Climate and Health Education: Defining the Needs of Society in a Changing Climate Cecilia Sorensen, Gaurab Basu, Lisa H. Patel, Arianne Teherani, 2023-11-16 The adverse effects of climate change are now apparent and present urgent and complex challenges to human health and health systems globally There is an imperative for quick action on many fronts to recognize and respond to climate health threats prevent climate change at its source by reducing greenhouse gas emissions support greener systems throughout the economy including healthcare understand the health co benefits of adaptation and mitigation and communicate effectively about these issues Climate change is intertwined with historical and structural inequities and effective solutions must actively improve health equity To meaningfully address these deep and interconnected issues there is a growing imperative across the educational landscape to move beyond existing constraints toward new ways of thinking and learning. Many have recognized that we must create societal systems that account for the health of all people now and into the future while simultaneously preserving and improving the environment on which our life depends. Such transformations rest on the skills, knowledge, values, and attitudes of the workforce, not just in health and health care but within all sectors. However, despite the health crisis of climate change, at our doorstep, development of climate and health curricula is nascent, although it is a growing consideration of leaders globally. Because the health impacts from climate and planetary change are so myriad and intertwined, sectors must work together like never before to move beyond existing silos of practice to a shared landscape and vision in practice, but first in education.

Nutrition Education: Linking Research, Theory, and Practice Isobel R. Contento, Pamela A Koch, 2020-01-22. Each new print copy of Nutrition Education Fourth Edition includes access to the Navigate Companion Website which includes worksheets in writable PDF format, practice quizzes, interactive flashcards, and interactive glossary. The fourth edition of Nutrition Education Linking Research Theory and Practice provides a straightforward, user-friendly model for designing effective nutrition education programs that address the personal and environmental factors affecting individuals' food choices and assists them in adopting healthy behaviors throughout their lifetime. Built around the six-step DESIGN process, the Fourth Edition integrated research, theory, and practice and provides advice and direction on designing, implementing, and evaluating theory-based nutrition education. This text is divided into three parts. Part I describes the key elements of success for nutrition education as well as the major theories that can be used in nutrition education intervention. Part II features

Education and Sustainable Development Goals: Policy, Practices, and Challenges Prof. Arshad Ikram Ahmad, Dr. Syarip Hidayat, Dr. Seni Apriliya, Dr. Sameer Babu, M., Dr. Sarita Kumari, American Book Publishing Record, 2003. Urban Foraging in the Changing World Shalini Dhyani, Mallika Sardeshpande, 2024-06-28. This volume brings together theoretical, experiential, and creative perspectives on the phenomenon of urban foraging. In a rapidly urbanising world, foraging is regaining popularity as a way to connect with nature and cope with uncertainty. Authors from various disciplines and geographies make sense of what this means for humanity. Urban foraging represents a multifaceted movement that provides people with avenues for sustenance, socialising, and spirituality. Motivations and implications of urban foraging vary across the socioeconomic spectrum, as do barriers and enablers. Urban foraging can help people adapt to change and build resilience to shocks, but its spontaneous and unregulated nature makes it attractive to many. Recognising and promoting sustainable urban foraging therefore is a delicate balancing act. This collection discusses the philosophical and practical considerations towards this aim. The book is of interest to researchers, practitioners, entrepreneurs, and creatives, inviting readers to envisage scenarios that are desirable and achievable. It is of special interest to those working in urban and landscape planning, social-ecological systems, non-government organisations, municipal and development corporations, and the environment.
