Roland-Holst, 1998-09-28 First published in 1998 this volume brings together contributions from leading economic analysts around the Pacific Basin reporting on their research into three of the most important issues facing the region trade investment flows and the environmental effects of economic growth Each of these issues has important domestic and multilateral ramifications and the Pacific Basin's status as the world's most dynamic economic region makes this analysis relevant to policy makers and researchers in all countries The collection is unusual in offering appraisals from economists representing the principal economies of the region Among other contributions in the book are insights into the forces animating regional trade and investment detailed assessment of leading East Asian economies such as those of China Indonesia Japan Korea and Singapore and innovative research on economy environment linkages The Pacific Ranginui Walker, William M. Sutherland, 1988 APEC and the Construction of Pacific Rim Regionalism John Ravenhill, 2001
The Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation APEC grouping is the first comprehensive economic arrangement to link countries from around the Pacific Rim Since its establishment in 1989 APEC has graduated from a ministerial level gathering of nine countries to an institution that stages annual summits has a permanent secretariat and whose twenty one members have committed themselves to establishing free trade in the region A decade after its foundation however members have been increasingly frustrated with the grouping's progress In this timely book John Ravenhill examines the reasons for APEC's establishment its evolution and the causes of its failures His conclusions address central questions in international relations about international collaboration and regionalism The book will interest all those concerned with broader questions about regional economic and political cooperation Asia-Pacific Diplomacy Lawrence T. Woods, 2011-11-01 The emergence of Asia Pacific regionalism as witnessed by the increasing influence of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum and the annual ASEAN Post Ministerial Conference highlights one of the major trends in late twentieth century geopolitics and international relations Asia Pacific Diplomacy traces the evolution of the Pacific economic cooperation movement by examining the diplomatic contributions of three international nongovernmental organizations INGOs the scholarly Pacific

Trade and Development Conference PAFTAD the business oriented Pacific Basin Economic Council PBEC and the multipartite academic business and government Pacific Economic Cooperation Council PECC Lawrence Woods also provides a historical perspective by assessing the work of the Institute of Pacific Relations forerunner of the INGOs This book makes an important contribution to the study of international political and economic institutions It argues that as the regional cooperation movement expands at the governmental level an understanding of the nongovernmental roots of that movement is required if the diplomatic contributions of the INGOs are to be retained Trade and Structural Change in Pacific Asia Colin I.
