English Literature And Culture In Russia 1553 184:

English Literature and Culture in Russia (1553-1840) Ernest Joseph Simmons, 1964      Waiting for Pushkin Alessandra Tosi, 2006 Waiting for Pushkin provides the only modern history of Russian fiction in the early nineteenth century to appear in over thirty years. Prose fiction has a more prominent position in the literature of Russia than in that of any other great country. Although nineteenth century fiction in particular occupies a privileged place in Russian and world literature alike, the early stages of this development have so far been overlooked. By combining a broad historical survey with close textual analysis, the book provides a unique overview of a key phase in Russian literary history. Drawing on a wide range of sources including rare editions and literary journals, Alessandra Tosi reconstructs the literary activities occurring at the time, introduces neglected but fascinating narratives many of which have never been studied before, and demonstrates the long term influence of this body of works on the ensuing golden age of the Russian novel. Waiting for Pushkin provides an indispensable source for scholars and students of nineteenth century Russian fiction. The volume is also relevant to those interested in women's writing, comparative studies, and Russian literature in general.      Great Britain and Russia in the Eighteenth Century Anthony Glenn Cross, 1979      Research Bulletin on the Soviet Union, 1936      Author-title Catalogue Ontario New Universities Library Project, 1967      Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress, 1960 A cumulative list of works represented by Library of Congress printed cards      English Literature and Culture in Russia (1553-1840) Ernest Joseph Simmons, 1964      Dictionary Catalog of the Slavonic Collection New York Public Library. Andrea's thorough and insightful analysis of historical documents, visual records, and literary works focuses on five extraordinary women: Elen More and Lucy Negro, both from Islamic West Africa; Ipolita, the Tartarian, a girl acquired from Islamic Central Asia; Teresa Sampsonia, a Circassian from the Safavid Empire; and Mariam Khanim, an Armenian from the Mughal Empire. By analysing these women's lives and their impact on the literary and cultural life of proto-colonial England, Andrea reveals that they are simultaneously significant constituents of the emerging Anglo-centric discourse of empire and cultural agents in their own right. The Lives of Girls and Women from the Islamic World in Early Modern British Literature and Culture advances a methodology based on microhistory, cross-cultural feminist studies, and postcolonial approaches to the early modern period.      A Companion to the Global Renaissance Jyotsna G.
