Healing The Male Psyche Therapy As Initiation:

Healing the Male Psyche John Rowan, 1997 John Rowan argues that if men are to escape from their old roles and the new pressures of social uncertainty they need to be initiated into a new kind of masculinity but that this process must be personal to each man He explores how therapy can help or hinder the process of transformation Written for men who are looking for a new way of understanding their predicament as well as psychotherapists and counsellors working with men Healing the Male Psyche is packed with useful information and exercises and supported by a wide range of references

Developments in Psychotherapy Windy Dryden, 1996-08-28 This comprehensive and accessible book charts the origins and development of the major non psychoanalytic fields in counselling and psychotherapy Leading British and North American psychotherapists examine a range of approaches including person centred transactional analysis Gestalt cognitive and behavioural therapy They discuss how why and where each approach came about and the context and influences under which it was formulated They go on to survey the further development of theory and practice in each case taking in the most significant trends and highlighting advances which are often not recognized or fully understood Each approach is then brought firmly up to date with an overview of its current ideology and International Encyclopedia of Men and

Masculinities , Working with Men in Health and Social Care Brid Featherstone, Mark Rivett, Jonathan Scourfield, 2007-08-01 Working with Men in Health and Social Care is a very welcome contribution to the stock of books on men and masculinities It is especially useful for those interested in direct practice and policy applications in the fields of welfare and for those who work with the problems men create the problems men experience and their interconnections Jeff Hearn co editor Men and Masculinities University of Huddersfield and Link ping University Working with Men in Health and Social Care is an important and timely book that introduces the complex issues and debates involved in working with men in a range of professional settings The authors locate academic and popular discourse on masculinities within the specific context of health and social care settings critically analysing the theory and policy that underpin and inform practice and continually linking theoretical frameworks to real life practice examples Section 1 contextualises the topic with a discussion of gender theory social policy and the occupational culture of relevant organisations Section 2 provides a summary of practice models examining practice with men as individuals as well as in groups families and communities Section 3 is organised according to specific groups of service users and includes chapters on fathers abusive men physical and mental health boys and older men This thought provoking and topical book will be essential reading for students and academics in social work health care probation counselling and allied disciplines and for those facing the reality of working with men in their day to day practice

The Art of Ageing: Textualising the Phases of Life Brian Worsfold, 2005 El tema del envejecimiento es total absolutamente todo existe en el tiempo A pesar de que la matem tica rechaza la noci n de que el tiempo pasa la conciencia humana percibe el envejecimiento como consecuencia del paso del tiempo Mediante

textualizaciones en poesía teatro y prosa se pone de manifiesto el sentido y la complejidad de la percepción de esta trayectoria temporal Por esta razón los artículos que contiene este libro son eminentemente eclécticos y revelan los pensamientos de poetas cantantes escritores críticos literarios psicólogos sociólogos y antropólogos

The Reality Game, second edition John Rowan, 2014-02-04 The Reality Game is for people who are or who want to be counsellors or psychotherapists It is particularly useful for those training in humanistic or integrative psychotherapy and counselling Discussing the skills and techniques used in both individual and group therapy this is an essential guide to good practices for the professional humanistic counsellor or psychotherapist and also responds to the questions most often asked by those training in these disciplines

The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling John Rowan, 2014-02-25 The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling presents a revealing and stimulating account of the current state of training that demonstrates how training will have to adapt if it is to successfully meet the needs and challenges of the future In an attempt to look afresh at the whole question of training John Rowan proposes that there are three ways of doing therapy and any examination of training has to consider each of these the instrumental where the main emphasis is on the treating the client or patient the authentic way where the main emphasis is on meeting the client or patient the transpersonal way where main emphasis is on linking with the client in a more personal way Each approach makes different assumptions about the self about the relationship and about the level of consciousness involved in doing therapy By challenging the basic precepts of traditional training John Rowan encourages the reader to reconsider subjects including the difference between counselling and psychotherapy culture and ethics the origins of disturbance in clients and child development The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling provides a much needed new perspective that will compel all psychotherapists and counsellors to take a closer look at training in the field
