The English Heritage: To 1714 Frederic A. Youngs, Henry Leonard Snyder, Earl Aaron Reitan, 1988-01 The English Heritage Frederic A. Youngs, Jr., Roger B. Manning, Henry L. Snyder, E. A. Reitan, 1999-05-12 The English Heritage Third Edition is a compact yet complete introduction to British history in two volumes This comprehensive text reflects the authors belief that a concise and accessible analysis best serves both the student and instructor With new material on Tudor Elizabethan and Stuart England revisions throughout reflect the latest scholarship giving more attention to women and social history Volume One covers the earliest Britons to 1714 Volume Two covers 1689 to the Present Northwold Manor Reborn Warwick Rodwell, 2024-08-15 Presents a fascinating superbly illustrated account by one of the UK's leading architectural historians of the history dereliction and restoration of a complex originally Tudor manor house Northwold Manor is a multi period listed building grade II about which almost nothing was known Uninhabited since 1955 it had fallen into a state of extreme dereliction and was beyond economic repair when the author purchased the property in 2014 He and his wife Diane Gibbs embarked on a major restoration that ran for nine years The restoration was carried out as a quasi archaeological operation revealing that the building complex had Tudor origins followed by the construction of a Stuart house with Georgian improvements and a new entertaining suite added in 1814 The Manor with its fine drawing room ballroom and orangery was the grandest house in Northwold and research into the families that occupied it revealed unexpected connections to the French Bourbon Court From the 17th to the 20th century the Carters were the principal owners and a local branch of the family included Howard Carter discoverer of Tutankhamen's tomb This account begins with a topographical study of Northwold and its three medieval manors followed by an exploration of the decline of the Carter family in the late 19th century That triggered the break up of the Northwold Estate in 1919 Passing through several ownerships the Manor was earmarked for demolition in 1961 reprieved it became a furniture store in the 1970s and every room was solidly packed As the roofs failed and water poured in ceilings and floors collapsed carrying with them the stacks of rotting furniture By the late 1990s walls and gables were collapsing too and the local authority attempted to intervene A long struggle to save the Manor ensued finally ending with compulsory purchase in 2013 Although manor houses occur in most English parishes they have received surprisingly little archaeological study Every year hundreds are restored or altered but rarely accompanied by detailed recording or scholarly research and popular television programs reveal the shameful level of destruction that takes place in the name of restoration This is a book like no other the holistic approach to the rehabilitation of Northwold's derelict manor house involving history archaeology architecture and genealogy demonstrates how much can be learned about a building that had never before been studied The project has received several awards The English Heritage Frederic A. Youngs, Jr., Roger B. Manning, Henry L. Snyder, E. A. Reitan, 1999-05-12 The English Heritage Third Edition is a compact yet complete introduction to British history in two volumes This comprehensive text reflects the authors belief that a concise and

accessible analysis best serves both the student and instructor With new material on Tudor Elizabethan and Stuart England revisions throughout reflect the latest scholarship giving more attention to women and social history Volume One covers the earliest Britons to 1714 Volume Two covers 1689 to the Present Pictures and Popery Clare Haynes,2017-05-15 The part religion played in questions of national identity in early modern England is a familiar historical theme yet little work has been done on how this worked culturally Nowhere is this more visible than in the seeming contradiction of a militantly Protestant nation such as England that had a high regard for Catholic art It is this dichotomy the tensions between art and anti Catholicism that forms the central investigation of this book During the late seventeenth and eighteenth century religious art was closely identified with idolatry and the use of images was one of the most obvious markers of the boundary between Protestantism and Catholicism This manifested itself in an unease about the status of the religious image in English society which was articulated in religious tracts anti Catholic propaganda polemical debate court cases and numerous other places In light of these attacks upon idolatry the fact that a great deal of Catholic art was so highly regarded and sought after seems puzzling By discussing English attitudes towards the works of Italian painters including Raphael Michelangelo and Domenichino and the ways in which native artists sought appropriately Protestant ways of emulating them this volume offers a fascinating perspective on the dichotomy that existed between English appreciation and disapproval of Catholic culture By taking this cultural and artistic approach and applying it to the broader historical themes a new and invigorating way of understanding religion and national identity is offered Complex City Jane Manning,Antony Rifkin,Daniel Elsea,Lionel Eid,George Garofalakis,2020-08-31 Part story part atlas this is a study of a city s complexity The most successful cities the most interesting and sought after ones are those with an intrinsic and distinctive character that remain dynamic and relevant They are complex and contradictory And that is worth embracing This is a visual geographic and narrative journey that explains why London is the way it is today Using stunning maps and artful imagery it makes a compelling case for a finer grain understanding of density through a character based approach to planning Each character area is broken down exploring the characteristics and character based development potential For those planning and designing projects this is a reference book for the early stages of a design project and can help to inform site analyses which form the part of most architectural commissions and urban design studies For lovers of maps and London it is a must read Dictionary Catalog of the William Andrews Clark Memorial Library William Andrews Clark Memorial Library,1974 How the Country House Became English Stephanie Barczewski,2023-07-22 The story of how the country house historically a site of violent disruption came to symbolize English stability during the eighteenth century Country houses are quintessentially English not only architecturally but also in that they embody national values of continuity and insularity The English country house however has more often been the site of violent disruption than continuous peace So how is it that the country how came to represent an uncomplicated nostalgic vision of English history This book explores the evolution of the country house beginning with the Reformation and Civil War and shows how the political events of the eighteenth century which culminated in the reaction against the French Revolution led to country houses being recast as symbols of England's political stability

"Turquerie and the Politics of Representation, 1728-1876 " Nebahat Avcioglu, 2017-07-05 In this first full length study devoted explicitly to the examination of Ottoman Turkish inspired architecture in Western Europe during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Nebahat Avcioglu rethinks the question of cultural frontiers not as separations but as a rapport of heterogeneities Reclaiming turquerie as cross cultural art from the confines of the inconsequential exoticism it is often reduced to Avcioglu analyses hitherto neglected images designs and constructions and links Western interest in the Ottoman Empire to notions of self representation and national politics In investigating why and to what effect Europeans turned to the Turk for inspiration Avcioglu provides a far reaching cultural reinterpretation of art and architecture in this period Presented as a series of case studies focusing on three specific building types kiosks mosques and baths chosen on the basis that each represents the first full fledged manifestations of their respective genres to be constructed in Western Europe the study delves into the cultural politics of architectural forms and styles The author argues that the appropriation of those building types was neither accidental nor did it merely reflect European domination of another culture The process was essentially dialectical and contributed to transculturation in both the West and the East
