commanded an international stage Goldberger's keen observations and sharp wit make him one of the most insightful and passionate architectural voices of our time In this collection of fifty seven essays the critic Tracy Kidder called America's foremost interpreter of public architecture ranges from Havana to Beijing from Chicago to Las Vegas dissecting everything from skyscrapers by Norman Foster and museums by Tadao Ando to airports monuments suburban shopping malls and white brick apartment houses This is a comprehensive account of the best and the worst of the age of architecture On Norman Foster Norman Foster is the Mozart of modernism He is nimble and prolific and his buildings are marked by lightness and grace He works very hard but his designs don't show the effort He brings an air of unnerving aplomb to everything he creates from skyscrapers to airports research laboratories to art galleries chairs to doorknobs His ability to produce surprising work that doesn't feel labored must drive his competitors crazy On the Westin Hotel The forty five story Westin is the most garish tall building that has gone up in New York in as long as I can remember It is fascinating if only because it makes Times Square vulgar in a whole new way extending up into the sky It is not easy these days to go beyond the bounds of taste If the architects the Miami based firm Arquitectonica had been trying to allude to bad taste one could perhaps respect what they came up with But they simply wanted like most architects today to entertain us On Mies van der Rohe Mies's buildings look like the simplest things you could imagine yet they are among the richest works of architecture ever created Modern architecture was supposed to remake the world and Mies was at the center of the revolution but he was also a counterrevolutionary who designed beautiful things His spare minimalist objects are exquisite He is the only modernist who created a language that ranks with the architectural languages of the past and while this has sometimes been troubling for his reputation his architectural forms become more astonishing as time goes on Neon Metropolis Hal Rothman, 2002 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company Dream City Douglas Unger, 2024-10-08 In this unconventional tale of Las Vegas during the two delirious boom decades before the bust of the Great Recession failed actor C D Reinhart who has launched a new career in hotel marketing is gradually losing his moral and existential compass Working on The Strip during an era when Sin City's population growth was outpacing any other place in America C D climbs the industry ladder while modeling himself after a Pyramid Resorts top executive Lance Sheperd C D's professional choices lead him down a tumultuous road as Sheperd a complex and at times visionary figure pilots his ventures through the tangled wheeling and dealing of finance and corporate politics straight into catastrophe As the story progresses C D comes to understand how his personal losses and the losses of his cohort of hard driving executives on the make especially the tragic life of his work partner Greta Olsson the only woman to break through into their male dominated world are a result of the make believe environment he has helped to create a world where representation replaces reality Hoping to piece together his faltering marriage and family relationships C D must find a new path as he struggles to hold onto his dreams In this fictionalized version of the city of glittering lights author Douglas Unger pits the ideologies of marketing and consumerism in the casino economy of America against the erosion of individual and humane values that success in that world demands Unger reveals the hard truth that Las Vegas a blue collar town considered by many to be the most honest city can be a temple for self deceptions emblematic of a service economy that knows the price of everything and too often the value of little else Dream City becomes both a love song and an elegy for Las Vegas that sets it apart from any other literary novel previously written about this global entertainment attraction that in so many ways represents postmodern America Sooner or later the challenge that faces everyone is to discover what matters most and to learn how to bet on the better angels of our natures
