

AP English Literature & Composition Summer Reading 2018

I am SO excited to work with you all next year in AP English Literature! This class is going to grow and stretch you, and make sure that you are ready for any text or piece of writing you encounter in college! To that end, I'm sharing a summer reading assignment for you to complete in the next few weeks.

The WHYs of Summer Reading:

- ★ There is lots of research that shows that every student who does not read over the summer will lose reading growth. Period. (Check out this Time magazine article stating that "reading just four or five books can ward off setbacks in language skills."
<http://ideas.time.com/2013/07/01/do-kids-really-have-summer-learning-loss/>)
- ★ Summer reading helps you retain the skills that you've gained so far in high school, and help you come back in August prepared to jump right into class and discussions.
- ★ Research also shows that people who read gain great benefits, such as lower stress levels, higher degrees of empathy & cultural awareness, and are able to sleep better. Summer reading is just another way to make your summer break THAT much more relaxing.

The WHAT of Summer Reading:

"Over summer break, you are required to read three texts from the suggested reading list." The texts listed below are some of the most cited works of literature on the AP English Literature exam since 1970. The numbers next to the texts are the number of times the work has been cited in that time period, so you may use your knowledge of probability to determine your literature choices. However: I would more highly recommend reading synopses of the books and choosing what interests YOU. Choose one text from each category: a Shakespeare play, a piece of Greek/Roman literature, and a piece from the general literature category. It is strongly suggested that you both read and watch the Shakespeare play for understanding.

In addition to this reading, you will be required to complete a short reading quiz for each of these texts and email them to me by midnight on July 2nd (text #1), July 30th (text #2) and August 10th (text #3). The reading quizzes are located below, and will be your first grades for Q1 for the 2018-2019 school year. My email is lbubacz@thefsi.us You may read the books in any order.

Use the rest of this packet to help you complete your assignment ...
