Emerging Capital Markets and Globalization Augusto de la Torre,Sergio Schmukler,2006-10-20 Back in the early 1990s economists and policy makers had high expectations about the prospects for domestic capital market development in emerging economies particularly in Latin America Unfortunately they are now faced with disheartening results Stock and bond markets remain illiquid and segmented Debt is concentrated at the short end of the maturity spectrum and denominated in foreign currency exposing countries to maturity and currency risk Capital markets in Latin America look particularly underdeveloped when considering the many efforts undertaken to improve the macroeconomic environment and to reform the institutions believed to foster capital market development The disappointing performance has made conventional policy recommendations questionable at best Emerging Capital Markets and Globalization analyzes where we stand and where we are heading on capital market development First it takes stock of the state and evolution of Latin American capital markets and related reforms over time and relative to other countries Second it analyzes the factors related to the development of capital markets with particular interest on measuring the impact of reforms And third in light of this analysis it discusses the prospects for capital market development in Latin America and emerging economies and the implications for the reform agenda Managing Risks in Financial Market Development International Monetary Fund,2003-06-01 This paper proposes an integrated and risk based approach to the sequencing and coordination of reforms to develop domestic financial markets The paper argues that there is a hierarchy of financial markets that reflects the complexity of risks in each market and the interlinkages among markets On the basis of this hierarchy a sequencing of market development and risk mitigation measures is proposed to minimize both macroeconomic and financial risks Capital account opening can complement but not substitute for domestic institutional and market reforms to support the growth of local financial markets The paper also argues that domestic institutional investors are critical to market development and risk mitigation
