English Novel Before Richardson:

The English Novel Before the Nineteenth Century Annette Brown Hopkins, 1915 The English Novel, 1700-1740
Robert Letellier, 2003-02-28 The English novel written between 1700 and 1740 remains a comparatively neglected area. In addition to Daniel Defoe whose Robinson Crusoe and Moll Flanders are landmarks in the history of English fiction many other authors were at work. These included such women as Penelope Aubin, Jane Barker, Mary Davys and Eliza Haywood who made a considerable contribution to widening the range of emotional responses in fiction. These authors and many others continued writing in the genres inherited from the previous century such as criminal biographies, the Utopian novel, the science-fictional voyage and the epistolary novel. This annotated bibliography includes entries for these works and for critical materials pertinent to them. The volume first seeks to establish the existing studies of the era along with anthologies. It then provides entries for a wide-ranging selection of works which cover fictional, theoretical, historical, political and cultural topics to provide a comprehensive background to the unfolding and understanding of prose fiction in the early 18th century. This is followed by an alphabetical listing of novels, their editions and any critical material available on each. The next section provides a chronological record of significant and enduring works of fiction composed or translated in this period. The volume concludes with extensive indexes.

Popular Fiction Before Richardson John J. Richetti, 1992 A study of those narratives which although neglected by historians of the novel provide us today with examples of highly successful commercial exploitations of enduring stereotypes such as the criminal, the traveller, merchant, the persecuted maiden and the aristocratic seducer.

New Contexts for Eighteenth-Century British Fiction Christopher D. Johnson, 2011-04-18 New Contexts for Eighteenth-Century British Fiction is a collection of thirteen essays honoring Professor Jerry C. Beasley who retired from the University of Delaware in 2005. The essays written by friends, collaborators and former students reflect the scholarly interests that defined Professor Beasley's career and point to new directions of critical inquiry. The initial essays which discuss Tobias Smollett, Elizabeth Singer Rowe and Samuel Richardson suggest new directions in biographical writing including the intriguing discourse of life writing explored by Paula Backscheider. Subsequent essays enrich understandings of eighteenth-century fiction by examining lesser-known works by Jane Barker, Eliza Haywood and Charlotte Lennox. Many of the essays, especially those that focus on Smollett, use political pamphlets, material artifacts and urban legends to place familiar novels in new contexts. The collection's final essay demonstrates the vital importance of bibliographic study.

Women Novelists Before Jane Austen Brian Corman, 2009-06-04 By the time Ian Watt published The Rise of the Novel in 1957 it was clear that many women novelists before Jane Austen had been overlooked in critical studies of literature and that some of them had been completely forgotten by the reading public. In this book Brian Corman explores the question of how and why this came about. Corman provides a systematic survey of the reputations of early women novelists as canons of the novel developed over a period of roughly two hundred years and in so doing suggests reasons for their frequent exclusion. Women Novelists before Jane Austen challenges the view that exclusion from the canon was a simple function of gender and goes deeper to examine potential reasons why certain women writers were overlooked In the process it provides an overview of histories of the British novel from the beginning through to the mid twentieth century ending with the publication of Watt s famous text Further Corman offers a prolegomenon to the important recovery work of the late twentieth century in which many revised accounts of the history of the novel appeared essentially improving the scope covered by Watt This study historicizes the place of early women novelists in the British canon in order to provide an informed context for current views

The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 2, 1660-1800 George Watson,Ian R. Willison,1971-07-02 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 2 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries

British Literature and Technology, 1600-1830 Kristin M. Girtten,Aaron R. Hanlon,2023-01-13 British Literature and Technology 1600 1830 examines the relationship between literature and technology in two directions not only the impact of technology on Enlightenment British literature but also the impact of literature on conceptions of attitudes toward and implementations of technology in the period

A Companion to the Eighteenth-Century English Novel and Culture Paula R. Backscheider,Catherine Ingrassia,2009-10-19 A Companion to the Eighteenth century Novel furnishes readers with a sophisticated vision of the eighteenth century novel in its political aesthetic and moral contexts An up to date resource for the study of the eighteenth century novel Furnishes readers with a sophisticated vision of the eighteenth century novel in its political aesthetic and moral context Foregrounds those topics of most historical and political relevance to the twenty first century Explores formative influences on the eighteenth century novel its engagement with the major issues and philosophies of the period and its lasting legacy Covers both traditional themes such as narrative authority and print culture and cutting edge topics such as globalization nationhood technology and science Considers both canonical and non canonical literature

The Epistolary Novel Joe Bray,2003-08-29 The epistolary novel is a form which has been neglected in most accounts of the development of the novel This book argues that the way that the eighteenth century epistolary novel represented consciousness had a significant influence on the later novel Critics have drawn a distinction between the self at the time of writing and the self at the time at which events or emotions were experienced This book demonstrates that the tensions within consciousness are the result of a continual interaction between the two selves of the letter writer and charts the oscillation between these two selves in the epistolary novels of amongst others Aphra Behn Eliza Haywood Samuel Richardson Fanny Burney and Charlotte Smith

