Erika Mann in 1939 explores the impact the US and NYC in particular had on these authors as well as the influence they in turn exerted on US intellectual life. Moreover, it addresses the transformations that took place in the exiled intellectuals' thinking when it was translated into another language and addressed to an American audience. Among the individuals presented in this volume are such prominent names as T. W. Adorno, H. Arendt, W. Benjamin, E. Bloch, B. Brecht, S. Kracauer, the Mann family, S. Morgenstern, and E. Panofsky. The authors of the essays in this compendium were free to choose the angle: biography, theory, politics, or aspect of a single work, a personal constellation deemed best to illuminate the given intellectual's work. Acclaimed NYC photographer Fred Stein, a German Jewish refugee from Dresden, produced numerous portraits of exiled intellectuals and artists. A selection of these compelling portraits is reproduced in this book for the first time.

Schoenberg and Hollywood Modernism Kenneth H. Marcus, 2016-01-14 Schoenberg is often viewed as an isolated composer who was ill at ease in exile. In this book, Kenneth H. Marcus shows that in fact Schoenberg's connections to Hollywood ran deep and most of the composer's exile compositions had some connection to the cultural and intellectual environment in which he found himself. He was friends with numerous successful film industry figures, including George Gershwin, Oscar Levant, David Raksin, and Alfred Newman, and each contributed to the composer's life and work in different ways, helping him to obtain students, making recordings of his music, and arranging commissions. While teaching at both the University of Southern California and the University of California, Los Angeles, Schoenberg was able to bridge two utterly different worlds: the film industry and the academy. Marcus shows that alongside Schoenberg's vital impact upon Southern California Modernism through his pedagogy, compositions, and texts, he also taught students who became central to American musical modernism, including John Cage and Lou Harrison.

Multicultural Writers from Antiquity to 1945 Alba Amoia, Bettina L. Knapp, 2001-10-30 The final decades of the 20th century have seen an explosion of interest in multiculturalism. But multiculturalism is more than an awareness of the different cultures comprising contemporary societies. For centuries, people from around the world have come in contact with cultures other than their own, and their exposure to multiple cultures has fostered their creativity and ability to make lasting contributions to civilization. The effects of multiculturalism are especially apparent in literature, since writers tend to be particularly aware of their environments and record their experiences. This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries for more than 100 world writers from antiquity to 1945 who were significantly influenced by cultures other than their own. Included are entries for major canonical Ancient and Modern writers of the Western and Eastern worlds. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography, a discussion of multicultural themes and contexts, a summary of the writer's critical reception, and primary and secondary bibliographies. By illuminating the shaping influence of multiculturalism on these writers, the volume points to the lasting value of multiculturalism in the contemporary world.

The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE This book tells the story of German language literature on film, beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture It explores analyzes and contextualizes the so called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s the impact of sound on adaptation practices the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century many of German cinema s most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts popular plays and even children s literature Not being restricted to German adaptations however this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions liberal economies and capitalist imperatives political agendas the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art Commercial cinema s adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship

The Writers' Castle Uwe Neumahr, 2025-11-04 A gripping new approach to the Nuremberg Trial told through the stories of the many great writers who came to witness it A riveting group portrait that puts these celebrity reporters in the spotlight An engaging blend of gossipy anecdote and precise thought provoking analysis Financial Times Nuremberg 1945 As the trials of Nazi war criminals begin some of the world s most famous writers and reporters gather in the ruined German city Among them are Rebecca West John Dos Passos Martha Gellhorn Erika Mann and Janet Flanner Crammed together in the press camp at Schloss Faber Castell where reporters sleep ten to a room and complain about the food and argue in the lively bar they each try to find words for the unprecedented events they are witnessing Here tensions simmer between Soviet and Western journalists unlikely affairs begin stories are falsified and fabricated and each reporter is forever changed by what they experience As Uwe Neumahr builds an engrossing group portrait of the literary luminaries at Nuremberg readers are taken to the heart of the political and cultural conflicts of the time observing history at the very moment it was being written Providing fascinating accounts of his subjects experiences at Nuremberg Neumahr shows how those experiences marked their future lives as well as their approaches to writing What emerges is both a multi faceted depiction of the trials as a unique mass media event but also as a public reckoning with evil that had untold private reverberations for all who witnessed it
