Grey,1989      A Sociology of Education for Africa Kenneth Blakemore,Brian Cooksey,2017-04-28 This book first published in 1980 provides a summary of the major research findings of previous studies of the sociology of education in Sub Saharan Africa within an original and stimulating general framework whilst also devoting space to their own research findings The major themes of the book are education and social inequality the sociology of the school the teacher and the curriculum and education and development The student of the sociology of development will find a stimulating discussion of education in relation to socio cultural economic and political change in contemporary Africa      Schooling in Sub-Saharan Africa Clive Harber,2017-07-12 This book is a comprehensive text for those interested in formal education in sub Saharan Africa It provides a thought provoking overview of the key educational ideas themes and issues facing schooling in Africa today by drawing on a wide literature to examine evidence concerning both educational policy and the working realities of primary and secondary schools in Africa Based on the author s forty years of experience in researching and publishing on education in Africa it takes a balanced but critical approach to analysing education in Africa and discusses both positive and negative patterns across the region as well as identifying differences between and within countries The book examines major questions of educational provision structure content and process but does so in a way that raises challenging questions about gender inequality violence authoritarianism and democracy in education as well the fundamental question of whether education is achieving its desired outcomes It will be of great interest to students and researchers working in the fields of comparative and international education education and international development African education African studies and development studies      Education, Social Progress, and Marginalized Children in Sub-Saharan Africa Obed Mfum-Mensah,2017-05-04 This book employs sociohistorical narrative and discourse frameworks to discuss the sociopolitical complexities and ambiguities of educating marginalized groups in sub Saharan Africa since western education was introduced in the region It outlines the systemic and structural challenges faced by marginalized children in the education system that prevent them from fully participating in the education process This book focuses on how the props underlying Christian missionary education colonial education and early postcolonial educational enterprise all served to marginalize certain groups including women some geographical regions and or communities such as Islamic communities and people with disabilities from the colonial and postcolonial economic discourses This historical background provides the springboard for discussions on the complexities and ambiguities of educating marginalized groups in some communities in sub Saharan Africa in the contemporary times This book also highlights the challenges of the recent policies of policy makers and the strategies and initiatives of civic societies non governmental organizations and local communities to promote marginalized children s participation in education This book elucidates the varied ways certain groups and communities continue to interrogate the structural and systemic challenges that marginalize them educationally It argues that the level of marginalized groups participation in education in sub Saharan African in the 21st century will determine the progress the region will make in the Education for All EFA initiative and the Millennium Development Goals MDG Furthermore it argues that increasing educational participation in marginalized communities requires implementation of educational programs that address marginalized groups structural social arrangements and socioeconomic contexts Rurality, Social Justice and Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Volume I Alfred Masinire, Amasa P. Ndofirepi, 2020-12-12 This book explores rurality and education in sub Saharan Africa through a lens of social justice The first in a two volume project this book explores the possibilities and constraints of rural social justice in diverse educational contexts how should rurality be defined How does education shape and reshape what it means to be rural Drawing chapters from a diverse range of contributors in sub Saharan Africa the two volumes are underpinned by a robust social justice approach to rural schooling and its intersections with access gender colonialism social mobility and dis ability Ultimately these volumes reflect the need to shift conceptions of rurality from colonial and conservative stereotypes to an appreciation of rurality as locations in space and time with their own unique attributes and opportunities Harnessing indigenous African concepts of justice to open up conversations into teaching and knowledge production in higher education this book will be of interest to scholars of rurality and education as well as wider discussions on decolonising the academy
