Head Hunters Of Papua:

The Last Head Hunters Evan J. Haines, 2024 Derrick Marsh and his partner Karrie are anthropologists conducting fieldwork with one of the last headhunting tribes in Papua New Guinea They disappear when a civil war breaks out in the tribal highlands and are presumed dead Years pass and everyone is stunned when Derrick miraculously returns home alive but alone and he is no longer the same man he was all those years earlier Derrick is now armed with the skills and knowledge from living with the last of the Papuan head hunters Upon his arrival he wastes no time in putting these skills to use with drastic and horrific consequences Notions of good and evil quickly blur as Derrick is tested to make the right choices and to find the truth about New Guinea But is Derrick really seeking the truth or just revenge against those who left him for dead back cover

Watriama and Co Hugh Laracy, 2013-10-01 WATRIAMA AND CO the title echoes Kipling's STALKY AND CO is a collection of biographical essays about people associated with the Pacific Islands. It covers a period of almost a century and a half. However, the individual stories of first-hand experience converge to some extent in various ways so as to present a broadly coherent picture of Pacific History. In this, politics, economics, and religion overlap. So too do indigenous cultures and concerns together with the activities and interests of the Europeans who ventured into the Pacific and who had a profound widespread and enduring impact there from the nineteenth century and who also prompted reactions from the Island peoples. Not least significant in this process is the fact that the Europeans generated a paper trail through which their stories and those of the Islanders who also contributed to their written record can be known. Thus not only are the subjects of the essays to be encountered personally and within a contextual kinship but the way in which the past has shaped the future is clearly discernible. Watriama himself features in various historical narratives. So too certain of his confreres in this collection which is the product of several decades of exploring the Pacific past in archives by sea and on foot through most of Oceania.
