Cognitive Skills Kathryn M. Borman, 1981 The Ecology of British Romantic Conservatism, 1790-1837 Katey Castellano, 2013-10-11 Analyzing Romantic conservative critiques of modernity found in literature philosophy natural history and agricultural periodicals this book finds a common theme in the intergenerational imagination This impels an environmental ethic in which obligations to past and future generations shape decisions about inherited culture and land

The Power of Play in Higher Education Alison James, Chrissi Nerantzi, 2019-01-31 This book examines the increasing popularity of creativity and play in tertiary learning and how it can be harnessed to enhance the student experience at university While play is often misunderstood as something trivial and associated with early years education the editors and contributors argue that play contributes to social and human development and relations at a fundamental level This volume invalidates the commonly held assumption that play is only for children drawing together numerous case studies from higher education that demonstrate how researchers students and managers can benefit from play as a means of liberating thought overturning obstacles and discovering fresh approaches to persistent challenges This diverse and wide ranging edited collection unites play theory and practice to address the gulf in research on this fascinating topic It will be of interest and value to educators students and scholars of play and creativity as well as practitioners and academic leaders looking to incorporate play into the curriculum Designing Low Carbon Societies in Landscapes Nobukazu Nakagoshi, Jhonamie A. Mabuhay, 2014-05-09 This book focuses on three major means of achieving a low carbon society conservation of the ecosystem complex changes of arrangement of landscapes and creation of biodiversity There are specific countermeasures to be taken for carbon absorption in the three types of landscapes urban cultural and natural because their carbon balances differ Urban landscapes are promising sites because they have the potential for greening and the creation of biodiversity Cultural landscapes in the tropics had not been actively researched until recently but this book now presents a collection of several cases focused on those areas Natural landscapes had existed in abundance in developing countries later nature protection areas were designated to coexist with development Now however developmental pressure has penetrated into those nature protection areas and landscape ecological projects are urgently required to preserve them As a result of global warming abnormal weather phenomena including super typhoons have occurred frequently in recent years The major underlying cause is the higher concentration of greenhouse gases released by human activities As well major natural absorbers of CO₂ such as forests wetlands and coral reefs are shrinking and the human impact is causing the ecological balance to deteriorate Controlling CO₂ emissions and expanding the CO₂ absorbers are keys to reducing total CO₂ Low carbon societies can be established by maintaining the original CO₂ balance through integration of multiple tools with contributions from diverse fields such as physics and chemistry physiology and humanities and education On the basis of an international consensus the environment must be protected no matter what sacrifices are required As this book demonstrates achieving a low carbon society is a top priority and landscape conservation is the first step in ecological research toward that goal

Children and the Environment Irwin Altman, 2012-12-06 In the first two volumes of the series we elected to cover a broad spectrum of topics in the environment and behavior field ranging from theoretical to applied and including disciplinary interdisciplinary and professionally related topics Chapters in these earlier volumes dealt with leisure and recreation the elderly personal space aesthetics energy behavioral approaches to environmental problems methodological issues social indicators industrial settings and the like Chapters were written by psychologists sociologists geographers and other social scientists and by authors from professional design fields such as urban planning operations research landscape architecture and so on Our goal in these first two volumes was to present a sampling of areas in the emerging environment and behavior field and to give readers some insight into the diversity of research and theoretical perspectives that characterize the field Beginning with the present volume our efforts will be directed at a series of thematic volumes The present collection of chapters is focused on children and the environment and as much as possible we invited contributions that reflect a variety of theoretical and empirical perspectives on this topic The next volume in the series now in preparation will address the area of culture and the environment Suggestions for possible future topics are welcome Irwin Altman Joachim F company North Brunswick ,2011 North Brunswick a large town spread over 12 square miles has a rich history extending back to the early 1600s when its only occupants were members of the Lenni Lenape tribe Some of the earliest establishments included the Black Horse Tavern building which in 1670 was a stagecoach stop and the Lion Tavern By 1750 a gristmill operated near where a dam is currently located on Farrington Lake and was later joined by a snuff mill and tannery From 1775 through 1900 the area was almost entirely agricultural The first church the Georges Road Baptist Church was erected in 1847 and the first school committee was elected in 1829 By the dawn of the 20th century North Brunswick began to come into its own projecting the image of the thriving community it is today Children, Nature, and the Urban Environment

