English Gardens Landscapes 1700 1750:

English Gardens and Landscapes, 1700-1750 Christopher Hussey, 1967 The Education of the Eye Peter De Bolla, 2003
The Education of the Eye examines the origins of visual culture in eighteenth century Britain setting out to reclaim visual culture for the democracy of the eye and to explain how aesthetic contemplation may once more be open to all who have eyes to look English Gardens and Landscape, 1700-1750 Christopher Edward Olive Hussey, 1967 Architectural Conservation: Issues and Developments Vincent Shacklock, 2016-01-08 This authoritative book offers contributions from leading practitioners and scholars presenting an assessment of the current state of conservation in the UK It raises concerns about the ambivalence within government towards heritage protection It considers the need for a clear understanding of the value of architectural heritage the importance of training adequate funding for maintenance and support at a local and community level It also discusses the role of the amenity societies and provides a useful comparison of the national and regulation driven process operating in the UK with the US local and incentive led approach The Non-Representation of the Agricultural Labourers in 18th and 19th Century English Paintings Penelope McElwee, 2016-02-08 The life of the poor rural worker appears to have been one of unmitigated toil within an unequal society a reality seldom endorsed in paintings of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries The contemporary viewer who constituted less than three per cent of the population wished to see visions of the idyllic golden landscapes of Merrie England peopled by happy contented workers or alternatively images of the Big House a feature and phenomenon now marching over the countryside fed by a new building frenzy This particular element would soon evolve into an all consuming preoccupation for the wealthy throughout the period Members of the upper echelons of society with their families all attired in fine silks and satins look out at their audience from ornately framed canvases as individuals Yet the rural poor the rabble at the gates the unseen workforce who toiled at the behest of the Master are virtually unknown They have left few records Enclosure came at a price The Poorhouse beckoned And still the agricultural labourer did virtually nothing for most of the eighteenth century to protest or rebel against the inequalities of his downtrodden existence Only the dreaded behemoth of the nineteenth century the threshing machine would stir him into action How would it end Characteristicks of Men, Manners, Opinions, Times Anthony Ashley Cooper Earl of Shaftesbury, 1999 Shaftesbury s Characteristicks of Men Manners Opinions Times is a collection of treatises on interconnected themes in moral philosophy aesthetics literature and politics This is the first new edition of Characteristicks as a coherent collection for almost a century A substantial Introduction discusses Shaftesbury s works and ideas in the context of his times and traces the reception and influence of his writings through the eighteenth century and beyond Fundamentals of Garden Designing R. Lancelot Brown and the Capability Men David Brown, Tom Williamson, 2016-08-15 Lancelot Capability Brown is often thought of as the innovative genius who single handedly pioneered a new naturalistic style of landscape design but he was in fact only one of many landscape designers in Georgian England Published to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of Brown's birth this book casts important new light on his world renowned work his eventful life and the wider and robust world of landscape design in Georgian England David Brown and Tom Williamson argue that Brown was one of the most successful designers of his time working in a style that was otherwise widespread and that it was his skill with this style and not his having invented it that linked his name to it The authors look closely at Brown s design business and the products he offered clients showing that his design packages helped define the era s aesthetic They compare Brown s business to those of similar designers such as the Adam brothers Thomas Chippendale and Josiah Wedgwood and they contextualize Brown s work within the wider contexts of domestic planning and the rise of neoclassicism Beautifully illustrated throughout this book celebrates the work of a master designer who was both a product and harbinger of the modern world

Regions and Designed Landscapes in Georgian England Sarah Spooner,2015-06-26 Garden design evolved hugely during the Georgian period as symbols of wealth and stature the landed aristocracy had been using gardens for decades Yet during the eighteenth century society began to homogenise and the urban elite also started demanding landscapes that would reflect their positions The gardens of the aristocracy and the gentry were different in appearance use and meaning despite broad similarities in form Underlying this was the importance of place of the landscape itself and its raw material Contemporaries often referred to the need to consult the genius of the place when creating a new designed landscape as the place where the garden was located was critical in determining its appearance Genius loci soil type topography water supply all influenced landscape design in this period The approach taken in this book blends landscape and garden history to make new insights into landscape and design in the eighteenth century Spooner s own research presents little known sites alongside those which are more well known and explores the complexity of the story of landscape design in the Georgian period which is usually oversimplified and reduced to the story of a few great men

Wanderlust Rebecca Solnit,2001-06-01 A passionate thought provoking exploration of walking as a political and cultural activity from the author of Orwell s Roses Drawing together many histories of anatomical evolution and city design of treadmills and labyrinths of walking clubs and sexual mores Rebecca Solnit creates a fascinating portrait of the range of possibilities presented by walking Arguing that the history of walking includes walking for pleasure as well as for political aesthetic and social meaning Solnit focuses on the walkers whose everyday and extreme acts have shaped our culture from philosophers to poets to mountaineers She profiles some of the most significant walkers in history and fiction from Wordsworth to Gary Snyder from Jane Austen s Elizabeth Bennet to Andre Breton s Nadja finding a profound relationship between walking and thinking and walking and culture Solnit argues for the necessity of preserving the time and space in which to walk in our ever more car dependent and accelerated world

