Thornbush, 2020-04-27 his interdisciplinary reference work presents a linked consideration to the reader of physical cultural physiocultural representations of headstones located in urban churchyards in England and Scotland The geomorphology of landscapes relevant to these locations is explained with the help of detailed case studies from Oxford and Edinburgh The integrated physiocultural approach addresses the conservation of the archaeological record and presents a cross temporal perspective of landscape change of the headstones as landforms in their landscape as part of deathscapes The physical record of headstones is examined in the context of both cultural representation and change In this way an integrated approach is employed that connects the physical natural and cultural social records kept by historians and archeologists over the years Changing Landscapes in Urban British Churchyards is of interest to geomorphologists historians and scholars interested in understanding landscaping studies and cultural nuance of specific historical urban sites in England and Scotland
