Eighteenth Century Fiction On Screen:

Eighteenth-Century Fiction on Screen Robert Mayer, 2002-09-26 Eighteenth Century Fiction on Screen offers an extensive introduction to cinematic representations of the eighteenth century mostly derived from classic fiction of that period and sheds light on the process of making prose fiction into film The contributors provide a variety of theoretical and critical approaches to the process of bringing literary works to the screen They consider a broad range of film and television adaptations including several versions of Robinson Crusoe three films of Moll Flanders American British and French television adaptations of Gulliver's Travels Clarissa Tom Jones and Jacques le fataliste Wim Wender's film version of Goethe's Wilhelm Meister's Apprentice Years the controversial film of Diderot's La Religieuse and French and Anglo American motion pictures based on Les Liaisons dangereuses among others This book will appeal to students and scholars of literature and film alike

The Afterlives of Eighteenth-Century Fiction Daniel Cook, Nicholas Seager, 2015-09-29 This collection of essays offers insights into the ways in which eighteenth century novels have been adapted and appropriated by later writers It will be of interest to students of the rise of the novel interdisciplinary approaches to literature and the developing field of adaptation studies

The Cinematic Eighteenth Century Srividhya Swaminathan, Steven W. Thomas, 2017-07-28 This collection explores how film and television depict the complex and diverse milieu of the eighteenth century as a literary historical and cultural space Topics range from adaptations of Austen's Sense and Sensibility and Defoe's Robinson Crusoe The Martian to historical fiction on the subjects of slavery Belle piracy Crossbones and Black Sails monarchy The Madness of King George and The Libertine print culture Blackadder and National Treasure and the role of women Marie Antoinette The Duchess and Outlander This interdisciplinary collection draws from film theory and literary theory to discuss how film and television allows for critical re-visioning as well as revising of the cultural concepts in literary and extra literary writing about the historical period

Re-Reading the Eighteenth-Century Novel Jakub Lipski, 2021-08-12 Re-Reading the Eighteenth Century Novel adds to the dynamically developing subfield of reception studies within eighteenth century studies Lipski shows how secondary visual and literary texts live their own lives in new contexts while being also attentive to the possible ways in which these new lives may tell us more about the source texts To this end the book offers five case studies of how canonical novels of the eighteenth century by Daniel Defoe Henry Fielding and Laurence Sterne came to be interpreted by readers from different historical moments Lipski prioritises responses that may seem non standard or even disconnected from the original appreciating difference as a gateway to unobvious territories as well as expressing doubts regarding readings that verge on misinterpretative appropriation The material encompasses textual and visual testimonies of reading including book illustration prints and drawings personal documents reviews literary texts and literary criticism The case studies are arranged into three sections visual transvaluations reception in Poland and critical afterlives and are concluded by a discussion of the most recent socio political uses and revisions of eighteenth century fiction in the Age of Trump 2016

2020 The Cambridge Introduction to the Eighteenth-Century Novel April London, 2012-04-05 In the eighteenth century the novel became established as a popular literary form all over Europe Britain proved an especially fertile ground with Defoe Fielding Richardson and Burney as early exponents of the novel form The Cambridge Introduction to the Eighteenth Century Novel considers the development of the genre in its formative period in Britain Rather than present its history as a linear progression April London gives an original new structure to the field organizing it through three broad thematic clusters identity community and history Within each of these themes she explores the central tensions of eighteenth century fiction between secrecy and communicativeness independence and compliance solitude and family cosmopolitanism and nation building The reader will gain a thorough understanding of both prominent and lesser known novels and novelists key social and literary contexts the tremendous formal variety of the early novel and its growth from a marginal to a culturally central genre

The Appearance of Print in Eighteenth-Century Fiction Christopher Flint, 2011-09-08 Eighteenth century fiction holds an unusual place in the history of modern print culture The novel gained prominence largely because of advances in publishing but as a popular genre it also helped shape those very developments Authors in the period manipulated the appearance of the page and print technology more deliberately than has been supposed prompting new forms of reception among readers Christopher Flint's book explores works by both obscure scribblers and canonical figures such as Swift Haywood Defoe Richardson Sterne and Austen that interrogated the complex interactions between the book's material aspects and its producers and consumers Flint links historical shifts in how authors addressed their profession to how books were manufactured and how readers consumed texts He argues that writers exploited typographic media to augment other crucial developments in prose fiction from formal realism and free indirect discourse to accounts of how the novel defined itself as a genre

The Genius of Barry Lyndon Patrick Webster, 2024-04-04 One of the most visually compelling films ever made Barry Lyndon can and should argue the author be seen as Stanley Kubrick's masterpiece This comprehensive analysis examines such topics as the unique way in which Kubrick photographed the film Kubrick's subtle understanding of cinematic storytelling the deliberate upturning of generic expectation and the eclectic use of music It also provides a more rigorous reading of the film from a diverse range of theoretical approaches structuralist feminist psychoanalytical Marxist and postcolonial readings

