Enigmatic Christina Stead A Provocative Re Reading:

The Enigmatic Christina Stead Teresa Petersen, 2001 Analysis of Stead's fiction in the context of her portrayals of sexuality Identifies a subtextual preoccupation with homosexuality Argues that although Stead presents the heterosexual norm as the relationship paradigm she portrays no happy heterosexual relationships while lesbian eroticism covertly pervades her fiction Includes notes select bibliography and index Author lectures in English linguistics and media at Macquarie University

Enigmatic Christina Stead Teresa Petersen, 2016-10-18 This is a remarkably stimulating new approach to Stead's fiction and to her psyche In this very strong reading often against the grain the author illuminates Stead's fiction in a way that has never been done before Chris Wallace Crabbe Christina Stead is arguably Australia's greatest female novelist Born and educated in Sydney she spent the greater part of her life abroad having left in 1928 to satisfy a wandering impulse The most famous of her thirteen novels The Man Who Loved Children 1940 is an acknowledged masterpiece of twentieth century fiction Stead's concentrated emotional intensity her interest in extraordinary passion and her keen sense of fantasy and the grotesque have led to comparisons with D H Lawrence Dostoevsky and Dickens Immediately striking are her strong imaginative power and range her verbal brilliance and her acute penetration of character The enigma identified and skilfully unravelled by Teresa Petersen surprisingly has hitherto been unexamined Overtly Stead presents the heterosexual norm as the paradigm par excellence yet she portrays no happy heterosexual relationships or marriages only miserable compromises More covertly lesbian eroticism pervades her fiction Usually shrouded in silence it imperceptibly surfaces and disappears sliding in and out of the narrative Petersen argues compellingly that although Stead's texts appear on the surface to be saturated with the heterosexual norm this is a facade that masks both lesbian and male homosexual desire By elucidating Stead's subtextual preoccupation with homosexuality Petersen challenges conventional scholarship and shifts our view of both Stead's work and her life

The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society

Gender, Madness, and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature Laura Deane, 2017-05-31 This book offers an original and compelling analysis of women's madness gender and the Australian family Taking up Anne McClintock's call for critical works that psychoanalyze colonialism this radical re-assessment of novels by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville provides a sustained account of women's madness and masculine colonial psychosis from a feminist postcolonial perspective This book rethinks women's madness in the context of Australian colonialism Taking novels of madness by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville as its point of critical departure it applies a post-Reconciliation lens to the study of Australia's gender and racial codes to place Australian sexism and misogyny in their proper colonial context Employing madness as a frame to rethink postcolonial theorizing in Australia Gender Madness and Colonial Paranoia in

Australian Literature psychoanalyses colonialism to argue that Australia suffers from a cultural pathology based in the strategic forgetting of colonial violence This pathology takes the form of colonial paranoia about race and gender producing distorted gender codes and ways of being Australian This book maps the contours of Australian colonial paranoia weaving feminist literary theory psychoanalysis and postcolonial theory with poststructuralist approaches to reassess the traditional canon of critical madness scholarship and the place of women s writing within it This provocative work marks a radical departure from much recent feminist cultural and postcolonial criticism and will be essential reading for students of Australian literature cultural studies and gender studies wanting a new insight into how the Australian psyche is shaped by settler colonialism

Female Quest in Christina Stead's For Love Alone Mathilda Adie,2004 Christina Stead s works resist simplistic categorization a circumstance which has attracted some critics and exasperated many others The upsurge of post colonial and feminist criticism in the 1980s revitalized critical interest in her books Exuberant intertextuality and an abundance of contradictory literary and ideological discourses previously often regarded as excesses flawing Stead s literary style now became appreciated qualities The aim of this book is to illuminate a host of revealing but frequently overlooked details that form patterns essential for a deeper understanding and enjoyment of Stead s novels Intertextuality and the workings of conflicting discourses play prominent parts in the critical analyses of quests undertaken by Stead s female characters particularly that of Teresa Hawkins whose quest provides For Love Alone with its romance structure A combination of Northrop Frye s myth criticism with feminist and post colonial criticism opens the way for an in depth analysis of Teresa as a modern quest hero informed by literature but at odds with its conventional gender roles The intertextual perspective sheds light on her progress as well as on important parts of the literary context in which For Love Alone is embedded The concluding survey of Stead s other novels traces the development of Stead s treatment of female quest within the entire body of her fiction