A Dialogue upon the Gardens of the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Cobham at Stow in Buckinghamshire William Gilpin,2021-12-02

Ichnographia Rustica William Alvis Brogden,2017-02-17 One of the most significant occurrences in the history of design was the creation of the English Landscape Garden Accounts of its genesis the surprising structural change from the formal to a seeming informal are numerous But none has ever been quite convincing and none satisfactorily placed the contributions of Stephen Switzer Unlike his contemporaries Switzer an 18th century author of books on gardening and agricultural improvement grasped a quite new principle that the fashionable pursuit of great gardens should be rural and extensive rather than merely the ornamentation of a particular part of an estate Switzer saw that a whole estate could be enjoyed as an aesthetic experience and by the process of improving its value could increase wealth By encouraging improvers to see the garden in his enlarged sense he opened up the adjoining countryside the landscape and made the whole a subject of unified design Some few followed his advice immediately such as Bathurst at Cirencester But it took some time for his ideas to become generally accepted Could this vision and its working out in practice between 1710 and 1740 be the very reason for such changes 300 years after the first volume of his writings began to be published this book offers a timely critical examination of lessons learned and Switzer's roles In major influential early works at Castle Howard and Blenheim and later the more minor works such as Spy Park Leeswood or Rhual the relationships between these designs and his writings is demonstrated In doing so it makes possible major reassessment of the developments and thus our attitudes to well known works It provides an explanation of how he and his colleagues and contemporaries first made what he had called Ichnographia Rustica or more familiarly Modern Gardening from the mid 1740s land later landscape gardens It reveals an exceptional innovator who by transforming the philosophical way in which nature was viewed integrated good design with good farming and horticultural practice for the first time It raises the issue of the cleavage in thought of the later 18th century essentially whether the ferme ornée as the mixture of utile and dulci was the perfect designed landscape or whether this was the enlarged garden with features of unadorned nature The book discusses these considerable and continuing contrary influences on later work and suggests Switzer has many lessons for how contemporary landscape and garden design ought be perceived and practised Plants and Gardens as Artefacts in Transcultural Contexts Minna Törmä, 2025-09-30 This edited volume explores the ways in which the object biography or object itinerary approach could be adapted to frame research on animate objects such as plants and gardens in transcultural contexts By treating these animate elements as objects in the manner of artefacts and looking at their individual histories we gain a more nuanced sense of how data accumulated how new knowledge developed through printed texts and specimen collections and how the creators of gardens or landscapes formed their collections Chapters explore the shifts in meanings when objects from diverse origins meet in new cultural contexts where their new owners create assemblages based on their perception of the world The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history material culture and cultural geography Chiswick House Gardens David Jacques, 2022-03-01 The grounds at Chiswick House are amongst the most iconic of all the historic gardens of Europe In the 1720s they reflected Lord Burlington's innovative ideas on Palladianism and antique gardens whilst the area transformed by William Kent to give a rustic appearance in the early 1730s has been recognised as one of or perhaps the birthplace of the landscape garden The grounds were periodically brought to the forefront of taste reaching another high point as the venue for spectacular garden parties under the 6th Duke of Devonshire As a garden of many periods it has given rise to passionate national debates since World War II on the principles of restoration and as a public park it has been an important project assisted by the National Lottery Heritage Fund Its renewed high state of keeping and its tranquil beauty belies its deep history of intellectual debate social tensions and practical difficulties The book concentrates on the four main periods when Chiswick gardens were in the national spotlight two when being in the forefront of taste and two concerning the restorations the first being in the 1950s when the whole question of garden restoration was entirely new The second restoration on and off since 1988 intersects with the development of a philosophical stance and national policy on the restoration of parks and gardens There is much of interest for art and architectural historians garden historians social historians and those local and international visitors who enjoy the finest public park in West London

Site Sight Insight presents twelve essays by John Dixon Hunt the leading theorist and historian of landscape architecture The collection s common theme is a focus on sites how we see them and what we derive from that looking Acknowledging that even the most modest landscape encounter has validity Hunt contends that the more one knows about a site and one s own sight of it an awareness of how one is seeing the greater the insight Employing the concepts tropes and rhetorical methods of literary analysis he addresses the problem of how to discuss understand and appreciate places that are experienced through all the senses over time and through space Hunt questions our intellectual and aesthetic understanding of gardens and designed landscapes and asks how these sites affect us emotionally Do gardens have meaning When we visit a fine garden or designed landscape we experience a unique work of great complexity in purpose which has been executed over a number of years a work that occasionally achieves beauty While direct experience is fundamental Hunt demonstrates how the ways in which gardens and landscapes are communicated in word and image can be equally important He returns frequently to a cluster of key sites and writings on which he has based much of his thinking about garden making and its role in landscape architecture the gardens of Rousham in Oxfordshire Thomas Whately s Observations on Modern Gardening 1770 William Gilpin s dialogues on Stowe 1747 Alexander Pope s meditation on genius loci the D sert de Retz Paolo Burgi s Cardada and the designs by Bernard Lassus and Ian Hamilton Finlay
