Thelonious Monk Ellison's writing career has bottomed out his latest manuscript has been rejected by seventeen publishers which stings all the more because his previous novels have been critically acclaimed He seethes on the sidelines of the literary establishment as he watches the meteoric success of We's Lives in Da Ghetto a first novel by a woman who once visited some relatives in Harlem for a couple of days Meanwhile Monk struggles with real family tragedies his aged mother is fast succumbing to Alzheimer's and he still grapples with the reverberations of his father's suicide seven years before In his rage and despair Monk dashes off a novel meant to be an indictment of Juanita Mae Jenkins's bestseller He doesn't intend for My Pafology to be published let alone taken seriously but it is under the pseudonym Stagg R Leigh and soon it becomes the Next Big Thing How Monk deals with the personal and professional fallout galvanizes this audacious hysterical and quietly devastating novel

Hybrid Novels George Kowalik, 2025-10-03 The phrase post postmodernism has appeared in Contemporary Literary Studies since the 20th century but what does it mean Scholars have defined the term in various often contradictory ways Existing studies also rarely centralise race an essential component in the transition from postmodern irony to post postmodern sincerity Hybrid Novels analyses post postmodernism's only consistency and certainty hybridity This speaks for a broader social issue concerning the ethics of categorisation and the conflicting labels imposed on subjectivity Hybrid Novels considers landmark American British novels by Percival Everett Jonathan Franzen Zadie Smith and David Foster Wallace published from 1996 to 2001 It positions these authors at the centre of the post postmodernism debate together for the first time This book suggests that 2010s autofiction further develops post postmodern tensions of irony and sincerity at the turn of the 21st century Major American Canadian novels by Sheila Heti Ben Lerner Teju Cole and Tao Lin are discussed published from 2010 to 2013

Jean Rhys Juliana Lopoukhine, Frédéric Regard, Kerry-Jane Wallart, 2023-05-29 Jean Rhys position upon the literary map of the 20th century remains unstable even after Wide Sargasso Sea 1966 She shunned public exposure and yet desperately sought acknowledgement by her own peers she stood away from the modernist circles of Montparnasse in Paris and yet explored a radically avant garde writing which retrospectively makes her rank among them while her always problematic authority places her in the marginalized position of the postcolonial author Writing precariously in the case of Jean Rhys reaches far beyond a mere posture of submission or a necessity to cope with a lack of money or a room of one s own Rather it becomes an ethical and political stance that engages with forms of minimal resistance to forms of subjection just as the very precariousness of her writing thwarts any efforts to place her or her work to frame her characters or label her style With Jean Rhys precariousness is the site where voices silenced and bodies dismissed by a gendered or imperialistic power may be retrieved until their vulnerability becomes a dislodging force that makes the power structures precarious in turn This book reassesses the precariousness of Jean Rhys as a distinct positionality eliciting an isolated voice which insists and persists It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Women A Cultural Review

Novel Competition Evan Brier, 2024-04-16 Novel Competition describes the literary and institutional struggle to make American novels matter between 1965 and 1999 As corporations took over the book business Hollywood movies popular music and other forms of mass produced culture competed with novels as never before for a form of prestige that had mostly been attached to novels in previous decades In the context of this competition developments like the emergence of Rolling Stone magazine regional publishers Black studies programs and New Hollywood became key events in the life of the American novel Novels by Truman Capote Ann Beattie Toni Cade Bambara Cynthia Ozick and Larry McMurtry among many others are recast as prescient reports on and formal responses to a world suddenly less hospitable to old claims about the novel s value This book brings to light the story of the novel s perceived decline and the surprising ways American fiction transformed in its wake

The Complicit Text Ivan Stacy, 2020-12-10 The Complicit Text Failures of Witnessing in Postwar Fiction identifies the causes of complicity in the face of unfolding atrocities by examining the works of Albert Camus Milan Kundera Kazuo Ishiguro W G Sebald Thomas Pynchon and Margaret Atwood Ivan Stacy argues that complicity often stems from narrative failures to bear witness to wrongdoing However literary fiction he contends can at once embody and examine forms of complicity on three different levels as a theme within literary texts as a narrative form and also as it implicates readers themselves through empathetic engagement with the text Furthermore Stacy questions what forms of non complicit action are possible and explores the potential for productive forms of compromise Stacy discusses both individual dilemmas of complicity in the shadow of World War II and collective complicity in the context of contemporary concerns such as the hegemony of neoliberalism and the climate emergency

Reaping Something New Daniel Hack, 2019-11-12 How African American writers used Victorian literature to create a literature of their own Tackling fraught but fascinating issues of cultural borrowing and appropriation this groundbreaking book reveals that Victorian literature was put to use in African American literature and print culture in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries in much more intricate sustained and imaginative ways than previously suspected From reprinting and reframing The Charge of the Light Brigade in an antislavery newspaper to reimagining David Copperfield and Jane Eyre as mixed race youths in the antebellum South writers and editors transposed and transformed works by the leading British writers of the day to depict the lives of African Americans and advance their causes Central figures in African American literary and intellectual history including Frederick Douglass Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Charles Chesnutt Pauline Hopkins and W E B Du Bois leveraged Victorian literature and this history of engagement itself to claim a distinctive voice and construct their own literary tradition In bringing these transatlantic transfigurations to light this book also provides strikingly new perspectives on both canonical and little read works by Charles Dickens George Eliot Tennyson and other Victorian authors The recovery of these works African American afterlives illuminates their formal practices and ideological commitments and forces a reassessment of their cultural impact and political potential Bridging the gap between African American and Victorian literary studies Reaping Something New changes our understanding of both fields and rewrites an important chapter of literary history

examines how race and racism are discussed in YASF or if indeed race and racism are discussed at all Essays explore such notable and popular works as the Divergent series The Red Queen The Lunar Chronicles and the Infernal Devices trilogy They consider the effects of colorblind ideology and postracialism on YASF a genre that is often seen as progressive in its representation of adolescent protagonists Simply put colorblindness silences those who believe and whose experiences demonstrate that race and racism do continue to matter In examining how some YASF texts normalize many of our social structures and hierarchies this collection examines how race and racism are represented in the genre and considers how hierarchies of race are reinscribed in some texts and transgressed in others Contributors point toward the potential of YASF to address and interrogate racial inequities in the contemporary West and beyond They critique texts that fall short of this possibility and they articulate ways in which readers and critics alike might nonetheless locate diversity within narratives This is a collection troubled by the lingering emphasis on colorblindness in YASF but it is also the work of scholars who love the genre and celebrate its progress toward inclusivity and who further see in it an enduring future for intersectional identity
