Art Index Retrospective ,1993      Medieval England Edward Miller,John Hatcher,2014-06-17 The only survey of the urban commercial and industrial history of the period between the Norman conquest and the Black Death      The Antiquaries Journal ,1950      Arts & Decoration ,1920      Second catalogue, including the additions made since 1882 Baltimore Peabody inst, libr,1896      Writers Directory NA NA,2016-03-05      The Archaeology of Medieval Europe, Vol. 2 Jan Klápste,2011-10-31 The two volumes of The Archaeology of Medieval Europe together comprise the first complete account of Medieval Archaeology across the continent This ground breaking set will enable readers to track the development of different cultures and regions over the 800 years that formed the Europe we have today In addition to revealing the process of Europeanisation within its shared intellectual and technical inheritance the complete work provides an opportunity for demonstrating the differences that were inevitably present across the continent from Iceland to Sicily and Portugal to Finland      The Underground Wealth of Nations Jeannette Graulau,2019-10-08 Silver mining was a capitalist business long before the supposed origin of modern capitalism Hundreds of years before a sixteenth century crisis in European agriculture led to the origins of capital investment and finance the silver mining industry exhibited many of the features of modern capitalism Silver mines were large scale businesses that demanded large investments and steady cash flow achieved by spreading that risk through fungible shares and creating legal structures to protect entrepreneurs from financial disaster Jeannette Graulau argues that mining preceded agriculture as the first true capitalist enterprise of the modern world      A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins,American Historical Association,Royal Historical Society (Great Britain),1996 Containing over 25 000 entries this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century Accessibly arranged by theme with helpful introductions to each chapter a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index      The Athenaeum ,1912      The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1928      The Educational Times and Education Outlook ,1926      Heraldry in Urban Society Marcus Meer,2024-09-19 Heraldry is often seen as a traditional prerogative of the nobility But it was not just knights princes kings and emperors who bore coats of arms to show off their status in the Middle Ages The merchants and craftsmen who lived in cities too adopted coats of arms and used heraldic customs including display and destruction to underline their social importance and to communicate political messages Medieval burgesses were part of a fascination with heraldry that spread throughout pre modern society and looked at coats of arms as honoured signs of genealogy and history Heraldry in Urban Society analyses the perceptions and functions of heraldry in medieval urban societies by drawing on both English and German language sources from the late fourteenth to the early sixteenth centuries Despite variations that point to socio political differences between cities and their citizens in the relatively centralized monarchy of medieval England and the more independent minded urban governments found in the less closely connected Holy Roman Empire urban heraldry emerges as a versatile and ubiquitous means of multimedia visual communication that spanned medieval Europe Urban heraldic practices defy assumptions about clearly demarcated social practices that belonged to high noble as opposed to low urban culture Townspeople's perceptions of coats of arms paralleled those of the nobility as they readily interpreted and carefully curated them as visual expressions of identity These perceptions allowed townspeople of all ranks as well as noble outsiders to use heraldry and its display along with its defacement and destruction in manuscripts spaces such as town houses public monuments halls and churches and performances like processions and joyous entries to address perennial problems of urban society in the Middle Ages The coats of arms of burgesses guilds and cities were communicative means of individual and collective representation social and political legitimization conducting and resolving conflicts and the pursuit of elevated status in the urban hierarchy Likewise heraldic communication negotiated the all important relationship between the city and wider extramural society from the commercial interests of citizens to their collective ties to the ruler developing notions of government literacy and education Peopled with vivid and well known characters Henry V Joan of Arc Philippe the Good of Burgundy Edward the Black Prince John the Blind of Bohemia and many others as well as a host of ordinary individuals who were drawn into the struggle this absorbing book reveals for the first time not only the Hundred Years War s impact on warfare institutions and nations but also its true human cost Hundred Years War makes us care about this long ago conflict and the society that pursued and was shaped by it It is likely to and indeed should become a standard introduction to the war Charles F Briggs Speculum     Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle ,1907
