This book systematically elaborates Scott Eacott's relational approach to organizational theory in education Contributing to the relational trend in the social sciences it first surveys relational scholarship across disciplines before providing a nuanced articulation of the relational research program and key concepts such as organizing activity auctors and spatio temporal conditions It also includes critical commentaries on the program from key figures such as Tony Bush Megan Crawford Fenwick English Helen Gunter Izhar Oplatka Augusto Riveros and Dawn Wallin As such the text models an approach to or social epistemology for building knowledge claims in relation rather than through parallel monologues Eacott's relational approach provides a distinctive post Bourdieusian variant of the relational sociological project Shifting the focus of inquiry from entities e.g. leaders organizations to organizing activity and recognizing how auctors generate simultaneously emerging from and constitutive of spatio temporal conditions unsettles the orthodoxy of organizational theory in educational administration and leadership By presenting its claims in the context of other approaches the book stimulates intellectual debate among both relational sociologists and opponents of relational approaches Beyond Leadership provides significant insights into the organizing of education As it does not fit neatly into any one field but instead blends educational administration and leadership organizational studies and relational sociology among others it charts new territory and promotes important dialogue and debate

Second International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Kenneth A. Leithwood, P. Hallinger, 2012-12-06 The first International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Leithwood et al was published in 1996 and quickly became something of a best seller for reference works within education Such success we suggest was at least partly due to the unprecedented global waves of concern for improving schools launched in the mid 1980's combined with a widespread belief in leadership as the single most powerful contribution to such improvement The roots of this belief can be found in evidence produced by the early effective schools research although there is a romance with leadership as an explanation for success in many non school enterprises as well During the two year period during which this current handbook was being written activity in the realms of school leadership school improvement and leadership development gained further momentum The English government created its new National College of School Leadership and several Asian nations announced new initiatives in leadership selection preparation and development
