The pregnancy test shown here has four important areas along the paper wick. The urine or blood is applied on the far left and wicks to the right. The anti-hCG antibodies loosely attached to the paper are next. If the urine has hCG this binds to its antibody and travels along the paper as a complex. In the next area, a secondary antibody that only recognizes the hCG–primary antibody complex is firmly attached in a plus pattern. When the hCG complex binds to the secondary antibody, the detection system turns blue. The final spot is a different secondary antibody that recognizes the primary antibody without any hCG. This is a positive control, to ensure that the antibody was released and wicked up the paper with the urine.
