English Poetic Theory 1825 1865:

English Poetic Theory, 1825-1865 Alba Houghton Warren, 1966 English Poetic Theory 1825-1865 Alba H. Warren, 1966 English Poetic Theory Alba H. Warren (Jr.), 1950 The Art of Discrimination Ralph Cohen, Adapting to the Stage: Theatre and the Work of Henry James Chris Greenwood, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 The American novelist and playwright Henry James was drawn to the theatre and the shifting conventions of drama throughout his writing career This study demonstrates that from the 1890s onwards James concentrated on adapting his novels and stories to and from the stage and increasingly employed metaphors that spoke of novel writing in terms of playwriting Christopher Greenwood argues that these metaphors helped James to conceive himself as an artist who composed characters dramatically and visually and in doing so sets his novels significantly apart from those of his contemporaries In the introduction to the first part of the book Greenwood examines James s career within the context of contemporary European and North American theatre providing an appraisal of what James gained from contemporary theatre his position in that milieu and what he brought to it Part 2 of the book focuses on two novels The Other House and The Spoils of Poynton both of which illustrate the ways in which James used the mechanism of contemporary theatre to communicate a character s personality Discussion of these two works is used to throw light on similar concerns that develop in James s later writing

The Novel-Machine Walter Kendrick, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1980 The first section of The Novel Machine consists of five short chapters that rewrite Autobiography as an undisguised theory of realistic fiction exploring its paradoxes while placing it in the context of mid Victorian criticism Chapters 6 and 7 survey the manifestations in Trollope s novels of what his theory sets down as the primary difference of realism its way of telling its readers how to read Chapter 8 is a close reading of He Knew He Was Right a neglected novel that in Kendrick s estimation deserves to stand in much higher critical esteem than it does Kendrick shows how deeply woven into the texture of Trollope s writing the rhetoric of realism is Kendrick s reading is a departure from the usual method of criticizing Trollope surveying the whole of his work a novel at a time saying a little about every novel and always too little about each Romantic Image Frank Kermode, 2002 For the past four decades Frank Kermode critic and writer has steadily established himself as one of the most brilliant minds of his generation Questioning the public s harsh perception of the artist Kermode at the same time gently pokes fun at artists own often inflated self image He identifies what has become one of the defining characteristics of the Romantic tradition the artist in isolation and the emerging power of the imagination Back in print after an absence of over a decade The Romantic Image is quintessential Kermode Enlightenment has seldom been so enjoyable English Poetic Theory, 1825-1865. Reprinted Alba H. Warren, 1966 Victorian Scrutinies Isobel Armstrong, 1972-04-01 In the years covered by this volume high Victorian poetry reached its prolific peak and stimulated a corresponding abundance of critical comment As poets turned to new themes and new modes of presenting them critics sought to redefine the function of poetry in their time and nowhere with greater immediacy and sense of the cultural issues at stake than in the periodicals Two occasions when discussion was particularly lively in relation to Tennyson's early poems and Arnold's 1853 Preface are here used by Dr Armstrong as focal points and with them in mind she has selected and annotated 13 substantial reviews principally devoted to the poetry of Tennyson Browning Arnold and Clough Dr Armstrong's own long Introduction serves equally as an indispensable preliminary guide to the fundamentals of Victorian criticism and as an authoritative summing up of the debate on poetics conducted at large in the body of the book by the Victorians themselves Detailed bibliographies for further reading are provided at the end of each main section

Collected Works of John Stuart Mill John M. Robson, 2013-10-16 The Collected Works of John Stuart Mill took thirty years to complete and is acknowledged as the definitive edition of J S Mill and as one of the finest works editions ever completed Mill's contributions to philosophy economics and history and in the roles of scholar politician and journalist can hardly be overstated and this edition remains the only reliable version of the full range of Mill's writings Each volume contains extensive notes a new introduction and an index Many of the volumes have been unavailable for some time but the Works are now again available both as a complete set and as individual volumes

Anthony Trollope and his Contemporaries David Skilton, 1996-08-12 First published in 1972 the second edition of this highly respected classic of Trollope criticism will be welcomed by Trollope scholars everywhere David Skilton examines the literary background against which Trollope wrote and drawing on the vast evidence of mid Victorian periodical criticism he shows how this criticism controlled the novelist's creativity He then goes on to examine Trollope's particular type of realism in the context of the theories of literary imagination current in the 1860s A book I admire It has been of great value to me J Hillis Miller The first and still the best study of Trollope's relationships connections and interactions with the literary world of his own time Skilton's is the necessary introduction to any serious investigation of Trollope's fiction John Sutherland

Heart Like a Fakir Chris Mason, 2022-10-14 Heart Like a Fakir is a history of the final forty years of British East India Company rule in India as witnessed by General Sir James Abbott 1807-1896 the man for whom the Pakistani town of Abbottabad is named Based on extensive research into primary source documents the book uses the life of General Sir James Abbott as a narrative thread to explore the troubled period between William Dalrymple's White Moghuls and the Indian Rebellion of 1857 General Sir James Abbott was one of the most remarkable characters in British colonial history becoming Great Britain's first guerilla leader the first Briton to reach the fabled Central Asian city of Khiva and a British Deputy Commissioner who became the King of Hazara He may have also been the inspiration for Rudyard Kipling's The Man Who Would Be King and the character of Mr Kurtz in Joseph Conrad's novel Heart of Darkness This book chronicles the remarkable collapse of the social contract between Britons and the peoples of India in the first half of the nineteenth century taking a fresh look at British perceptions of race gender and the nature of social and sexual relationships between them leading up to the Great Rebellion of 1857 the cataclysm that ended British East India Company rule

