The Semantics of Nouns Zhengdao Ye, 2017-04-14 This volume brings together the latest research on the semantics of nouns in both familiar and less well documented languages including English Mandarin Chinese Russian the Papuan language Koromu the Dravidian language Solega and Pitjantjatjara Yankunytjatjara from Australia Chapters offer systematic and detailed analyses of scores of individual nouns across a range of conceptual domains including people places and living things with each analysis fully grounded in a unified methodological framework They not only cover central theoretical issues specific to the analysis of the domain in question but also empirically investigate the different types of meaning relations that hold between nouns such as meronymy hyponymy taxonomy and antonymy The collection of studies show how in depth meaning analysis anchored in a cross linguistic and cross domain perspective can lead to unexpected insights into the common and particular ways in which speakers of different languages conceptualize categorize and order the world around them This unique volume brings together a new generation of semanticists from across the globe and will be of interest to researchers in linguistics psychology anthropology biology and philosophy The Oxford Handbook of the Victorian

Novel Lisa Rodensky, 2013-07-11 The Oxford Handbook of the Victorian Novel contributes substantially to a thriving scholarly field by offering new approaches to familiar topics as well as essays on topics often overlooked Britain and Japan Hugh Cortazzi, 2025-10-01 Published in association with the Japan Society and containing 57 essays this ninth volume in the series continues to celebrate the life and work of the men and women both British and Japanese who over time played an interesting and significant role in a wide variety of different spheres relating to the history of Anglo Japanese relations and deserve to be recorded and remembered Read together they give a picture even if inevitably a partial one of important facets of modern history and Anglo Japanese institutions They shed light on a number of controversial issues as well as illuminate past successes and failures Structured thematically in four Parts Japan in Britain Britain in Japan Scholars and Writers Politicians and Officials the highlights in this volume include The Great Japan Exhibition 1981 82 Japanese Gardens and the Japanese Garden Society in the UK Cricket in Late Edo and Meiji Japan Norman Macrae pioneering journalist of The Economist Arthur Balfour managing the emergence of Japan as a Great Power Michio Morishima an economist made in Japan Margaret Thatcher a pragmatist who radically improved Britain's image in Japan Encounters: The Creation of New Zealand Paul Moon, 2013-07-24 Throughout its human history New Zealand has been interpreted and experienced in often radically different ways Each wave of arrivals to its shores has left its own set of views of New Zealand on the country applying a new coat of mythology and understanding to the landscape usually without fully removing the one that lies beneath it Encounters is the wide ranging audacious and gripping story of New Zealand s changing national identity how it has emerged and evolved through generations In this genre busting book historian Paul Moon delves into how the many and conflicting ideas about New Zealand came into being Along the way he explores forgotten crevices of the nation s character and exposes some of the mythology of its past and present These include for example the earliest Maori myths and the mock sacredness of the All Blacks in the twenty first century the role of nostalgia in our national character both Maori and Pakeha whether the explorer Kupe existed the appeal of the Speight s Southern Man and ruminations on New Zealand art and landscape What results is an absorbing piece of scholarship an imaginative and exuberant epic that will challenge preconceptions about what it means to be a New Zealander and how our country is understood Lyrical breathtaking and provocative and illustrated with artworks throughout Encounters offers an extraordinary insight into the beginnings of our country

British Women and Cultural Practices of Empire, 1770-1940 Rosie Dias,Kate Smith,2018-10-04

Correspondence travel writing diary writing painting scrapbooking curating collecting and house interiors allowed British women scope to express their responses to imperial sites and experiences in the 18th 19th and 20th centuries Taking these productions as its archive British Women and Cultural Practices of Empire 1775 1930 includes a collection of essays from different disciplines that consider the role of British women s cultural practices and productions in conceptualising empire While such productions have started to receive greater scholarly attention this volume uses a more self conscious lens of gender to question whether female cultural work demonstrates that colonial women engaged with the spaces and places of empire in distinctive ways By working across disciplines centuries and different colonial geographies the volume makes an exciting and important contribution to the field by demonstrating the diverse ways in which European women shaped constructions of empire in the modern period

"Marketing Art in the British Isles, 1700 to the Present " Charlotte Gould,2017-07-05 A cultural history of the first truly modern art market Marketing Art in the British Isles 1700 to the Present furthers the burgeoning exploration of Britain s struggle to carve a niche for itself on the international art scene Bringing together scholars from the UK US Europe and Asia this collection sheds new light on such crucial notions as the internationalization of the art market the emergence of an increasingly complex exhibition culture issues of national rivalry and emulation artists individual and collective strategies for their own promotion and survival the persistent anti commercialism of an elite group of art lovers and critics and accusations of philistinism levelled at the middle classes as well as an unquestionable native British genius at reconciling jarring discourses Essays explore the unresolved tension between artistic aspirations and commercial interest a tension that has come to shape Britain s national artistic tradition from the perspectives of artists dealers and super collectors and the upwardly mobile middle classes whose consumerism gave rise to the British art market as it is known today Specific case studies include Whistler Roger Fry Damien Hirst and Charles Saatchi

