Emerging Capital Markets and Globalization Augusto de la Torre,Sergio Schmukler,2006-10-20 Back in the early 1990s economists and policy makers had high expectations about the prospects for domestic capital market development in emerging economies particularly in Latin America Unfortunately they are now faced with disheartening results Stock and bond markets remain illiquid and segmented Debt is concentrated at the short end of the maturity spectrum and denominated in foreign currency exposing countries to maturity and currency risk Capital markets in Latin America look particularly underdeveloped when considering the many efforts undertaken to improve the macroeconomic environment and to reform the institutions believed to foster capital market development The disappointing performance has made conventional policy recommendations questionable at best Emerging Capital Markets and Globalization analyzes where we stand and where we are heading on capital market development First it takes stock of the state and evolution of Latin American capital markets and related reforms over time and relative to other countries Second it analyzes the factors related to the development of capital markets with particular interest on measuring the impact of reforms And third in light of this analysis it discusses the prospects for capital market development in Latin America and emerging economies and the implications for the reform agenda

System-Theoretic Methods in Economic Modelling II S. Mitnik, 2014-06-28 System Theoretic Methods in Economic Modelling II complements the editor's earlier volume bringing together current research efforts integrating system theoretic concepts with economic modelling processes The range of papers presented here goes beyond the long accepted control theoretic contributions in dynamic optimization and focuses on system theoretic methods in the construction as well as the application stages of economic modelling This volume initiates new and intensifies existing debate between researchers and practitioners within and across the disciplines involved with the objective of encouraging interdisciplinary research The papers are split into four sections estimation filtering and smoothing problems in the context of state space modelling applying the state space concept to financial modelling modelling rational expectation and a miscellaneous section including a follow up case study by Tse and Khilnani on their integrated system model for a fishery management process which featured in the first volume

Dynamic Modelling and Control of National Economies 1989 N.M.
