Erlebte Und Erzaahlte Lebensgeschichte Gestalt Und Struktur Biographischer Selbstbeschreibungen:

Erlebte und erzählte Lebensgeschichte Gabriele Rosenthal, 2024-03-06 Wie stellen Menschen die Ereignisse in ihrer Lebensgeschichte und der Geschichte ihrer Familie n dar wenn sie davon erz hlen Wie stehen das Erz hlen und das Erleben in der Gegenwart im Zusammenhang mit dem Erleben und dem Erz hlen in der Vergangenheit Dieses Buch beantwortet diese Fragen mit einer theoretisch empirischen Untersuchung der gegenseitigen Wechselwirkungen von Erinnern Erleben und der Pr sentation des Erlebten zu verschiedenen Zeitpunkten eines Lebensverlaufs und der damit zusammenh ngenden Verl ufe der Kollektivgeschichten Die Autorin greift in dieser mittlerweile klassischen Studie vor allem Ans tze der Ph nomenologie sowie der Gestalttheorie auf und in der Zeit seit der 1 Auflage 1995 zunehmend auch der Figurationssoziologie nach Norbert Elias Die Neuausgabe enth lt daher eine neue Einleitung und ein zus tzliches Kapitel zu dieser sp teren Erweiterung ihres Ansatzes einer soziologischen Biographieforschung Experienced Life and Narrated Life Story

Gabriele Rosenthal, 2024-04-10 How do people narrate events in their life story and in the history of their family or families when making a self presentation How are narratives and experiences in the present related to experiences and narratives in the past This book answers these questions with a theoretical and empirical study of the interconnections between remembering experiencing and presenting what was experienced at different points of the life course and of the associated collective histories It also discusses rules for conducting interviews that support processes of remembering and for carrying out an analysis that does justice to this dialectic The author exploits ideas from phenomenology and Gestalt theory in this book which has become a classic Since its first publication in 1995 she has increasingly taken inspiration from the figurational sociology of Norbert Elias Accordingly this English edition contains a new introduction and a new chapter on this later expansion of her approach to sociological biographical research Broken Spirits John P. Wilson, Boris

Drozdek, 2004-10-01 Mental health problems among asylum seekers and refugees are becoming a public issue but awareness of this problem among the mental health community is relatively low Although advances have been made in the provision of innovative mental health services for asylum seekers and refugees with PTSD they are not systemized and not widely known to professionals in the field A publication offering practical guidelines for the treatment of torture victims and political refugees does not exist Broken Spirits aims to bring together the works of the most respected mental health professionals from the U S and abroad and make available the most current knowledge on complex PTSD forced migration and cultural sensitivity in diagnosis and treatment Club Cultures Silvia Rief, 2011-04-27 This book explores contemporary club and dance cultures as a manifestation of aesthetic and prosthetic forms of life Rief addresses the questions of how practices of clubbing help cultivate particular forms of reflexivity and modes of experience and how these shape new devices for reconfiguring the boundaries around youth cultural and other social identities She contributes empirical analyses of how such forms of experience are mediated by the particular structures of night clubbing economies the organizational regulation and the local organization of experience in club spaces the media discourses and imageries the technologies intervening into the sense system of the body e.g. music, visuals, drugs and the academic discourses on dance culture. Although the book draws from local club scenes in London and elsewhere in the UK, it also reflects on similarities and differences between nightclubbing cultures across geographical contexts.

Memory and World War II Francesca Cappelletto, 2005-08-01 Foreword by Michael Lambek. The death and destruction of war leave behind scars and fears that can last for generations. This book considers the connections between memory and violence in the wake of World War II. Covering the range of European experiences from East to West, Memory and World War II takes a long-term approach to the study of trauma at the local level. It challenges the notion of collective memory and calls for an understanding of memory as a fine line between the individual and society, the private and the public. International contributors from a range of disciplines seek new ways to incorporate local memory within national history and consider whether memories of extreme violence can be socially transformed. Personal testimony reveals the myriad ways in which communities react to and reconstruct the horrors of war. What we learn is that terrifying experiences reside not only in memories of the past but remain embedded in present-day lives.

Fluctuating Transnationalism Astghik Chaloyan, 2017-06-28. This book concerns various modes of being transnational among a diasporic population: Armenians in Germany, by drawing parallels between the first and second generation migrants. It puts forth the questions as to whether or not, and which kind of transactional activity, ties practices survive over generations and to what extent transnational engagements influence self-identification and the sense of belonging. It also examines how various modes of transnationalism in turn impact the sense of belonging. The book fleshes out new perspectives and interpretations of transnationalism by revealing specific aspects of border-spanning ties and by showing that connections to the country of origin do not necessarily need to be sustained or intensive in order to survive. They can instead fluctuate depending on various factors but still have the right to be called transnational.

