Refusing to Be Made Whole Anna LaQuawn Hinton, 2025-03-17 In Refusing to Be Made Whole Disability in Black Women s Writing author Anna LaQuawn Hinton examines how contemporary Black women writers present becoming disabled as a traumatic and violent experience of Black womanhood Nevertheless Black women embrace disabled Black womanhood by turning to Africanist spiritual understandings of wholeness which view debilitating injury and illness as not only physical but also spiritual not just an individual problem but a symptom of discord in the community Black women use these belief systems to reimagine healing in ways that make space for a variety of bodymindspirits Hinton maintains that this is not only a major theme in contemporary Black women s writing but that it also shapes the formal elements characteristic of the Black women s literary tradition Refusing to Be Made Whole analyzes texts published after the civil rights movements of the 1950s and 1960s focusing particularly on the late 1970s onward when Black women s writing flourished Through the lens of writings by authors such as Toni Cade Bambara Gayl Jones Gloria Naylor Ntozake Shange Audre Lorde Alice Walker Toni Morrison Octavia Butler Sapphire and Sarah E Wright Hinton addresses prominent critical discourses within Black feminist literary studies Hinton approaches the intersections of Africanist spirituality race gender class and disability conversations about representation community motherhood and sexuality through a Black feminist disability studies framework Refusing to Be Made Whole embraces the complex and multifaceted nature of Black women s writing arguing that through this collision of race gender and spirituality Black women writers speak healing and wellness into their readers lives and their own

Eva's Man Gayl Jones, 2020-10-20 The Best American Novelist Whose Name You May Not Know Calvin Baker The Atlantic A literary giant and one of my absolute favourite writers TAYARI JONES author of AN AMERICAN MARRIAGE An American writer with a powerful sense of vital inheritance of history in the blood John Updike The New Yorker Eva s Man is a gripping psychological portrait of a woman unable to love for fear of pain Imprisoned for the bizarre murder of her lover Eva Median Canada weaves together memory and fantasy to reveal a life tormented by the brutality of sexual abuse and emotional silence Brilliantly experimenting with language Jones infuses her graphic and powerful narrative of the triple yoke of race class and gender with a rich musical and oral idiom Bodies in a Broken World Ann Folwell Stanford,2004-07-21 In this multidisciplinary study Ann Folwell Stanford reads literature written by U S women of color to propose a rethinking of modern medical practice arguing that personal health and social justice are inextricably linked Drawing on feminist ethics to explore the work of eleven novelists Stanford challenges medicine to position itself more deeply within the communities it serves especially the poor and marginalized However she also argues that medicine must recognize its limits and join forces with the nonmedical community in the struggle for social justice In literary representations of physical and emotional states of illness and health Stanford identifies issues related to public health medical ethics institutionalized racism women s health domestic abuse and social justice that are important to discussions about how to improve health and health care She argues that in either direct or indirect ways the eleven novelists considered here push us to see health not only as an individual condition but also as a complex network of individual institutional and social changes in which wellness can be a possibility for the majority rather than a privileged few The novelists whose works are discussed are Toni Cade Bambara Paule Marshall Gloria Naylor Leslie Marmon Silko Toni Morrison Louise Erdrich Sandra Cisneros Bebe Moore Campbell Sapphire Ana Castillo and Octavia Butler Domestic Abuse in the Novels of African American Women Heather Duerre Humann,2014-05-23 The literary tradition begun by Zora Neale Hurston in the 1930s has since flourished and taken new directions with a diverse body of fiction by more contemporary African American women writers This book examines the treatment of domestic violence in Hurston s Their Eyes Were Watching God Gayl Jones s Corregidora Gloria Naylor s The Women of Brewster Place and Linden Hills Alice Walker s The Color Purple Toni Morrison s The Bluest Eye and Love Terry McMillan s Mama and A Day Late and a Dollar Short and Octavia Butler s Seed to Harvest These novels have given voice to oppressed and abused women The aims of this work are threefold to examine how female African American novelists portray domestic abuse to outline how literary depictions of domestic violence are responsive to cultural and historical forces and to explore the literary tradition of novels that deal with domestic abuse within the African American community Song for Almeyda and Song for Anninho Gayl Jones,2022-04-05 Jones s great achievement is to reckon with both history and interiority and to collapse the boundary between them Anna Wiener The New Yorker From the highly acclaimed author of Corregidora and The Healing two epic poems the love songs of fugitive slaves set in 17th century Brazil continuing the unforgettable journey told in Gayl Jones s masterwork Palmares 2021 Gayl Jones the novelist Toni Morrison discovered decades ago and Tayari Jones recently called her favorite writer offers 2 books in one with this volume of poetry Jones renders the saga of Palmares a foundational tale in the annals of colonial terrorism and Black resistance in verse told in the voices of the characters in her epic novel Palmares

