Development underdevelopment and globalization have had a common history since the Great Discoveries led to colonization trade and with the Industrial Revolution to unequal technological development This book first summarizes the long term history of globalization It then develops a theory of multiple steady states in technological change technological poverty traps to explain how the market economy can generate wide income differences between countries Next it shows how poverty traps in education and health can further widen inequality It then shows that technology traps can exist in the context of trade explaining the impact of the colonial diktat on the emergence of underdevelopment Technology traps can also exist in the context of foreign direct investment characterizing contemporary globalization Finally the industrial or mass market economy in general is shown to be characterized by a technology gradient akin to a poverty trap that generates inefficiency and inequality Free market policies need to be complemented with distributive and innovative policies to improve economic performance and equality The necessary tax funding can be provided at the national level compatibly with globalization under appropriate International agreements The Origins of Economic Inequality Between Nations Carlos

Ramirez-Faria,2010-11-26 First published in 1991 this text provides an incisive analysis of theories concerning the origins of economic inequality between nations Central to the author's investigation is the concept of underdevelopment and a focus on successive Western systems of conceptualisation of the relationship between the west and the rest of the world The first part of the book concerns the Marx Engels theory of the Asiatic mode of production and the anti Imperialist reaction against Eurocentrism initiated by the theoretical synthesis of J A Hobson This is followed by an examination of the post World War II era particularly the evolution of development studies and the differing versions of dependency theory The author concludes with an analysis of the most recent reactions against economic imperialism and dependency theory and concludes with an assessment of their implications for the further economic development of today's Third World