Growing Up in Hitler's Shadow Kimberly A. Redding, 2004-07-30. Drawing on oral narratives and archival sources gathered in Berlin, this study explores how some 35 Berliners have woven personal memories, their city's divided past and their nation's complex historical legacy into cohesive life narratives and collective identities. Redding argues that daily experience during the final years of World War II inadvertently prepared German youth for defeat and occupation. While postwar officials lamented youth's apparent apathy, young Berliners were in fact applying lessons in pragmatism and self-reliance learned as National Socialist society crumbled in 1944 and 1945. Although competing political forces strove to rapidly remobilize German youth, young Berliners took advantage of destabilized sociopolitical structures in their war-torn city to assert autonomy and pursue personal initiatives. Their retrospective narratives reveal creative efforts to claim for themselves the normal pleasures of modern youth in the midst of rubble. These accounts also demonstrate how Cold War ideologies and loyalties have informed memories of daily life in Allied-occupied Berlin. In a broader sense, the study sheds new light on the collective experiences, memories, and self-perceptions of a generation of Germans who grew up in a world defined by World War II and Allied occupation rebuilt their devastated society under Cold War parameters and eventually negotiated the unification of the two successor states

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Oral History and Photography A. Freund, A. Thomson, 2011-10-24 This book collects original research essays to explore the diverse uses of photographs and photography in oral history from the use of photos as memory triggers to their deployment in the telling of life stories The book's contributors include both oral historians and photography scholars and critics

The New Maids Professor Helma Lutz, 2011-08-11 The New Maids is a pioneering book grounded on rich empirical evidence which examines the relationship between globalization transnationalism gender and the care economy Expertly addressing the thorny questions that surround the increasing number of migrant domestic workers and cleaners child carers and caregivers who maintain modern Western households the author argues that domestic work plays the defining role in global ethnic and gender hierarchies Using a central ethnographic study of immigrant domestic workers and their German employees as its starting point The New Maids uses the voices of such women themselves to provide unique conceptual and evidential support for this vital new approach argument This exciting book will not only enhance the reader's understanding of the new care economy it also sets standards for feminist global methodology

Lebanese in Motion Anja Peleikis, 2015-07-15 Globalisation and transnational migration have altered people's understanding of as well as their relationship to their dwelling places and places of origin Taking the empirical case of the South Lebanese Shi'ite village of Zrariye and its migrant population in Abidjan Cote d'Ivoire the book shows how place which has become a vital political economic and social resource continues to be of tremendous significance in the age of mobility and change Lebanese in Motion explores how villagers at home and abroad are involved in producing a translocal village in the making which emanates as a social field through their practices and narratives Travel and the means of communication make it possible to keep in constant touch and thus renegotiate kinship generational and gender relationships beyond local regional and nation state boundaries Particularly interested in understanding how female identities are redefined the study delineates how gender and place are mutually constituted in the translocal village under study

Globalization of an Educational Idea Ingrid Miethe,Tim Kaiser,Tobias Kriele,Alexandra Piepiorka,2019-07-22 In this book authors showcase the worldwide spread of Workers Faculties as an example of both cooperation between socialist countries in education and globalization processes in the field of education Based on extensive research carried out in Cuban German Mozambican and Vietnamese archives as well as expert interviews it combines detailed case studies of educational transfers and policy implementation with a discussion of theoretical approaches to the study of globalization in and of education Research on Workers Faculties provides an especially interesting example for the study of educational transfer between socialist countries as well as for the interplay of such transfers with processes of globalisation for two reasons On one hand the first Workers Faculties were established already shortly after the October Revolution in Russia and Workers Faculties continue to exist in Cuba until today A study of these institutions therefore provides a dynamic perspective covering the whole period of the existence of the socialist camp On the other hand the spread of the Workers Faculty idea to four continents allows for an analysis that takes into account widely differing local contexts This book offers an analysis of general trends and particularities in the history of the global spread of the Workers Faculty idea and its implementation in local contexts Finally it discusses the results with a view towards theories of globalization in the field of education as well as of specificities of processes of socialist globalization

The Evolution of European Identities Graham Day,Robert Miller,2012-06-29 The European project is in a state of perpetual crisis in which the root cause is a lack of identification by ordinary citizens with Europe and European institutions The Evolution of European Identities employs state of the art analysis of in depth interviews by renowned practitioners to give a unique bottoms up perspective on the development or its lack of a sense of European mental space Linking conceptual findings with case studies the book provides unique insights into groups that have been especially sensitized by their life experiences to question what it means to be European in the twenty first century The groups explored in this book include adults who experienced European education exchanges when young transnational workers civil society organization activists persons involved in cross border intimate relationships farmers who are subject to European markets regulations and subsidies and migrants into fortress Europe