,1977 Playgrounds Peter Heseltine,John Holborn,1987 Public Places and Spaces Irwin Altman,Erwin H. Zube,2012-12-06 This tenth volume in the series addresses an important topic of research de sign and policy in the environment and behavior field Public places and spaces include a sweeping array of settings including urban streets plazas and squares malls parks and other locales and natural settings such as aquatic environments national parks and forests and wilderness areas The impor tance of public settings is highlighted by difficult questions of access control and management unique needs and problems of different users including women the handicapped and various ethnic groups and the dramatic re shaping of our public environments that has occurred and will continue to occur in the foreseeable future The wide ranging scope of the topic of public places and spaces demands the attention of many disciplines and researchers designers managers and policymakers As in previous volumes in the series the authors in the present volume come from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds research and design orientations and affiliations They have backgrounds in or are affiliated with such fields as architecture geography landscape architecture natural re sources psychology sociology and urban design Many more disciplines ob viously contribute to our understanding and design of public places and spaces so that the contributors to this volume reflect only a sample of the possibilities and present state of knowledge about public settings Multiple Perspectives on Play in Early Childhood Education Olivia N. Saracho,Bernard Spodek,1998-01-15 Play has been part of early childhood programs since the initial kindergarten developed by Friedreich Froebel more than one hundred and fifty years ago While research shows that most teachers value children s play they often do not know how to guide that play to make it more educational Too often in reflecting the value of child initiated activities teachers set the stage for children s play observe it but hesitate to intervene in that play They may fear that to intervene is to create a developmentally inappropriate set of educational practices However the lack of intervention may limit the educational outcomes of play Meanwhile a large body of research exists on different forms of children s play in educational settings that could inform teachers of young children and help them to improve their practice and support more educational play Saracho and Spodek bring together much of that research in an accessible volume for early childhood teachers and teacher educators Places, Sociality, and Ecological Psychology Miguel Segundo-Ortin,Manuel Heras-Escribano,Vicente Raja,2023-06-09 This book presents a collection of essays honoring Professor Harry Heft a leading figure in the field of ecological psychology engaging critically with his work thought and influence Containing 12 chapters written by leading experts from philosophy and psychology this text critically examines questions and expands on crucial ideas from Heft concerning the nature of cognition its relationship to the body and the environment including the social and cultural environment and the main philosophical assumptions underlying the scientific study of psychological functions It elaborates on the notion of affordance and its connection to social cultural and developmental psychology as well as on the application of Roger Barker's eco behavioral program for current psychology and cognitive science The book includes an extensive interview with Heft where he reflects about the history challenges and future of ecological psychology Finally it presents a chapter written by Heft that offers a systematic response to the critical feedback Given the increasing popularity of ecological psychology and the highly influential work of Harry Heft in related areas such as developmental social and cultural psychology and philosophy this book will appeal to all those interested in the cognitive sciences from a scientific and philosophical perspective It is also a must read for students of psychology philosophy and cognitive science departments

Justice, Conflict and Wellbeing Brian H. Bornstein, Richard L. Wiener, 2014-08-12 Justice conflict and wellbeing are large topics that occupy researchers from a variety of disciplines as well as laypeople and policy makers The three concepts are closely connected conflict often though not always impairs wellbeing whereas justice often though not always enhances it perceived injustice is a common source of conflict at multiple levels and calls for justice are a common response to conflict In addition each construct has subtypes such as distributive and procedural justice individual and group conflict and physical and psychological wellbeing Although there are established traditions of research on the topics in multiple disciplines there is little cross fertilization across disciplines This volume brings together researchers from social clinical and educational psychology law and political science The unifying theme is how injustice and conflict pose threats to wellbeing at the micro individual and macro groups and societies levels Multi and interdisciplinary research are at the vanguard of science in the twenty first century and the present work applies multi and interdisciplinary perspectives to the important real world topics of justice conflict and wellbeing
