

"I am in awe of how one small book can hold so much wisdom."

REFLECTIONS ON SELF-HEALING
FROM THE LIVING WORLD

The background of the book cover is a detailed landscape painting. It depicts a lush green valley with a winding river in the foreground. Several tall, dark evergreen trees stand prominently, their forms reflected in the water. In the distance, rolling hills and mountains are visible under a soft, hazy sky. A rustic stone wall runs across the middle ground, adding a sense of place and history to the scene. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative, reflecting the book's theme of self-healing through nature.

Discovering the Bible in the Non-Biblical World Pui-Lan Kwok, 2003-09-16 As a Chinese woman a feminist theologian and a biblical scholar Pui lan Kwok brings a new perspective and voice to the task of hermeneutics Her multidimensional reading of the Bible draws on a tradition much older than that of the West while it simultaneously incorporates the insights of contemporary feminist and Third World theologies. Seeing herself as a wanderer between the worlds of East and West, Pui-lan Kwok draws on the work of contemporary biblical scholars as well as the millennia-old commentaries on the Book of Change, the Dao de Jing, and the Bhagavad Gita. Her creativity and imagination come into play as she gradually inseparably links reader, text, and context. The first three chapters locate the context from which she approaches the Bible as an Asian woman. Pui-lan considers Asian traditions as well as the social biography of Asian peoples and discusses the complex issues of using the Bible in feminist theology. Chapters Four and Five approach the unique Asian context with its long traditions of orality and exegesis of ancient scriptures. Chapter Six analyzes the challenges of Asian critics to western interpretations of scripture and raises sharp issues of colonial oppression. Finally, Discovering the Bible in the Non-Biblical World shows how the multiple oppressions of women provide a context for rediscovering the Bible's liberating message. Must reading for anyone engaged in biblical studies, cross-cultural education, and feminist theology. I highly recommend this richly instructive and powerful book.

Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza, Harvard Divinity School. An important addition to the fast-growing literature on Asian biblical discourse. R. S. Sugirtharajah, University of Birmingham. A significant contribution to the hermeneutical conversation arising from the global context of reading of the Bible. Sharon H. Hinge, Wesley Theological Seminary.

Connections: Year B, Volume 3 Joel B. Green, Thomas G. Long, Luke A. Powery, Cynthia L. Rigby, Carolyn J. Sharp, 2021-04-20. Designed to empower preachers as they lead their congregations to connect their lives to Scripture, Connections features a broad set of interpretive tools that provide commentary and worship aids on the Revised Common Lectionary. This nine-volume series offers creative commentary on each reading through the lens of its connections to the rest of Scripture and then seeing the reading through the lenses of culture, film, fiction, ethics, and other aspects of contemporary life. Commentaries on the Psalms make connections to other readings and to the congregation's experience of worship. Connections is published in partnership with Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

An Issue of Relevance Grant LeMarquand, 2004. As the center of the Christian world has migrated south, especially into Sub-Saharan Africa, a growing and dynamic African biblical scholarship has emerged. Prominent among the texts that have grabbed the interest of African biblical scholars is the gospel story of the woman with the flow of blood, Mark 5:25-34, Matthew 9:20-22, Luke 8:43-48. This book compares traditional North Atlantic scholarship on this gospel story with the new insights of African biblical studies in order to test the contention that these two versions of biblical scholarship are substantially different. In particular, this book argues that scholarships in the North Atlantic and African worlds differ in their conceptions of the goal of exegesis. For African scholars, practical hermeneutical concerns are considered central to the exegetical task.
