The Descendants of Thomas & Rose Ann Mould of Peterborough, England Joan Bolton; Richard Klapper, 2010-10-04 This book tells the story of Thomas and Rose Ann Mould who lived in the hamlet of Gunthorpe near Peterborough England in the latter half of the 19th century It traces their ancestry and the history of their children grandchildren and all their descendants in countries as far apart as the United States England and New Zealand Family pictures and photographs of grave headstones complement the narrative and further documentation is provided by complete sets of family trees and a genealogy report Also included is arrival information for those descendants who emigrated to the United States Many initially settled in Aberdeen South Dakota though some later moved west to the San Diego area of California where many of them are buried Others headed for Perkins County South Dakota an extremely remote area of the United States and their harsh living conditions are described and documented

Sit Down and Cheer Martin Kelner, 2012-09-27 Television and sport is the ultimate marriage of convenience The two circled each other warily for a while sport anxious the sofa bound might spurn the live product TV reluctant in a limited channel world to hand over too much screen time to flannelled fools and muddled oafs But they got together and stayed together for the sake of the money and now you cannot imagine one without the other They are indivisible like an old couple sitting in a teashop finishing each other's sentences and there is little doubt which is the dominant partner You have only to think of the recent sports stars who have left their muddy fields to don sequins grab partners and tango their way across the stage in ultimate Saturday night television style to see how far the two have come on their journey together In Sit Down and Cheer Martin Kelner traces the development of this relationship from its humble origins in the 1960 Olympics by way of the first ever Match of the Day in 1964 through to the financial impact of Sky right up to the high tech gadgetry of our present day viewing Insightful and very funny this is an entertaining exploration of two major national pastimes and not to be missed

Everywhere We Went Ben Dirs, 2011-11-10 Boxing Day Melbourne 2010 a packed house of over 80 000 sits down to watch the crucial fourth Test unfold Three days later only 12 000 remain and it's just the Barmy Army celebrating as England retain the Ashes They run through their full repertoire of songs cheering on England's success Meanwhile the England players salute those who have made the effort to be there spending thousands of pounds to support their side inspiring them to another great victory What was it like to be there How did it come to pass that thousands gathered together Who is the trumpeter Who came up with the songs What else do the Barmy Army get up to when the cricket finishes This book answers all those questions and many more providing a brilliant and hilarious insight to life on tour with the Barmy Army For those who were there it will bring back a flood of memories For those who weren't this book will show you what you missed and why you need to join in next time to have the time of your life
