Murrow: An American Original Joseph E. Persico, 2020-08-17 Murrow was a cut stone with an astonishing number of facets He was born in a cabin with an outhouse and behaved like an English squire when he was not acting like a lumberjack or an intellectual gadfly or a cowboy or a philosopher or a daredevil or a social crusader or a raconteur or a hermit He could be found firing at metal ducks in a Times Square shooting gallery or shooting at grouse on the moors of an English country estate He could spin dialect stories at a crowded bar or go for twenty four hours without uttering a word to a house guest He could send his son to the most prestigious schools all the while telling the boy that college was not important to a successful life He was either telling friends how humble his own origins were or insinuating into the conversation that his wife's ancestors came over on the Mayflower He was a handsome man and an elegant dresser who bristled at anyone who made mention of his striking appearance He was impervious even oblivious to the charms of most women yet became involved with an aristocratic beauty and nearly destroyed his marriage He spent his professional life in world capitals yet liked to imagine that he would be happier at a small town college He made a good deal of money yet felt guilty about it and was so openhanded that it seemed at times that he was trying to give it all away His pastimes were those of the he man yet he was a favorite of intellectuals He had everything to live for but he gambled his life dozens of times flying unnecessary combat missions He could condemn a war as he did in Korea yet find it irresistible He was modest even flip with colleagues about his physical bravery but wrote letters to his parents presenting an almost maudlinly heroic self image He had every reason to be a happy man He was not I was drawn to his life because he was the preeminent figure in a profession that he essentially fathered It is difficult for any thinking person not to be simultaneously mesmerized and repelled by the hold of mass communications over the modern world Murrow's story is integral to that phenomenon from Joseph E Persico's foreword to Edward R Murrow An American Original If one is curious to find out what makes some people stand out above the rest what makes a person a hero the story is in Edward R Murrow An American Original Murrow had talent drive intelligence personality and vision In comprehensive detail with dramatic well told anecdotes and insight and perceptiveness Joseph E Persico describes a man of extraordinary natural gifts human failings and stunning accomplishments
