Political Discourse in Transition in Europe 1989-1991 Paul Chilton, Mikhail V. Ilyin, Jacob L. Mey, 1998-03-15 The year 1989 brought political upheavals in Central Eastern and Southern Europe the effects of which have not yet ended The political discourse of the Cold War period disintegrated and gave way to competing alternatives The contributors to this book are linguists discourse analysts and social scientists from all corners of the continent whose tools of analysis shed light on the crucial two years of transition during which political concepts and political interaction changed in dramatic and sometimes violent ways

EBOOK: The Media In Russia Anna Arutunyan, 2009-09-16 This book introduces readers to the Russian media its current landscape and its history by outlining the chief challenges faced by Russian journalists on their quest for media freedom Focusing on how the Government has traditionally controlled the media through censorship financial involvement and relations between media moguls and the State the book analyses to what extent the Russian media has become free since the fall of Communism The author questions whether freedom is possible at all in a society where the media has traditionally been so closely linked to the State There are chapters on different forms of media including print television radio and the Internet Each chapter identifies the main hurdles faced by the particular medium and considers the potential it has for becoming truly independent Key features include Vivid examples and case studies of the power play between television and the State during the tumultuous 1990s Clear outline of various different forms of media Comprehensive historical overview supported with examples from relevant publications Drawing on her own experience as a professional journalist the author provides a first hand account of what journalists in Russia are encountering today This position allows the author to frankly discuss the tangible issues that impact those involved in the media and their audiences By providing both a description of the current situation and an overview of Russian media history The Media in Russia offers a unique introduction to the field and is key reading for students across various disciplines including Russian studies media studies and politics

Professionalism in journalism in the era of new media Jacek Sobczak, Jędrzej Skrzypczak, 2015-12-31 The term professionalization arouses controversies in academic discussion let alone the issue of professionalization of journalism Journalism considerably departs from the ideal model of professionalization There is no structured knowledge that directly applies to journalists although we can talk about defined skills and the practical principles of the journalist's profession Considering the process of the professionalization of journalism we can indicate three significant determinants namely professional autonomy separate professional standards self regulation principles and serving the public interest However it is particularly important to ask about the condition of the journalist's profession nowadays The ongoing technological revolution on the one hand and the political and legal transformations accompanied by market trends such as the tabloidization of the media so called infotainment first and foremost and citizen journalism on the other have all generated great doubts about the status of journalists This calls for a redefinition of the professional position and role of journalists in modern societies All these transformations may pose a serious threat to the model of traditional journalism and the social and professional position of journalists The book introduced here consists of four parts presenting various aspects of professionalization of journalism The first part treats of diverse topics concerning the essence of this issue as well as the legal status of journalist's profession The second part features texts devoted to the issues of digital media Part three deals with the disturbing phenomenon of hate speech The main theme of the last part of the book concerns the issue of lobbying in the process of establishing intellectual property rights The texts presented here have been written by scholars in the fields of law media studies and political science on the one hand and practitioners journalists from several countries of Europe on the other The editors hope that the publication will contribute to the ongoing discussion concerning both the journalists and journalism status in the era of dynamic technological transformation