first substantial book about Forster's life Drawing upon much unpublished material Davies describes Forster's career as a man of letters and presents detailed studies of his many important friendships and professional activities The author also breaks new ground in discussing Forster's work as a journalist historian and literary biographer Contents Part One Early Life and Influential Friends Newcastle to London Leigh Hunt Charles Lamb Bulwer Macready Part Two The Man of Letters I The literary life Literature's friend Friendship's variations 1834-1855 Withdrawal and return Part Three Man of Letters II Four Friendships Robert Browning Landor Dickens Carlyle Part Four Man of Letters III Professional Concerns Journalist Historian Literary biographer Postscript Bibliography including Forster's mainly anonymous reviews R The Literary Criticism of Henry James Mohammad Hanief, 1990 Cities Built to Music Michael Bright, 1984 In August of 1861 a congress was convened in Antwerp to consider why it was that the nineteenth century had adopted no distinctive architectural style as its own That such a meeting took place is of substantially greater importance than any business conducted and resolutions passed by the delegates for it suggests the profound dissatisfaction with the state of architecture in Europe that pervaded the continent at the time In England the chief critic of the motley assortment of disharmonious styles was A W N Pugin who in 1843 declared that architecture along with the other arts was passing through a transitional state the phrase was to recur over and over again throughout the century in a variety of contexts an aesthetic wasteland in which following the decay of the Renaissance an anarchic individualism fueled by a runaway eclecticism and a shoddy reliance on shams and disguises was ultimately to prevail Later in the same decade John Ruskin was to propose a stringent indeed a radical reform Professor Bright undertakes an etiological explanation of why the Gothic style was able to satisfy the artistic expectations of the Victorians He dismisses as only partly adequate the frequently offered answers the religious which points to the intimate relations between Revivalist architects and the Ecclesiologists and between Pugin and Roman Catholicism and the literary which relies on the immense popularity of the novels of Sir Walter Scott and the mania for all things medieval they inspired Rather he finds in the return to a style that was dominant before the Renaissance and in the rejection of the nineteenth century's earlier preference for the neoclassical a reflection in architecture of the generally troubled state of Victorian society so apparent in the other arts of the period Matthew Arnold's ignorant armies clash by night and Tennyson's Arthur saw not whom he fought in the dim weird battle of the west John Stuart Mills identifies as the first of the leading peculiarities of the present age that it is an age of transition Mankind have outgrown old institutions and old doctrines and have not acquired new ones Carlyle laments The Old has passed away but alas the New appears not in its stead Restlessness uncertainty and confusion abound and the idea is often repeated throughout the century that the momentum of change far from slowing to the settled condition from which new and universal values can emerge continues to accelerate at an alarming and vertiginous rate that cause Thomas Arnold to comment that we have been living as it were the life of three hundred years in thirty and that left his son twenty years later Wandering between two worlds one dead The other powerless to be born For

Matthew Arnold it was culture that would provide the unity the Scholar Gypsy s one aim one business one desire that was to be the cure for this strange disease of modern life With its sick hurry its divided aims It was unity too a singleness of aim of a devotion to and community of effort in the advancement of art that Sir George Gilbert Scott urged as its president on his colleagues in the Institute of British Architects For Pugin and a host of other artists and critics of art and society unity lay in revival of the Gothic

The Discourse of Self in Victorian Poetry E. Warwick Slinn, 1991-06-18 Written by the author of Browning and the Fictions of Identity this is a study of the discourse of self in Victorian poetry

The Contemplative Poetry of Gerard Manley Hopkins Maria R. Lichtmann, 2014-07-14 In 1989 the centenary of his death Gerard Manley Hopkins continues to provoke fundamental questions among scholars what major poetic strategy informs his work and how did his reflections on the nature of poetry affect his writing While form meant a great deal to Hopkins it was never mere form Maria Lichtmann demonstrates that the poet a student of Scripture all his life adopted Scripture s predominant form parallelism as his own major poetic strategy Hopkins saw that parallelism struck deep into the heart and soul tapping into unconscious rhythms and bringing about a healing response that he identified as contemplation Parallelism was to him the perfect statement of the integrity of outward form and inner meaning Other critics have seen the parallelism in Hopkins s poems only on the auditory level of alliterations and assonances Lichtmann however builds on the views held by Hopkins himself who spoke of a parallelism of words and of thought engendered by the parallelism of sound She distinguishes the integrating Parmenidean parallelisms of resemblance from the disintegrating Heraclitean parallelisms of antithesis The tension between Parmenidean unity and Heraclitean variety is resolved only in the wordless communion of contemplation This emphasis on contemplation offers a corrective to the overly emphasized Ignatian interpretation of Hopkins s poetry as meditative poetry The book also makes clear that Hopkins s preference for contemplation sharply differentiates him from his Romantic predecessors as well as from the structuralists who now claim him Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 that are essential to the study of all forms of poetry and verse As Turco writes in the introduction It should go without saying that the more one knows how to do the more one can do Polestar of the Ancients John O. Hayden, 1979 Tracing the influence of Aristotle on literary criticism both ancient and modern the author analyzes such basic tenets as mimesis universality and morality in the theory of Horace Longinus Sir Philip Sidney Samuel Johnson Samuel Taylor Coleridge Matthew Arnold and others
