The Pleasure Gardens of Virginia Peter Martin,2017-03-14 Using a rich assortment of illustrations and biographical sketches Peter Martin relates the experiences of colonial gardeners who shaped the natural beauty of Virginia s wilderness into varied displays of elegance He shows that ornamental gardening was a scientific aesthetic and cultural enterprise that thoroughly engaged some of the leading figures of the period including the British governors at Williamsburg and the great plantation owners George Washington Thomas Jefferson William Byrd and John Custis In presenting accounts of their gardening efforts Martin reveals the intricacies of colonial garden design plant searches experimentation and the problems in adapting European landscaping ideas to local climate These writings also bring to life the social and commercial interaction between Williamsburg and the plantations together with early American ideas about cultured living While placing Virginia s gardening in the larger context of the colonial South Martin tells a very human story of how this art both influenced and reflected the quality of colonial life As Virginia grew economically and culturally the garden became a projection of the gardener s personal identity as exemplified by the endeavors of Washington and Jefferson at Mount Vernon and Monticello In order to recapture the gardens as they existed in colonial times Martin brings together paintings drawings and the findings of modern archaeological excavations Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