Who Can Speak and Who Is Heard/Hurt? Mahmoud Arghavan, Nicole Hirschfelder, Luvena Kopp, Katharina Motyl, 2019-04-10 Ethnic diversity race and racism have been subject to discussion in American Studies departments at German universities for many years It appears that especially in the past few decades ethnic minorities and new immigrants have increasingly become objects of scholarly inquiry Such research questions focus on the U S and other traditionally multicultural societies that have emerged out of historical situations shaped by settler colonialism slavery and or large scale immigration Paradoxically these studies have overwhelmingly been conducted by white scholars born in Germany and holding German citizenship Scholars with actual experience of racial discrimination have remained largely unheard Departing from a critique of practices employed by the German branch of American Studies the volume offers self reflective approaches by scholars from different fields in the German Humanities It thereby seeks to provide a solid basis for thorough and candid discussions of the mechanisms behind and the implications of racialized power relations in the German Humanities and German society at large The Prose of Things Cynthia Wall,2006-06-15 Publisher description Daniel Defoe in Context Albert J. Robinson Crusoe After 300 Years Andreas K. E. Mueller, Glynis Ridley, 2021-04-16 This wide ranging collection brings together eleven scholars who suggest new and unfamiliar ways of thinking about the 1719 publications The Life and Strange Surprizing Adventures of Robinson Crusoe and The Farther Adventures of Robinson Crusoe and who ask us to consider the enduring appeal of Crusoe more recognizable today than ever before Literature and Medicine: Volume 1 Clark Lawlor, Andrew Mangham, 2021-06-24 Offering an authoritative and timely account of the relationship between literature and medicine in the eighteenth century and Romantic period a time when most diseases had no cure this collection provides a valuable overview of how two dynamic fields influenced and shaped one another Covering a period in which both medicine and literature underwent frequent and sometimes radical change the volume examines the complex mutual construction of these two fields via various perspectives disability gender race rank sexuality the global and colonial politics ethics and the visual Diseases fashionable and otherwise such as Defoe's representation of the plague feature strongly as authors argue for the role literary genres play in affecting people's experience of physical and mental illness and health across the volume Along with its sister publication Literature and Medicine in the Nineteenth Century this volume offers a major critical overview of the study of literature and medicine Literature and Medicine Clark Lawlor, Andrew Mangham, 2021 Offering an authoritative account of the relationship between literature and medicine between approximately 1800 and 1900 this volume brings together leading scholars in the field to provide a valuable overview of how two dynamic fields influenced and shaped each during a period of revolutionary change During the nineteenth century medicine was being redefined as a subject in which experimental methodologies could transform the healing art and was simultaneously branching off into new specialisms and subdivisions Questions addressed in this volume include the influence of physics on poetry the role of medical professionalism in fiction the cultural and literary representation of sanitation and the interdisciplinary nature of controversy and negligence Along with its sister publication Literature and Medicine in the Eighteenth Century this volume offers a major critical overview of the study of literature and medicine Back cover volume 2 An Introduction to Eighteenth-Century Fiction John Skinner, 2017-03-14 The formal and expressive range of canonic eighteenth century fiction is enormous between them Defoe Richardson Fielding Smollett and Sterne seem to have anticipated just about every question confronting the modern novelist and Aphra Behn even raises a number of issues overlooked by her male successors But one might also reverse the coin much of what is present in these writers will today seem remote and bizarre There is in fact only one novelist from the long eighteenth century who is not an endangered species outside the protectorates of university English departments Jane Austen Plenty of people read her moreover without the need for secondary literature

These reservations were taken into account in the writing of this book An Introduction to Eighteenth Century Fiction is a comprehensive and accessible introduction to English fiction from Aphra Behn to Jane Austen It deals with novel criticism canon formation and relations between genre and gender The second part of the book contains an extensive discussion of Richardson and Fielding followed by paired readings of major eighteenth century novels juxtaposing texts by Behn and Defoe Sterne and Smollett Lennox and Burney among others The various sections of the book and even the individual chapters may be read independently or in any order Works are discussed in a way intended to help students who have not read them and even engage with some who never will The author consumes eighteenth century fiction avidly but has tried to write a reader friendly survey for those who may not

The Adaptation Industry Simone Murray, 2012-03-12 Adaptation constitutes the driving force of contemporary culture with stories adapted across an array of media formats However adaptation studies has been concerned almost exclusively with textual analysis in particular with compare and contrast studies of individual novel and film pairings This has left almost completely unexamined crucial questions of how adaptations come to be made what are the industries with the greatest stake in making them and who the decision makers are in the adaptation process The Adaptation Industry re imagines adaptation not as an abstract process but as a material industry It presents the adaptation industry as a cultural economy of six interlocking institutions stakeholders and decision makers all engaged in the actual business of adapting texts authors agents publishers book prize committees scriptwriters and screen producers and distributors Through trading in intellectual property rights to cultural works these six nodal points in the adaptation network are tightly interlinked with success for one party potentially auguring for success in other spheres But marked rivalries between these institutional forces also exist with competition characterizing every aspect of the adaptation process This book constructs an overdue sociology of contemporary literary adaptation never losing sight of the material and institutional dimensions of this powerful process

The Cambridge Companion to Gulliver's Travels Daniel

Cook, Nicholas Seager, 2023-10-19 Jonathan Swift's satirical masterpiece Gulliver's Travels has shocked and delighted readers worldwide since its publication in 1726. At turns a humorous and harrowing indictment of human behaviour, it has been endlessly reinterpreted by critics and adapted across media by other artists. The Cambridge Companion to Gulliver's Travels comprises 17 original chapters by leading scholars, written in a theoretically informed but accessible style. As well as providing detailed close readings of each part of the narrative, this Companion relates Gulliver's Travels to the political, religious, scientific, colonial, and intellectual debates in which Swift was engaged, and it assesses the form of the book as a novel, travel book, philosophical treatise, and satire. Finally, it explores the Travels' rich and varied afterlives: the controversies it has fuelled, the films and artworks it has inspired, and the enduring need authors have felt to write back to Swift's original disturbing and challenging story.