In the late 17th century the fugitive slave enclave of Palmares was destroyed by Portuguese colonists. Amid the flight and re-enslavement of Palmares's inhabitants emerges the love story of Almeyda and Anninho. In Song for Anninho, Almeyda moves between a dark present in which she is once again enslaved and abused by a terrible captor and memories of her lover Anninho, whom she believes to have been killed. Song for Almeyda, released now for the first time, is told in the voices of Anninho and his fellow warriors. Fans of Corregidora, one of the New Yorker's Best Books We Read in 2020, will appreciate these verses brimming with intimacy, history, and revolution. The poems collected serve as a declaration of decolonial love. Ride Out the Wilderness Melvin Dixon, 1987. Often considered alienated from mainstream culture and consigned to negative environments, Afro-American writers have created alternative spatial and geographical metaphors to develop a positive sense of individual and cultural identity. Melvin Dixon demonstrates how three principal figures of the land—the wilderness, the underground, and the mountaintop—have become places of refuge and cultural revitalization for the performance of identity from early slave songs and fugitive narratives to modern and contemporary fiction. Jacket The Unicorn Woman Gayl Jones, 2024-08-20. FINALIST FOR THE 2025 PULITZER PRIZE IN FICTION. One of our greatest living authors, Lauren LeBlanc, marks a dramatic new direction for Jones with a riveting tale set in the Post-WWII South, narrated by a Black soldier who returns to Jim Crow and searches for a mythical ideal. Set in the early 1950s, this latest novel from Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award finalist Gayl Jones follows the witty but perplexing army veteran Buddy Ray Guy as he embodies the fate of Black soldiers who return not in glory but into their Jim Crow communities. A cook and tractor repairman, Buddy was known as Budweiser to his army pals because he's a wise guy. But underneath that surface, he is a true self-educated intellectual and a classic seeker looking for religion, looking for meaning, looking for love. As he moves around the South from his hometown of Lexington, Kentucky, primarily to his second home of Memphis, Tennessee, he recalls his love affairs in post-war France and encounters with a variety of colorful characters and mythical prototypes: circus barkers, topiary trimmers, landladies who provide shelter and plenty of advice for their all-Black clientele, proto-feminists, and bigots. The lead among these characters is, of course, The Unicorn Woman, who exists but mostly lives in Bud's private mythology. Jones offers a rich, intriguing exploration of Black and Indigenous people in a time and place of frustration, disappointment, and spiritual hope. The Plantation in the Postslavery Imagination Elizabeth Christine Russ, 2009-11-05. In a provocative new approach toward understanding transnational literary cultures, this study examines the specter of the plantation, that physical place most vividly associated with slavery in the Americas. For Elizabeth Russ, the plantation is not merely a literal location but also a vexing rhetorical, ideological, and psychological trope through which intersecting histories of the New World are told. Through a series of precise, in-depth readings, Russ analyzes the discourse of the plantation through a number of suggestive pairings: male and female perspectives, U.S. and Spanish American traditions and continental alongside island societies. To chart comparative elements in the development of the postslavery imagination in the Northern and Southern hemispheres Russ distinguishes between a modern and a postmodern imaginary The former privileges a familiar plot of modernity the traumatic transition from a local largely agrarian order to an increasingly anonymous industrialized society The latter abandoning nostalgia toward the past suggests a new history using the strategies of performance such as witnessing reticency and traversal Authors examined include The Twelve Southerners Fernando Ortiz Teresa de la Parra Eudora Welty Antonio Benítez Rojo Gayl Jones Toni Morrison and Mayra Santos Febres among others Applying sharp analyses across a broad range of texts Russ reveals how the language used to imagine communities influenced by the plantation has been gendered racialized and eroticized in ways that oppose the domination of an ever shifting North while often reproducing the fundamental power divide Her work moves beyond the North South dichotomy that has often stymied scholarly work in Latin American studies and importantly provides a model for future hemispheric approaches

Theory of Racelessness Sheena Michele Mason, 2022-05-27 This book presents a skeptical eliminativist philosophy of race and the theory of racelessness a methodological and pedagogical framework for analyzing race and racism It explores the history of skeptical eliminativism and constructionist eliminativism within the history of African American philosophy and literary studies and its consistent connection with movements for civil rights Sheena M Mason considers how current anti racist efforts reflect naturalist conservationist and constructionist reconstructionist philosophies of race that prevent more people from fully confronting the problem of racism not race thereby enabling racism to persist She then offers a three part solution for how scholars and people aspiring toward anti racism can avoid unintentionally upholding racism using literary studies as a case study to show how race often translates into racism itself The theory of racelessness helps more people undo racism by undoing the belief in race