The Novel, Volume 1 Franco Moretti, 2022-04-12 Nearly as global in its ambition and sweep as its subject Franco Moretti's The Novel is a watershed event in the understanding of the first truly planetary literary form A translated selection from the epic five volume Italian Il Romanzo 2001 2003 The Novel's two volumes are a unified multiauthored reference work containing more than one hundred specially commissioned essays by leading contemporary critics from around the world Providing the first international comparative reassessment of the novel these essential volumes reveal the form in unprecedented depth and breadth as a great cultural social and human phenomenon that stretches from the ancient Greeks to today where modernity itself is unimaginable without the genre By viewing the novel as much more than an aesthetic form this landmark collection demonstrates how the genre has transformed human emotions and behavior and the very perception of reality Historical statistical and formal analyses show the novel as a complex literary system in which new forms proliferate in every period and place Volume 1 History Geography and Culture looks at the novel mostly from the outside treating the transition from oral to written storytelling and the rise of narrative and fictionality and covering the ancient Greek novel the novel in premodern China the early Spanish novel and much else including readings of novels from around the world These books will be essential reading for all students and scholars of literature

The Age of Silver Ning Ma, 2017 The Age of Silver considers how commerce fueled the emergence of the novel around the globe examining the evolution of epochal works of national literature from Don Quixote in 1605 to Robinson Crusoe in 1719

Spectacles of Realism Margaret Cohen, Christopher Prendergast, 1995

Novel Ventures Leah Orr, 2017-10-16 The eighteenth century British book trade marks the beginning of the literary marketplace as we know it The lapsing of the Licensing Act in 1695 brought an end to pre publication censorship of printed texts and restrictions on the number of printers and presses in Britain Resisting the standard rise of the novel paradigm Novel Ventures incorporates new research about the fiction marketplace to illuminate early fiction as an eighteenth century reader or writer might have seen it Through a consideration of all 475 works of fiction printed over the four decades from 1690 to 1730 including new texts translations of foreign works and reprints of older fiction Leah Orr shows that the genre was much more diverse and innovative in this period than is usually thought Contextual chapters examine topics such as the portrayal of early fiction in literary history the canonization of fiction concepts of fiction genres printers and booksellers the prices and physical manufacture of books and advertising strategies to give a more complex picture of the genre in the print culture world of the early eighteenth century Ultimately Novel Ventures concludes that publishers had far more influence over what was written printed and read than authors did and that they shaped the development of English fiction at a crucial moment in its literary history

Lyric Generations G. Gabrielle Starr, 2015-11 Eighteenth century British literary history was long characterized by two central and seemingly discrete movements the emergence of the novel and the development of Romantic lyric poetry In fact recent scholarship reveals that these genres are inextricably bound constructions of interiority developed in novels changed ideas about what literature could mean and do encouraging the new focus on private experience and self perception developed in lyric poetry In Lyric Generations Gabrielle Starr rejects the genealogy of lyric poetry in which Romantic poets are thought to have built solely and directly upon the works of Chaucer Spenser Shakespeare and Milton She argues instead that novelists such as Richardson Haywood Behn and others while drawing upon earlier lyric conventions ushered in a new language of self expression and community which profoundly affected the aesthetic goals of lyric poets Examining the works of Cowper Smith Wordsworth Coleridge and Keats in light of their competitive dialogue with the novel Starr advances a literary history that considers formal characteristics as products of historical change In a world increasingly defined by prose poets adapted the new forms characters and moral themes of the novel in order to reinvigorate poetic practice Refreshingly this impressive study of poetic form does not read the eighteenth century as a slow road to Romanticism but fleshes out the period with surprising and important new detail Times Literary Supplement G Gabrielle Starr is the Seryl Kushner Dean of the College of Arts and Science and a professor of English at New York University She is the author of Feeling Beauty The Neuroscience of Aesthetic Experience The Cambridge Companion to Women's Writing in Britain, 1660-1789 Catherine Ingrassia, 2015-04-23 Essays by leading scholars provide a comprehensive overview of women writers and their work in Restoration and eighteenth century Britain The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 4, The Eighteenth Century H. B. Nisbet, Claude Rawson, 2005-12-08 This is a comprehensive 1997 account of the history of literary criticism in Britain and Europe between 1660 and 1800 Unlike previous histories it is not just a chronological survey of critical writing but a multidisciplinary investigation of how the understanding of literature and its various genres was transformed at the start of the modern era by developments in philosophy psychology the natural sciences linguistics and other disciplines as well as in society at large In the process modern literary theory at first often implicit in literary texts themselves emancipated itself from classical poetics and rhetoric and literary criticism emerged as a full time professional activity catering for an expanding literate public The volume is international both in coverage and in authorship Extensive bibliographies provide guidance for further specialised study The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 4, The Eighteenth Century George Alexander Kennedy, 1989 This comprehensive 1997 account of eighteenth century literary criticism is now available in paperback
