Barrow,S. Didou-Aupetit,J. Mallea,2012-12-06 Since the mid 1970s economic and educational developments in Canada Mexico and the USA have been influenced by two parallel trends 1 the resurgence of global economic competition and 2 the active promotion of knowledge intensive service based economies Both trends have been reinforced by the liberalisation of international trade under the rubric of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT and the World Trade Organisation WTO The North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA has accelerated these trends in all three countries by providing the framework for an integrated regional economy in North America designed to compete against comparable trading blocs centred in Japan and the European Union The purpose of this study is to examine the developing relationship between trade liberalisation post industrialisation and higher education in Canada Mexico and the USA The larger trends and linkages that we identify are by no means confined to these three countries We have chosen to focus on Canada Mexico and the USA because the adoption of the North American Free Trade Agreement has accelerated the development of economic policies in these countries which identify higher education as a central component of each country's new competitiveness strategy As a consequence government policy makers and higher education decision makers are responding with targeted initiatives to promote the internationalisation of higher education generally and to promote trilateral co operation among North American higher education institutions specifically Widening Access to Education as Social Justice Akpovire Oduaran,Harbans S. representativeness of the work with contributors coming from the global South and North Widening Access to Education as Social Justice speaks with a credible and powerful voice about how making greater formal and informal educational opportunities available to men and women young adults and children everywhere can help bring about more equitable ways of living together thereby fostering the goods of cultural diversity tolerance and respect along with the creativity and responsibility vital to bringing about actual social harmony Taking Responsibility for Ending Social Promotion ,1999