essays consider art markets from London and Manchester to Paris and Flanders Life Writing and the End of Empire Emma Parker, 2024-03-21 The dismantlement of the British Empire had a profound impact on many celebrated white Anglophone writers of the twentieth century particularly those who were raised in former British colonial territories and returned to the metropole after the Second World War Formal decolonisation meant that these authors were unable to go home to their colonial childhoods a historical juncture with profound consequences for how they wrote and recorded their own lives Moving beyond previous discussions of imperial and colonial nostalgia Life Writing and the End of Empire is the first critical study of white memoirists and autobiographers who rewrote their memories of empire across numerous life narratives By focussing on these processual homecomings Emma Parker's study asks what it means to be at home in memories of empire whether in the settler farms of Southern Rhodesia or amidst the neon lights of Shanghai's International Settlement These discussions trace the legacies of empire to the habitations and detritus of everyday life from mansions and modest railway huts to empty swimming pools heirlooms and photograph albums Exploring works by Penelope Lively J G Ballard Doris Lessing and Janet Frame this study establishes new connections between authors usually discussed for their fiction and who have been hitherto unrecognised as post imperial life writers Offering close sustained analysis of autobiographies memoirs travel narratives and autofictions and identifying new subgenres such as speculative life writing this book advances rich new readings of autobiographical narrative By tracing the continuing importance of colonialism to white subjectivity the role of imperial memory in Britain and the ways that these unsettling forces move beneath the surface of modern and contemporary literature this study offers new conceptual insights to the fields of life writing and postcolonial studies

Plants and Gardens as Artefacts in Transcultural Contexts Minna Törmä, 2025-09-30 This edited volume explores the ways in which the object biography or object itinerary approach could be adapted to frame research on animate objects such as plants and gardens in transcultural contexts By treating these animate elements as objects in the manner of artefacts and looking at their individual histories we gain a more nuanced sense of how data accumulated how new knowledge developed through printed texts and specimen collections and how the creators of gardens or landscapes formed their collections Chapters explore the shifts in meanings when objects from diverse origins meet in new cultural contexts where their new owners create assemblages based on their perception of the world The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history material culture and cultural geography

EcoGothic gardens in the long nineteenth century Sue Edney, 2020-11-24 EcoGothic gardens in the long nineteenth century provides fresh approaches to contemporary ecocritical and environmental debates providing new compelling insights into material relationships between vegetal and human beings Through twelve exciting essays the collection demonstrates how unseen but vital relationships among plants and their life systems can reflect and inform human behaviours and actions In these entertaining essays human and vegetal agency is interpreted through ecocritical and ecoGothic investigation of uncanny manifestations in gardens hauntings psychic encounters monstrous hybrids fairies and ghosts with plants greenhouses granges mansions lakes lawns flowerbeds and trees as agents and sites of uncanny developments The collection represents the forefront of ecoGothic critical debate and will be welcomed by specialists in environmental humanities at every level as a timely innovative inclusion in ecoGothic studies The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Victorian Women's Writing Lesa Scholl,Emily Morris,2022-12-15 Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement The Great Tradition Anthony Brundage,Richard A. Cosgrove,2007 This book examines the prominent role played by constitutional history from 1870 to 1960 in the creation of a positive sense of identity for Britain and the United States Turning Gardens in Japan into Japanese Gardens Christian Tagsold,2025-10-01 In the mid nineteenth century as Japan rapidly modernized garden building declined in popularity Only in the late nineteenth century did a new class of political and business leaders revive interest in horticulture seeking garden designs that broke away from established patterns As a result these innovative gardens were largely overlooked by early Japanese garden historians and excluded from the canon they sought to establish In recent years both scholars and the public have begun to reexamine and appreciate these gardens and their creators Now recognized as part of Japan s national heritage these sites are being integrated into the history of Japanese horticulture Christian Tagsold s book examines this rediscovery unraveling the complex dynamics of nature heritage nationhood and modernity in Japan through the lens of these gardens Annotated

Perceptions of Renaissance Architecture Katherine Wheeler,2017-07-05 In the mid 1880s The Builder an influential British architectural journal published an article characterizing Renaissance architecture as a corrupt bastardization of the classical architecture of Greece and Rome By the turn of the century however the same journal praised the Renaissance architect Filippo Brunelleschi as the Christopher Columbus of modern architecture Victorian Perceptions of Renaissance Architecture 1850 1914 examines these conflicting characterizations and reveals how the writing of architectural history was intimately tied to the rise of the professional architect and the formalization of architectural education in late nineteenth century Britain Drawing on a broad range of evidence including literary texts professional journals university curricula and census records Victorian Perceptions reframes works by seminal authors such as John Ruskin Walter Pater John Addington Symonds and Geoffrey Scott alongside those by architect authors such as William J Anderson and Reginald Blomfield within contemporary architectural debates Relevant for architectural historians as well as literary scholars and those in Victorian studies Victorian Perceptions reassesses the history of Renaissance architecture within the formation of a modern British architectural profession

A World of Gardens John Dixon Hunt, 2014-05-14 A Japanese garden is immediately distinct to the eye from the traditional gardens of an English manor house just as the manicured topiaries of Versailles contrast with the sharp cacti of the American Southwest Though gardening is beloved the world over the style of gardens themselves varies from region to region determined as much by culture as climate In this series of illustrated essays John Dixon Hunt takes us on a world tour of different periods in the making of gardens Hunt shows here how cultural assumptions and local geography have shaped gardens and their meaning He explores our continuing responses to land and reworkings of the natural world encompassing a broad range of gardens from ancient Roman times to early Islamic and Mughal gardens from Chinese and Japanese gardens to the invention of the public park and modern landscape architecture A World of Gardens looks at key chapters in garden history reviewing their significance past and present and tracing the recurrence of different themes and motifs in the design and reception of gardens throughout the world A World of Gardens celebrates the idea that similar experiences of gardens can be found in many different times and places including sacred landscapes scientific gardens urban gardens secluded gardens and symbolic gardens Featuring two hundred images this book is a treasure trove of ideas and inspiration whether your garden is a window box a secluded backyard or a daydream
