Time, History and International Law Matthew C. R. Craven, Malgosia Fitzmaurice, Maria Vogiatzi, 2007 This book examines theoretical and practical issues concerning the relationship between international law time and history Problems relating to time and history are ever present in the work of international lawyers whether understood in terms of the role of historic practice in the doctrine of sources the application of the principle of inter temporal law in dispute settlement or in gaining a coherent insight into the role that was played by international law in past events But very little has been written about the various different ways in which international lawyers approach or understand the past and it is with a view to exploring the dynamics of that engagement that this book has been compiled In its broadest sense it is possible to identify at least three different ways in which the relationship between international law and its history may be conceived The first is that of a history of international law written in narrative form and mapped out in terms of a teleology of origins development progress or renewal The second is that of history in international law and of the role history plays in arguments about law itself for example in the construction of customary international law The third way of understanding that relationship is in terms of international law in history of understanding how international law has been engaged in the creation of a history that in some senses stands outside the history of international law itself The essays in this collection make clear that each type of engagement with history and international law interweaves various different types of historical narrative pointing to the typically multi layered nature of international awyers engagement with the past and its importance in shaping the present and future of international law Decisions of the World Court Relevant to the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea Barbara Kwiatkowska, 2010-04-27 This pioneering publication provides a Reference Guide to the significant contributions of decisions of the World Court as the principal judicial organ of the United Nations and the world's most senior Court with the broadest material jurisdiction to the development of the law of the sea as a part of the global system of peace and security The Guide is dedicated to the Court's former President Stephen M Schwebel in appreciation of his belief that it is important for the Court to further explore its pre eminently unique role throughout the Third Millennium Whereas the format of specific entries covered by this Reference Guide largely corresponds to the Parts and Annexes of the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention UNCLOS and the 1994 Part XI Agreement the heading of each entry also contains as appropriate references to the 1930 League of Nations Hague Draft the four 1958 UN Geneva Conventions and the 1995 UN Straddling Stocks Agreement as well as to the 1972 UN Stockholm the 1992 Rio UNCED and the 2002 Johannesbourg instruments This will enable the reader to relate the Court's decisions to the respective UNCLOS provisions as originated from and as implemented by these global framework instruments at various stages of codification and progressive development of the law of the sea The entries cover principally Judgments and Orders including the related pleadings of the PCIJ and the ICJ and those decisions of Arbitral Tribunals and other third party fora as well as national courts which have been relied upon in the Court's jurisprudence In addition the recent decisions of the ITLOS and some other for a such as the Annex VII Southern

Bluefin Tuna Singapore v Malaysia Barbados Trinidad and Tobago Guyana Suriname and the Mox Plant Arbitral Tribunals as well as references to treaties are also listed under specific entries as appropriate Tables of Cases and Treaties will importantly facilitate the use of this Reference Guide It has proven to be an indispensable tool for the Judges and governmental and other practitioners in furthering the coherent development of the law of the sea by international courts and tribunals on the one hand and for international community of academics in the adequate assessing of this development International Organizations and the Law of the Sea 2000 Barbara Kwiatkowska, Harm Dotinga, Erik J. as prescribed in the OECD and UN models on the one hand and the UN Law of the Sea Convention LOSC on the other This comparative study is the first of its kind and is premised on certain key geopolitical similarities that underpin the international tax regime ITR and the law of the sea regime while taking into consideration the differences in the institutional context of both regimes The author proposes a new tax treaty dispute resolution system based on the LOSC system for resolving multilateral tax disputes focusing on the following mapping of the institutional arrangements that make up the dispute resolution mechanisms to understand how each system works comparative analysis of the patterns of interaction and outcomes generated across the two dispute resolution systems to identify relevant aspects of the LOSC system that may be adapted in the ITR to improve tax treaty dispute resolution and analysis of the inclusivity levels across the decision making structures under each system to identify specific consensus building techniques that may facilitate the implementation of the new proposed tax treaty dispute resolution system and also enhance international cooperation across the ITR The proposed restructuring of the tax treaty dispute resolution system expands the existing mutual agreement procedure and forms a comprehensive legal framework that aims to achieve a more effective predictable and equitable resolution of multilateral tax disputes in the 21st century ITR by striking a balance between countries right to tax sovereignty and the rule of law Just as the design of the dispute resolution system under the LOSC paved the way for universal consensus of the Convention among almost 160 countries the author's new tax treaty dispute resolution system also offers a solid foundation for consensus building towards a universal treaty in the ITR Everyone concerned with international tax dispute resolution whether policymaker in house counsel national tax authority official judge tax lawyer or academic will find the truly valuable analysis here not elsewhere Cases and Materials on the Law of the Sea Louis B.