Contested Public Spheres Anna Spiegel,2010-06-07 1 1 Researching the global everyday of women activists 1 1 Researching the global everyday of women activists Experiencing and doing globalisation Going through the broad spectrum of globalisation research and literature one might be astonished at how much it assumes the force of global change and how little of this literature demonstrates this force in an empirically grounded way This study being based on six months of empirical research in Malaysia in 2004 sets out to counter this lack of thick description of globalisation processes It takes up the challenge of researching the global everyday Appadurai 2000 18 of civil society actors in Malaysia and focuses on how social activists belonging to different branches of the women s movement selectively appropriate transform and even create global meanings and materialise them in local practices The methodological endeavour of combining globalisation research and ethnography has been taken up by a diversity of authors Burawoy and his research team have developed a complex methodological framework by focusing on the experiential dimensions of globalisation They want to produce a grounded globalisation or perspectives on globalisations from below Burawoy 2000b 338 341 This perspective is very fruitful as the notion of experiencing globalisation as forces connections and imaginations Burawoy et al eds 2000 relocates the global in the local and ties both together in mutual constitution

Shared Languages, Shared Identities, Shared Stories Doris Schüpbach, 2008 This book explores how 15 immigrants from German speaking Switzerland in Australia make sense of their migratory experience of building a new life in a different language It does so by examining their written and oral life stories The analysis takes two complementary perspectives Firstly the construction of language identities is studied through the language practices and attitudes discussed and displayed by the participants Secondly the ways in which they create coherence in their life stories focuses on autobiographical identities where language is a medium of sense making across their life course The combined perspectives highlight the diversity among the participants and the complexities of language and identity construction in the context of migration

The Narrative Study of Lives Ruthellen Josselson, Amia Lieblich, 1997-05-31 The narrative approach is a relevant and enriching technique for uncovering describing and interpreting the meaning of experience This collection explores the challenges of performing narrative work in an academic setting writing about it in an ethical and revealing fashion and drawing meaningful conclusions This stellar collection of scholars examine such topics as how the larger construct of personality can be read out of life story life narratives of reform i e the transition away from delinquent behavior the importance of cultural continuity for understanding loneliness in elderly refugees race relations and how it relates to the meaning of the decade in which the interviewees came of age the experience and meaning of resilience among survivors of childhood sexual abuse and the use of narrative work as an additional approach within a larger quantitative research project Amia Lieblich and Ruthellen Josselson provide insight into how the narrative approach enriches the study of the rare the unusual the common and the prevalent always searching for meaning in people s lives

Poverty, Crisis and Resilience Marie Boost, Jennifer Dagg, Jane Gray, Markus Promberger, 2020-12-25 Poverty remains a problem in Europe raising the need for new solutions In this thought provoking book the contributors delve deeply into the everyday lives of poor households to see which practices and resources they apply to improve their situations One of the book s key findings is that social resilience requires a functioning welfare state operating at an increased level In addition to sufficient welfare transfers there is a need for low commodified common goods to be made available not only for the

registered poor but all low income households The AIDS Crisis and the Modern Self S. Rinken, 2013-04-17 In industrialized countries HIV AIDS is now increasingly perceived as a chronic condition Yet initially before combination therapy became available this pandemic was widely associated with premature or even imminent death Receiving the diagnosis typically led to a dramatic biographical disruption This highly original book turns this basic feature of life with HIV into the vantage point for a fascinating analysis of Western subjectivity Combining a host of empirical observations with the debate on the modern self the author argues that the self construction of people with HIV highlights the precarious yet indispensable status of the self in contemporary Western society Constructing one's biography in terms of self actualization is in fact a manifestation of nihilism it evokes a standard of certainty which on closer examination cannot be sustained Written in a lucid style this unique book will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of sociology social psychology social anthropology social theory and philosophy as well as anybody interested in the relationship between the self and society or the experience of living with HIV AIDS German Migrants in Post-War Britain Dr Inge Weber-Newth, Johannes-Dieter Steinert, 2006-03-29 Both timely and topical with 2005 marking the 60th anniversary of the end of the Second World War this unique book examines the little known and under researched area of German migration to Britain in the immediate post war era Authors Weber Newth and Steinert analyze the political framework of post war immigration and immigrant policy and the complex decision making processes that led to large scale labour migration from the continent They consider identity perception of self and others stereotypes and prejudice how migrants dealt with language and intercultural issues migrants attitudes towards national socialist and contemporary Germany migrants motivation for leaving Germany migrants initial experiences and their reception in Britain after the war as recalled after 50 years in the host country compared to their original expectations Based on rich British and German governmental and non governmental archive sources contemporary newspaper articles and nearly eighty biographically oriented interviews with German migrants this outstanding volume a must read for students and scholars in the fields of social history sociology and migration studies expertly encompasses political as well as social historical questions and engages with the social economic and cultural situation of German immigrants to Britain from a life historical perspective Transfers of Belonging Erdmute Alber, 2018-04-10 In Transfers of Belonging Erdmute Alber traces the history of child fostering in northern Benin from the pre colonial past to the present by pointing out the embeddedness of child foster practices and norms in a wider political process of change Child fostering was for a long time not just one way of raising children but seen as the appropriate way of doing so This changed profoundly with the arrival of European ideas about birth parents being the right parents but also with the introduction of schooling and the differentiation of life chances Besides providing deep historical and ethnographical insights Transfers of Belonging offers a new theoretical frame for conceptualizing parenting
