Future Of Marriage As An Institution:

The Future of Marriage as an Institution Franz Böckle, The Future of Marriage (Easyread Large Edition) David Blankenhorn, 2010 With precision and passion David Blankenhorn offers a bold new argument in the debate over same sex marriage that it would essentially deny all children not just the children of same sex couples their birthright to their own mother and father If we change marriage we change parenthood for all families Altering marriage to accommodate same sex couples would mean weakening in culture and eliminating in law the idea that children need both their mother and their father The Future of Marriage analyzes recent survey data from 35 countries offering the first scientific evidence that support for marriage is weakest in those nations where support for gay marriage is strongest Blankenhorn explains how same sex marriage would transform our most pro child social institution into a purely private relationship an expression of love between adults defined by each couple as they wish Changing marriage laws to include same sex couples he argues would require us to deinstitutionalize marriage amputating from the institution one after another of its core ideas until the institution itself is like a room with all the furniture removed and everything stripped from the walls For Blankenhorn the main question concerning the future of marriage in the United States is not whether we will adopt gay marriage The main question is whether the social institution of marriage will become stronger or weaker If we wish to strengthen marriage on behalf of children there is no shortage of ideas for doing so What matters is whether we as a society regard this as a worthy and urgent goal

Future of Marriage As an Institution Franz Bockle, 1970-05 The Future of Christian Marriage Mark Regnerus, 2020-08-01 Marriage has come a long way since biblical times Women are no longer property and practices like polygamy have long been rejected The world is wealthier healthier and more able to find and form relationships than ever So why are Christian congregations doing more burying than marrying today Explanations for the recession in marriage range from the mathematical more women in church than men to the economic and from the availability of sex to progressive politics But perhaps marriage hasn't really changed at all Instead there is simply less interest in marriage in an era marked by technology gender equality and secularization Mark Regnerus explores how today's Christians find a mate within a faith that esteems marriage but in a world that increasingly yawns at it This book draws on in depth interviews with nearly two hundred young adult Christians from the United States Mexico Spain Poland Russia Lebanon and Nigeria in order to understand the state of matrimony in global Christian circles today Regnerus finds that marriage has become less of a foundation for a couple to build upon and more of a capstone Meeting increasingly high expectations of marriage is difficult though in a free market whose logic reaches deep into the home today The result is endemic uncertainty slowing relationship maturation and stalling marriage But plenty of Christians innovate resist and wed and this book argues that the future of marriage will be a religious one

Swanwick,1913 Population and the American Future United States. Commission on Population Growth and the American Future,1972 The Future of Faith in American Politics David P. Gushee,2008 David Gushee argues convincingly that there is in U S politics an evangelical center of voters who do not identify with the politics and religion of either the right or the left Although evangelical Christians are portrayed by the media as conservatives Gushee claims that the evangelical movement includes nearly even numbers of voters on the right in the center and on the left of the political spectrum He provides portraits of the major figures in each of the three camps outlines the core convictions of the adherents and analyzes the strengths and weaknesses of each group s positions He suggests that the evangelical center is poised for growth this book could be its manifesto The Future of the Person Hans-W. Micklitz,Giuseppe Vettori,2025-03-06 This book rigorously debates the notion of the person a fundamental concept which underpins national private law orders worldwide In the 20th century the unity of the person came under pressure firstly through the rise of labour law and then secondly post World War II through consumer law The book moves this debate on exploring the ongoing fragmentation of the concept of the person and the unique challenges that this gives rise to and suggesting how this might impact on the future of private law The book asks three questions are the subject of the 19th century Codes or the person of 20th century constitutions useful categories of reference for the person could fundamental rights currently central to the notion of the person be replaced by forms of the impersonal how and why should subjectivities be rethought in the age of infocracy and autocracies Thought provoking and paradigm shifting this is a fascinating examination of the bedrock of private law The Future of Christian Marriage among the Igbo vis-a-vis Childlessness Augustus Chukwuma Izekwe,2015-08-06 Marriage was ordained by God for the good of spouses and for procreation But how often does marriage turn out to bring unhappiness to partners And how often do even happy marriages end up childless Among the Igbo of South eastern Nigeria to whom offspring is the chief goal of marriage childlessness leads often to unhappiness in marriage and not less often to the break up of marriages or to polygamy In this work the author expounds the importance of marriage and its practice among the Igbo He explains the importance of children in Igbo understanding of marriage and identifies childlessness as the key factor which could endanger and sometimes do endanger the Igbo acceptance of the Catholic doctrine of the indissolubility of marriage Using the relevant clauses of the Code of Canon Law the author explains in detail the Catholic understanding of marriage and the goals of the catholic doctrine on marriage He writes of the possibility of marriage impediments due to impotence and sterility that lead to childlessness and recommends not only a thorough pre marriage preparation but also a continual formation of marriage couples as efforts that could check the increasing rate of divorce and polygamy due to childlessness But the author knows that childlessness can still occur despite all precautions He therefore recommends adoption instead of polygamy as the ultimate panacea to childlessness in marriage The author condemns in unmistakable terms the mentality among the Igbo which blames and traumatizes the woman in cases of childlessness The Seven Limbs of Statecraft: Building a
