Disrupting, and Revolutionizing Educational Policy and Practice Whitney Sherman Newcomb,Katherine Cumings

Mansfield,2014-06-01 The idea for this book was born from discussions at several recent academic events including the Women Leading Education WLE International Conference in Volos Greece 2012 and the University Council for Educational Administration UCEA Conference in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania 2011 as well as from informal dialogue amongst ourselves and various colleagues both new and veteran to the field of educational leadership and in particular dedicated to the study of women in leadership At both the WLE Conference and the UCEA Conference we heard frustration from veteran women in the field that the study of women in leadership is stagnant and has not moved forward in several years with scholars new to the field continuing to write and publish work about barriers to aspiring and practicing women leaders the same types of reports that began the formal inquiry into women s lives as leaders back in the 1980s without being able to push forward with new information or ideas for change In essence the concerns and questions that were posed from some veteran women were Why are we continuing to report the same things that we reported 30 years ago Why are we still talking about barriers to women in leadership and Why haven't we moved past gender binaries in regard to leadership ideas and practice Considering these questions some women new to the field countered with their own set of responses and questions that included Is it not significant to report that some women are still experiencing the same types of barriers in leadership that were highlighted 30 years ago Is it accurate to report that all women's voices have now been heard represented and How can we report something different if it hasn't happened The discussions that have ensued between veteran women and those new to the field inspired us to develop a book that situates women in leadership exactly where we are today and reports the status of girls who are positioned to continue the good fight that began many years ago and that both highlights the changes that have occurred and reports any stagnancy that continues to threaten women's positionality in educational leadership literature practice and policy It forefronts the voices of women educational scholars who have and are interrupting disrupting and revolutionizing educational policy and practice Our book reports women's leadership activities and knowledge in both the K-12 and university settings and concludes with chapters ripe with ideas for pushing for change through policy advocacy and activism The final chapter presents themes that emerged from the individual chapters and sets forth an agenda to move forward with the study of women in leadership

Transitioning Education in Africa Gia Cromer, 2023-08-08

Transitioning Education in Africa External Education Providers Emergencies and Authoritarian Structures explores how transitions from education in emergency to post conflict education systems are planned and managed at the national level Currently education for refugees is largely accomplished in emergency or crisis situations by external education providers EEPs in authoritarian contexts Using historical analysis of education policies appreciative inquiry surveys and semi structured interviews Gia Cromer argues that despite historic and current international community stated goals of increasing government capability to provide education neither EEPs nor refugee hosting countries have made these changes especially at the national level This book provides insights on both historical norms toward Africa and authoritarian organizational philosophies and structures that could be contributing to this failure to successfully transition procedures to provide education It also provides one of the few analyses of the problems in education provision for displaced people asylees and refugees specific to eleven countries in Africa The analysis concludes with education policy recommendations for national level education administrators to philosophically and practically decolonize education for the self determination of future education structures in Africa Policy as Practice Stephen Backman,2009 India Higher Education Report 2023 Pradeep Kumar Misra,Anupam Pachauri,2025-04-22 This book traces the contours of higher education research in India It analyses the Indian higher education system that has seen unprecedented expansion in the last couple of decades with increasing institutional and programme diversification diverse participants accessing higher education and curricula becoming more market oriented in a globalised context The book provides an empirical analysis of issues related to higher education research in the country including international collaboration analysis of institutions and research programs and state and national level policies determining higher education and research trajectories It explores the extent to which sources and supplies of funding impact research agenda research questions and outcomes The book conceptually engages with the role of higher education research in providing a direction for policymakers and paving the way towards quality higher education An important critique of higher education policy and planning this book will be valuable for researchers and scholars in the field of education public policy political science international relations law sociology economics and political economy It will also be of interest to policy makers working in higher education and research Post-Secondary Planning for All Sejal Parikh Foxx,J. Anthony Elizondo,2023-08-01 It is not surprising that in order to meet the job demands of the future we need to ensure that students have the knowledge and opportunity to choose from an array of postsecondary options before graduating from high school Particularly as our society continues to increase in diversity providing access to college and career choices for all students is imperative However there are many barriers that keep students from reaching their potential and envisioning a future that is personally and professionally rewarding Many of these barriers are systemic in nature and others are related to individual circumstances Regardless from where the barriers stem school counselors and others who provide postsecondary readiness services to students must advocate work to create equitable access and assist with navigating through complex systems This book compiles information and strategies from experts in the field Each chapter in this book offers definitions of specific populations evidence based culturally responsive counseling strategies including those related to collaboration case studies and interventions and opportunities for readers to reflect on their understanding of that population to inspire professional growth Groups included in this book include students who are experiencing homelessness students in English Language Learner programs families experiencing poverty students with special needs and many others that school counselors and college advisors will encounter in their career Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1986 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States.
