Green Asia Tania Lewis, 2016-09-13 Economic development in Asia is associated with expanding urbanism overconsumption and a steep growth in living standards At the same time rapid urbanisation changing class consciousness and a new rural urban divide in the region have led to fundamental shifts in the way ecological concerns are articulated politically and culturally Moreover these changes are often viewed through a Western moralistic lens which at the same time applauds Asia s economic growth as the welcome reviver of a floundering world economy and simultaneously condemns this growth as encouraging hyperconsumerism and a rupture with more natural ways of living This book presents an analysis of a range of practices and activities from across Asia that demonstrate that people in Asia are alert to ecological concerns that they are taking action to implement new styles of green living and that Asia offers interesting alternatives to narrow Anglo American models of sustainable living Subjects explored include eco tourism in the Philippines green co operatives in Korea the importance of tradition within Asian discourses of sustainability and much more
