Eocene Thunder Mountain Flora Of Central Idaho:

The Eocene Thunder Mountain Flora of Central Idaho Daniel I. Axelrod, 1998-03-17 An Eocene 45 Ma flora from Thunder Mountain caldera shows that montane conifer forest species from upper slopes descended to interfinger with mixed conifer deciduous hardwood forest on the caldera floor then near 1700 m Most species are allied to those in the western United States but a few genera are in China Precipitation was near 100 cm yearly with most in summer The Oligocene Haynes

Late Cretaceous and Cenozoic History of North American Vegetation Alan Graham, 1999-03-25 This book is a unique and integrated account of the history of North American vegetation and paleoenvironments over the past 70 million years It includes discussions of the modern plant communities causal factors for environmental change biotic response and methodologies The history reveals a North American vegetation that is vast immensely complex and dynamic The Miocene Purple Mountain Flora of Western Nevada Daniel I. Axelrod, 1995-01-01 In this study nine florules from the Chloropagus Formation near Fernley Nevada are dated at 14.7 ± 0.4 million years. The author finds that dominant mixed conifer forest and sclerophyll woodland species of the Sierra Nevada Klamath region replaced exotic deciduous hardwoods in the two lowest sites. He concludes that this change reflects the loss of adequate summer rain as upwelling from a colder ocean resulted from spreading East Antarctic ice.

Tectonic Boundary Conditions for Climate Reconstructions

Thomas J. Crowley, Kevin Burke, 1998. In recent years efforts to integrate solid earth geophysical studies and climate studies have progressed slowly but this volume responds to the deficiency with an in depth examination of climate modeling. Written by eminent figures from both disciplines it focuses on the role of tectonic boundary conditions for paleoclimate reconstruction at the same time it presents background material on the impact of tectonic changes on climate and the uncertainties in tectonic boundary conditions.

A Miocene (10-12 Ma) Evergreen Laurel-Oak Forest from Carmel Valley, California Daniel I. Axelrod, 2000-06-12. This is a study of the Miocene Carmel flora of California an evergreen laurel oak forest that grew in a mild temperate mean annual temperature of 15 degrees C frost free climate with annual precipitation of about 760 mm. Collectively the Carmel and other Miocene floras like the San Pablo and Temblor broad leafed deciduous trees with few evergreen species the Puente evergreen oak forest with chaparral species the Mint Canyon Ricardo and Tehachapi numerous arid subtropical scrub associated with oak woodland and chaparral species suggest they foreshadowed a similar distribution of the different California vegetation zones today.

Biostratigraphy and Vertebrate Paleontology of the San Timoteo Badlands, Southern California L. Barry Albright III, 2000-03-08. The author describes forty two fossil taxa recovered during a study of the San Timoteo Badlands that used magnetobiostratigraphy to develop a temporal framework for addressing the tectonic evolution of southern California over the last 6 million years.

For the Pliocene small mammals are an effective means of correlating a magnetostratigraphy to the Geomagnetic Polarity Time Scale when radioisotopic dates are unobtainable.

Paleobotany Edith L. Taylor, Thomas N. Taylor, Michael Krings, 2009-01-21. This book provides up to date coverage of fossil plants from Precambrian life to flowering plants including fungi and algae. It begins with a discussion of geologic time how organisms are preserved in the rock record and how organisms are studied and interpreted and takes the student through all the relevant uses and interpretations of fossil plants. With new chapters on additional flowering plant families paleoecology and the structure of ancient plant communities fossil plants as proxy records for paleoclimate new methodologies used in phylogenetic reconstruction and the addition of new fossil plant discoveries since 1993 this book provides the most comprehensive account of the geologic history and evolution of microbes algae fungi and plants through time. Major revision of a 1993 classic reference. Lavishly illustrated with 1 800 images and user friendly for use by paleobotanists biologists geologists and other related scientists. Includes an expanded glossary with an extensive up to date bibliography and a comprehensive index. Provides extensive coverage of fungi and other microbes and major groups of land plants both living and extinct.

Bergeron, Sylvie Gauthier, 2018-04-13 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Fire Regimes Spatial and Temporal Variability and Their Effects on Forests that was published in Forests Systematics and Evolution of the Sthenurine Kangaroos Gavin Prideaux, 2004-05-01 This work represents an exhaustive review of one of the most important late Cenozoic radiations of Australian marsupials the short faced or sthenurine kangaroos Sthenurines originated in the Miocene diversified in the Pliocene and radiated in the Quaternary to become one of Australia's most conspicuous mammal groups the only lineage of browsing marsupials comparable in diversity to the browsing artiodactyl guilds of other continents The culmination of 12 years research the monograph details the taxonomy of the sthenurines redescribing each of the six genera two new and 26 species four new and is amply illustrated with line drawings and more than 100 pages of plates It presents the first cladistic analysis of sthenurines and by synthesizing systematic functional morphological biochronologic and zoogeographic data considers the major directions of adaptive change within the group and the major environmental factors that drove their evolution It is one of the most comprehensive studies of an extinct marsupial lineage ever made and should be an essential reference for students of Australian late Cenozoic vertebrates marsupial evolution environmental change and Pleistocene extinctions From Greenhouse to Icehouse Donald R. Prothero, Linda C. Ivany, Elizabeth A. Nesbitt, 2003 The marine Eocene Oligocene transition of 34 million years ago was a critical turning point in Earth's climatic history when the warm high diversity greenhouse world of the early Eocene ceded to the glacial icehouse conditions of the early Oligocene This book surveys the advances in stratigraphic and paleontological research and isotopic analysis made since 1989 in regard to marine deposits around the world In particular it summarizes the high resolution details of the so called doubthouse interval roughly 45 to 34 million years ago which is critical to testing climatic and evolutionary hypotheses about the Eocene deterioration The authors goals are to discuss the latest information concerning climatic and oceanographic change associated with this transition and to examine geographic and taxonomic patterns in biotic turnover that provide clues about where when and how fast these environmental changes happened They address a range of topics including the tectonic and paleogeographic setting of the Paleogene specific issues related to the stratigraphy of shelf deposits advances in recognizing and correlating boundary sections trends in the expression of climate change and patterns of faunal and floral turnover In the process they produce a valuable synthesis of patterns of change by latitude and environment The Eocene Copper Basin Flora of Northeastern Nevada Daniel I.
